The regular time for election of officers of the Lutheran congregation at Farmers Mills will be on Sunday afternoon, October 5th. Members will please take note, as a full representation of the membership is desired at that time.—PASTOR.

Lecture Course Dates.

The Centre Hall Lecture Course Committee is now able to announce the dates for the five attractions which go to make up the course for the 1913-1914 season. There is also a change of lecturers. This is due to the fact that Rev. Charles C. Wilson has canceled all engagements in Pennsylvania. He is an Ohioan, and has accepted a Lutheran pastorate. Mr. Arnold, manager of the Central Lyceum Bureau, insures the committee that Dr. Newell C. Maynard, who is staff lecturer in genetics of the National Society for Broader Education, is a stronger man than Dr. Wilson, so the patrons of the course have not lost but gained with this change.

The attractions will appear in the following order and on the dates named:

- I. November 19, Wednesday—The Original Strollers Quartette. Males. Vocal and instrumental.
- II. November 29, Saturday—Senator Elmer J. Burkett of Nebraska. Lecturer.
- III. January 17, Saturday—Leigh-Smith Company. Three ladies, one gentleman. Music, reading.
- IV. February 9, Monday—Newell C. Maynard. Lecturer.
- V. February 28, Saturday—Harry Bowser. Humorist.

Bought Rocky Farmstead.
Sugar Valley Journal.

Before departing, on September 17, for Porto Rico, to assume general supervision of the public schools of that island, Prof. Frank H. Rockey acquired the Michael D. Rockey homestead, near Tyersville, from his cousin, William B. Rockey, who retires to private life on October 4. This farm was one of the first settlements in Logan township and many historic facts cling to it. A sister of Prof. Rockey coming from Illinois will occupy the homestead. It is their purpose to spend their lives upon it and then hand it down to the fourth generation, if possible.

Millinery Opening Oct. 10th.

Mrs. Lucy Henney is now in Philadelphia purchasing a stock of millinery goods for fall and winter wear, and announces her opening for Friday, October 10th.

The stock on sale at that time will embrace all the latest fashions in head-wear, for all—children, misses, ladies, and those well advanced in years. The stock will be large, and in great variety.

The many customers of this millinery store, as well as all others who wish the most value for the money, are invited to come on the opening day and thereafter.

Perry-Duck

The wedding of Miss Florida Ruth Duck to William H. Perry of St. Louis, Missouri, took place September 27th, at the Marble Collegiate church, 5th Avenue and 29th St., New York City. The Rev. E. M. Duck, brother of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Milliken.

The bride is well known to many readers of the Reporter having taught in Centre Hall for several years but recently a teacher in the schools of St. Louis, Mo.

Not So With the Grangers.

From the Altoona Tribune.
The fair is now the big attraction in a number of Pennsylvania counties. The average one is now made up more of horse racing and vaudeville effects than of the display of the fruits of the field and orchard.

District S. S. Convention.

The fall convention of the Sunday-schools in the eleventh district of Centre county will be held in the Cross church, Georges Valley, Friday afternoon and evening, October 17. The program will appear in these columns in a later issue.

Grebe Not A Candidate.

From the Phillipsburg Journal.
"Frank W. Grebe says the Centre Hall Reporter has another guess coming. He will not be a candidate for county treasurer, and gave no authority to any one to mention his name in that connection."

The Reporter accepts Mr. Grebe's word, but it will also say that the announcement was made on good authority.

Unity Between Jews and Christians.

In San Francisco recently occurred a most remarkable event in the religious world—an invitation was extended to the First Congregational congregation to hold its services in the Jewish temple while its own church was in process of rebuilding. At the first service thus held the rabbi welcomed the Christians saying "Blessed are ye that come in the name of the Lord." The pastor preached from the text "My name is great among the Gentiles." The friendly relations between these two congregations, Jewish and Christian, have continued for years and in this new proof of their brotherly love they have given the world an object lesson in religious and also in racial amity.

LOCALS.

Did you pay your school tax? If you did not, you will get 5 per cent. on when you settle.

H. E. Hockman, a resident of New Florida, a section in Sugar Valley, estimates that his apple orchard will yield two thousand bushels.

A. E. Kerlin & Son, proprietors of the Grand View Poultry Farm, Centre Hall, continue their offer of thirty-six cents per dozen for white eggs.

District Deputy Grandmaster T. M. Gramley will install the officers of the local order of I. O. O. F. on Saturday evening. After the ceremonies a lunch will be served.

We buy car lots of the well known Badger Dairy Feed, and can give you the best prices. If you are to distant to haul, let us ship it to you.—J. H. Weber, Centre Hall.

The Old Fort hotel entertained about sixty for dinner on Saturday. Most of the guests were Mifflin county school teachers who were on their way to see Penns Cave and Pennsylvania State College. The mode of travel was by autos.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brungart and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, on Tuesday morning, started on an auto tour through Lancaster and York counties, and will see the fairs in those counties. They will then go on to Baltimore, and after seeing the Maryland city will return by another route, reaching home about Saturday.

H. S. Bollinger of Woodbury township, a candidate for jury commissioner in Clinton county, had his clothing caught in the crank shaft of a threshing machine and was whirled round four or five times before his companions could rescue him. Strangely enough he escaped without having any bones broken, although he was badly bruised and his clothing was torn from his body.

J. S. Garret, a former sheriff of Mifflin county, has announced that he will be an independent candidate for the office of associate judge in that county. He is non-committal on the liquor license question, but since all the other candidates in the field have put themselves on record as opposed to the liquor traffic, the presumption is that Mr. Garret favors the granting of licenses to a greater or less extent.

