WOMAN CONFESSES TO URIME. Gertrude Ream Confesses to Having Se

Fire to Mansion in Montgomery is

Which she was a Domestic. The following dispatch appeared in the Philadelphia North American and date of October 2nd. Miss Ream is well known in this section. The dispatch is printed in full: "Gertrude Ream, twenty-two years, a domestic, today confessed that she set fire to the $40,000 home of William Decker, at Montgomery, to cover up robberies that she had been committing from time to time. "Og two different occasions in August fires were discovered in the home just in time to prevent their spreading. Detectives were employed ficials, the presentation being made by by Mr. Decker, who is the owner of V. Grant Forrer, Clyde Myton and W the large Montgomery table works. R Douglas. They worked on the case for weeks.

"Among articles that were discovered to have been stolen after the fires | ing the entire run, while five were was a diamond from a brooch. The girl lately had a stone set in a ring. When she was confronted with the evidence, she broke down and confessed.

"The case will not be pressed against her.".

From other sources it is learned it was the insurance companies that put the trailer on the Ream girl. The Decker home is one of the grandest in all that section of country, and something like $50,000 insurance is carried. The fires were so mysterious, that the insurance companies became uneasy and determined to ascertain the cause of them, and succeeded as above noted.

The winning car in the economy contest carried seven passengers dur seated in the other contestants' mschines. The entire trip was made by the Hudson car without either tire or engine trouble.

Fourteen of the twenty-two cars entered in the run were owned by Dr E. B. Wright, H. W. Baker, A. W. Andrews, F. H. Bomgardner, F. H. Benfer, H. C. Wright, H. B. Olewine. W. G. Starry, H. C. Stober, C. B Shope, J. W. Shook, Dr. R A Holmes, J. W. Geiger, Frank Horting.

Two passengers in the cars were former residents of Centre Hall, and were Joseph Ross, who many years ago worked in the tailoring establishment of the Cottle Brothers, and Asron Harter, for a number of years connected with the Centre Hall rolle

The writer, on his return from Bellefonte, passed nearly all the machines, and there was not a road hog in the lot. Every driver gave a good half of the road, and turned to the side sufficiently in advance of meeting to make one wish all chauffeurs would practice the Harrisburg way.

Speaking of the run to Bellefonte the Harrisburg Star Independent has this to say :

"From the Union county line to Woodward, in Centre county, a distance of four miles, a mountain is crossed which is unsurpassed for scenic beauty. The road over this mountain was made during August and Septem ber, 1912, under the supervision of C. P. Long of Spring Mills, who was in Instruction as well as the County Superintendent of Public Schools have urgently favored larger the employ of the State Highway Department, at a cost of approximately $200 per mile. The work consisted of grading, ditching, putting in many drains which were built of the large stones removed from the road bed, this, with the aid of a split log dreg and a roller, has made one of the most beautiful mountain roads in Pennsylvania. Mr. Long is justly proud of his work."
