The ladies aid society of the United Evangelical church will give a chicken soup supper in Bocz's store room, Saturday evening, November 15th. Ice cream and cakes will also be served.

Ira Stover of Altoona is a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. William McClenahan. He is a mail agent and runs between Altoona and Cumberland, Maryland, a run he has had for three years.

Rev. Ernest McCauley, D. D., pastor of the Grace Lutheran church, Altoona, has resigned as pastor to accept a charge in Norfolk, Virginia. He came to Altoona from Pittsburg fourteen years ago.

Unconsidered gossip has done incalculable harm in the world and it is still wounding hearts, defeating reputations and grievously injuring innocent persons. Few of the gossips mean any harm, but it is done, for all that.

Lee Brooks' automobile and a horse and buggy driven by a young Mr. Keller, son of Martin Keller, collided on the streets of Centre Hall last Saturday night. A wheel on the buggy was badly broken, and slight damage was done to the auto.

A full attendance of the members of the W. C. T. U. is particularly desired on Saturday afternoon, at which time a full report of the delegates to the state convention, which was held at Johnstown, will be given. The convention was very interesting, and helpful.

Mrs. W. F. Keller accompanied Mrs. Alfred Durst to Johnstown, last Friday, and on Monday returned to Centre Hall bringing home with her her little niece. Mrs. Durst will remain with her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Goodhart for a while and before returning will go to Pleasant Unity to visit her eldest daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) S. H. Deitzel.

The Carnegie hero commission awarded Mrs. C. W. Zimmerman of Lewistown a life pension of $50 per month, and $5 00 per month additional until her daughter Gladys is sixteen years of age. In December, 1912, Mr. Zimmerman, in attempting to catch a runaway horse that was threatening to run over school children at play, was so badly hurt that he died within two days. It was in recognition of this deed of heroism that the award was made.

DEATHS.

Just one week after being operated on for appendicitis, John W. Harter died on Monday at his home in Rebersburg. His condition for a few days after the operation was looked upon as being favorable for his recovery, but later complications developed, death following at the time named. Interment will be made this (Thursday) forenoon, at Rebersburg. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. M. Rearick, a former pastor of the Lutheran church in Rebersburg, assisted by Rev. Stauffer of the Reformed and Rev. Bingham of the United Evangelical church.

Mr. Harter was the eldest son of Samuel and Lydia Ann Grove Harter of near Spring Mills, and was born in Gregg township, April 5th, 1855, making his age fifty-eight years, four months and twenty-five days. Mr. Harter after attending the district schools began his business career as a clerk in Shook Brothers' store at Farmers Mills. A year was then spent on the farm of his father, and then he again began clerking at Loganton for T. I. Igen; from there he went to Fiedler and was employed in the store conducted by Fiedler & Runkle, later at Spring Mills by Witmer & Company. Mr. Harter then decided he would like to see the middle west, and visited in several states, returning in the fall of 1883, and took a position with C. C. Loose as clerk in Rebersburg. In 1886 he purchased the stock, but two years later a half interest was sold back to Mr. Loose, and in 1889 the entire stock was sold to his partner. In April of 1891 a fire destroyed his store building and residence, but this was rebuilt at once. In 1897 he again engaged in mercantile business under the firm name of Harter and Morris, but at the time of his death he lived retired, except to look after his farm and other property.

The deceased is survived by a wife, whose maiden name was Miss Ida A. Wolf, and one daughter, Ethel W. There also survive his parents, and a brother, Ezra C. Harter, and a sister, Mrs. Calvin Finkle, both of near Spring Mills. He was an active member of the Lutheran church, and a charter member of the Rebersburg Lodge, I. O. O. F. In politics he was an uncompromising Democrat. He was held in high esteem by his associates in business, and had the confidence and respect of all his acquaintances.

Mrs. J. E. D. Hoffman died at the German Hospital, Philadelphia, after undergoing an operation for gall stones performed by the celebrated specialist, Dr. John Deaver. Before marriage Mrs. Hoffman was Miss Gertrude Spigelmyer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spigelmyer of Bellefonte since her marriage, a period of about twenty years, she lived in Williamsport.

Miss Ida Heller, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Heller, and the late Edward Heller, died at her home at Loganton, after suffering several years with a complication of ailments, aged forty-five years. Funeral services were held Saturday forenoon in the United Evangelical church and burial in the Loganton cemetery.

Following a few days illness with pleurisy Charles Franklin died at his home at State College. He was born at Lewistown and was thirty-five years, three months and seventeen days old. He and his wife moved to State College four years ago and he has since been employed there.

Mrs. Mary Long, for many years a resident of Potter township, died at the home of John Zerby, near Colyer, early Sunday morning, aged over seventy-nine years. She was the widow of Simon Long, and before marriage was Miss Cemery.

J. Green Gray died in Stormstown of paralysis, aged seventy-five years. There survive him these children: Paul of Phillipsburg; Edward of Newcomer, and Miss Nannie, at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Sallie B. Wilson of Williamsport.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baird, below Pleasant Gap, in the settlement known as Giltown, died on Monday, aged one year and nine months. Interment will be made this (Thursday) afternoon.

HALLOWEEN MASQUERADE

The Halloween masquerade was one of the most novel and enjoyable affairs the people of this community participated in for some time. Every one present entered into the spirit of the occasion, and that always makes for success in all undertakings—social, financial, educational, religious, or otherwise and in this instance it was no exception. The attendance was large, and the Ladies' Civic Club, under whose auspices the affair was held, feel fully repaid for the efforts put forth. The returns were of value financially and socially.

The participants represented varied characters, from George Washington to Bill Fynn, from the little Dutch girl to the young African and Miss Columbia, from the leading Nations of the World to the Indian Tribe, the Quakers, Red Cross Nurses, Red Riding Hoods.

Notable characters were George Washington and Lady Washington, the Indian Chief with his squaw and pappoose, the young African representing himself as a half-brother to Woodrow Wilson, Farmer Creasey accompanied by a finely dressed New York lady, Christmas beautifully dressed, Theodore and his teeth, Preacher Johnson, etc.

The masqueraders were introduced by H. M. Hosterman, the procession entering to music by G. E. Meyer, and then a class of little boys of the primary grade, in charge of Miss Columbia, sang a little song about a pumpkin pie. The kiddies were all prettily dressed and carried pumpkin lanterns. This over, some of the older school girls recited. Then there was a social half-hour, followed by refreshments consisting of ginger bread and pumpkin pie and coffee.

The remaining hours of Halloween, 1913, were spent in music and dancing.