Messrs. George Hanson of Manhattan, Illinois, and James H. Love of Peotone, same state, are in the east, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Flink in Centre Hall. Mr. Hanson is a retired farmer, and was a neighbor of Mr. Flink, when the latter was tilling the soil in Illinois. Mr. Love is a product of Penna Valley, and is also an agriculturalist. He is a brother of Mrs. William Martz at Tusseyville, and Miss Flora Love in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carney, Bunker-town, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Shellenberger, McAllisterville, came to Centre Hall in an auto, and Monday and Tuesday were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Krapo. Mr. Carney at present represents the Juniata county Democracy on the board of county commissioners. He is also a school man, and during the nineties was superintendent of schools in Perry county. Mr. Shellenberger is interested in a large orange grove in Florida, that last season yielded over 16,000 boxes, and is also a member of a company owning a large scope of land in Georgia.

LOCALS.

U. S. Marshall J. M. Yeager of Mifflin county will be a Republican candidate for Congress.

Perry Krise advertises sale for Wednesday, October 29th. He will quit the farm to become landlord of the Spring Mills hotel, which he purchased.

Prof. and Mrs. Harry Dodson and daughters are now living in their new home in Centre Hall, having arranged their household goods Friday and Saturday.

Up at Port Matilda apple trees are in blossom. There is a tree on the A. C. Williams farm that is just a beauty because of the many bunches of pink blossoms.

Mrs. William McClenahan and children, on Saturday, went to Bona-burg where they spent several days at the home of Mrs. McClenahan's sister, Mrs. Elmer Isler.

Lycoming county commissioners, in tabulating primary returns, have found 233 tie votes and twice that many men are interested in the lot drawing that will soon occur.

Mrs. Frank Smith and little son of Germantown are guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Lieb in Centre Hall. They will return to their home the latter part of this week.

Edward Jamison will move into the F. A. Foreman farm purchased last week by William H. Homan. The new owner of this place and the future tenant are brothers-in-law.

Mrs. Lucy Henney will have her display of fall and winter millinery goods in readiness for inspection on Friday, October 10th. You are especially invited to call at that time and look over her stock of goods.

Western style of hog feeding is being practiced by R. P. Campbell, proprietor of Penns Cave. The hogs are turned into corn lots and do their own husking. Mr. Campbell has a herd of a hundred and ten, most of them Durocs.

John D. Keen, a resident of Millheim, while on the rear porch at his home, fell from it onto a concrete walk. His head was bruised and the flesh on one of his arms badly lacerated. When picked up he was unconscious, but soon revived.

Miss Ethel Shetter of York, last week, was in Centre county, visiting among relatives and friends. Miss Shetter for several years had been a stenographer in the Chamber of Commerce in York, and recently was made assistant secretary, a position she is well able to fill.

Badger Dairy Feed is the most economical of all prepared feeds to buy. It is high in nutrition, and is prepared especially for the herd. There is now on hand at our warehouse a car load of this feed. You can buy a large or small quantity.—J. H. Weber, Centre Hall.

Although almost two hundred tickets have been sold for the Centre Hall Lectures Course, there remain a number of very desirable seats unsold. If you want to join in the good movement, look over the chart and make your selections while there is an opportunity.

Next Friday the penny will be flipped by hundreds of candidates throughout the state to decide a tie vote. The law provides that candidates shall appear in person at the commissioners' office to cast lots, but in case they fail to do so, the county commissioner may decide who shall have his name printed on the ballot.

About thirty cars from Harrisburg will pass through Centre Hall some time on Saturday on their way to Bellefonte, and after reaching there the parties will be entertained by the Bellefonte Motor Club. The purpose of the trip is two-fold—first, an economy test, and second, a sociability contest. The speed will be at from sixteen to twenty miles an hour.

The Union county fair was attended by a number of persons from Centre Hall. Those who made the trip in cars on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brungart, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot, William J. Smith, H. C. Shirb, B. D. Briebin, Mrs. George Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Emerick, Miss Virna Emerick, Mrs. Carrie Ruhl, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gramley.

John T. Leopard of Bellefonte, who for many years past has conducted the tailoring department of Montgomery & Co's store, left Monday morning for Broomsburg, where he has accepted a similar position with a big clothing house in that place, with the intention of specializing upon the making of coats. It is his intention to move his family from Bellefonte to Broomsburg on the first of next April.

The boarding house at the portable saw mill, two miles south of Logan-ton, and owned by E. E. Herischer, was burned last Thursday evening. The timber had all been sawed on the tract where the mill stood, and next day the machinery would have been moved, and the boarding house taken down. The fire was of an incendiary origin, as it was found the mill had been fired at two places. Parties living near-by were on the scene soon enough to save the mill, but the boarding house and fixtures were totally destroyed. There was no insurance on any of the property.

Badger Dairy Feed—Weber.

If it is a manure spreader you want see the New Idea at work; note the draft; the work it performs.—J. H. Weber, Centre Hall.

BROKEN EGGS WORTH $75,000,000.

Annual Output of American Hen Worth $1,000,000,000, say Dealers in Convention.

Eggs broken on the way to market represent $75,000,000 a year in wasted energy on the part of American hens, it was asserted by W. R. F. Priete of Illinois at the annual convention of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association.

About $1,000,000,000 per annum, he added, is the value of the total egg output of the hens of the United States.

The hen that will lay an egg a day, the same speaker predicted, is likely to supplant the eagle as the American national emblem.

Harry Dowie of New York has been elected president.
