

THE CENTRE REPORTER
ISSUED WEEKLY.

S. W. SMITH, Editor and Proprietor

Entered at the Post Office in Centre Hall as Second Class mail matter.

CENTRE HALL, PENN'A.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1913

TERMS.—The terms of subscription to the Reporter are one dollar per year in advance.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS

Reformed—Spring Mills, morning; Union, communion, afternoon; Centre Hall, Christmas service, evening.
United Evangelical—Lemont, morning; Linden Hall, afternoon.
Presbyterian—Centre Hall, morning.
Lutheran—Spring Mills, morning; Centre Hall, afternoon; Tusseyville, evening.

LOCALS

Laundry goes out next week.
The Y. P. B. will meet in their room on this (Thursday) evening.

If you have in mind to send the Reporter to a friend for a Christmas present now is the time to do it. A dollar bill will take fifty issues to your friend.

J. J. Ketner, Esq., the well known socialist in Lock Haven, underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Lock Haven hospital. His chances for recovery are very good.

Let us call your attention to the fact that you can renew your subscription to the Reporter up to February 1st, 1914, at the old rate of $1.00 per year. This is to your advantage.

Clement Dale, Esq., on Monday surveyed the Gregg farms, west of Centre Hall, both of which were sold—one to John A. Heckman and the other to Clyde E. Dutrow.

Mrs. Leticia Goodhart will hold a stock sale on Saturday, December 27. She will sell three young horses, four western bred Holstein cows, and a lot of young heifers and calves bred from them. Also six hogs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rossmann, and Daniel Zigler, State College; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rossmann, Millheim; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rossmann, Penns Cave, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rossmann on Tuesday.

Mrs. Clyde Bradford, whose illness was mentioned on several previous occasions, is about holding her own, and it is thought she will recover in time. Her condition at present, however, is rather serious.

In response to a demand that appears to embrace almost all of the young society people of the country, The North American is going to print, beginning Sunday, December 28, a series of lessons on the society dances of the day.

The Zettle Brothers, proprietors of the Centre Hall planing mill, offer for sale a team of young mules, harness, and wagons. They intend discontinuing hauling, and have no further use for the articles advertised elsewhere in this issue.

The commissioners of Centre and Clearfield counties have decided to build a new concrete bridge across Moshannon creek in Phillipsburg instead of repairing the old bridge at an expenditure of about $3000. The new bridge is to cost between $7000 and $8000.

Elmer Hettinger, a farmer on Sinking Creek below Centre Hill, had a 250-barrel concrete cistern constructed, much of the work having been done by Christ Dorst. From the cistern the water is piped to various convenient points at the barn. The cost was less than $50.

Messrs. George E. Earhart, John E. Rishel and James B. Spangler, auditors of Potter township, completed auditing the accounts of the various officers of the township on Saturday, sitting at Old Fort hotel. Their report indicates the taxes for 1913 well collected, and the finances of the several departments in a healthy condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Boczer and little daughter are at the home of the former's father, D. A. Boczer, in Centre Hall, for the Christmas season, having come here from Chicago the latter part of last week. This is his first peak grandfather Boczer had at the only granddaughter, and, of course, it will be one of his chief delights during the Yule-tide.

Samuel Moyer of Campbelltown, Lebanon county, is visiting his cousin, J. Henry Meyer, in Boalsburg, as well other relatives in Centre county. He is accompanied by his good wife. Mr. Meyer is a farmer by occupation, and owns almost two hundred acres, which is devoted to general farming and growing apples. Before leaving the county he will pay a visit to Prof. P. H. Meyer in Centre Hall.

When one remembers, says an exchange, that in an ordinary column there are 10,000 pieces of type, that there are seven wrong positions each letter may be put in and there are 70,000 chances to make errors, besides millions of chances for transpositions, he will not be too critical. In the sentence, "To be or not to be," by transposition alone it is possible to make 2,759,22 errors. So you see the perils that beset a printer.

Marriage Licenses.
Howard Vaughn, Phillipsburg
Frances M. Crowell, Houzdale
Thomas T. Chambers, Clarence
Zella M. Harnish, Clarence

Accepts Call to Rebersburg.
The members of the Rebersburg Lutheran charge have induced Rev. John Metzgar of Pennbrook, a suburb of Harrisburg, to become their pastor. He will hold his first services on Sunday, January 18th.

Anna Dorst Dead.
Just as the Reporter went to press the death of Miss Anna Dorst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dorst, at Earlstown, was announced. The funeral, so far as known at present, will be held Saturday morning. Interment at Centre Hall.

1000 Deer Killed in Penn.
Joseph Kalofus, secretary of the state game commission, estimates that one thousand black deer were killed in Pennsylvania this year, three hundred more than last year. A few does were killed. Three men were shot in mistake for deer, the largest number in any season since the buck-with-horns law became effective.

The American Hen Leads.
The first of five single comb white leghorns entered by Chas. D. Bartholomew in the third North American competition held at Thorndale, near Philadelphia, which took first place in production of eggs the second week, won the silver medal for heaviest production during November, comes out on top at the end of the sixth week with eleven eggs to the good.

Two Deaths Near Coburn.
George Rider died at his home below Coburn on Tuesday night from an affection of the heart. He was aged about forty-six years. There survive a wife and these children: Samuel, Emmett, Peter, Gertrude and Ida. Interment will be made on Saturday at Coburn.

Mrs. Mary Vonada died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Shawver, above Coburn, on Sunday, from pneumonia. Interment was made on Wednesday, Rev. D. M. Geesey officiating. She was aged about forty eight years. Her husband died a few months ago, but these children survive: William and Jay, Mrs. Robert Auman, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, and Mrs. Andrew Shawver.

LOCALS.
The stores in Centre Hall will be open every evening until after New Year's day.
To date December has been a delightful month from a weather standpoint, and then it is the month with a Christmas in it.

The Orangeville (Illinois) Courier in giving an account of a Holstein cattle sale states that G. Bruce Goodhart purchased two cows for which he paid $260 and $205, respectively.

Mrs. W. B. Mingle went to Philadelphia on Wednesday morning, and expects to remain with her daughter, Mrs. J. Emory Hoy, for the winter. Her home at Centre Hall has been closed.

Julian Fleming came to Centre Hall for a stay of a few days. He makes his headquarters at Columbus, Ohio, and is in the service of the Johnston Harvester Company, with which company he has been connected for twenty-three years.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer will go south for the winter. They hope to be able to leave here soon after the beginning of the New Year. They will make Columbia, South Carolina, headquarters, where a daughter, Mrs. J. W. McCormick, lives.

John D. Relsh will vacate the Al C. Grove farm near Bellefonte, next spring, and will move onto one of the Brockerhoff farms one and one-half miles below Bellefonte on the Jacksonville road. George B. Slack, now living on one of the Gregg farms west of Centre Hall, will succeed Mr. Relsh.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Runkle and daughters of Pittsburg came to Centre Hall on Monday, and for several days were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Boczer. They are on their way to Washington, D. C., where Mrs. Runkle has a sister living. It is some twenty years since Mr. Runkle left Centre Hall, and he has been here but once or twice since. He observes many changes—all for the better—in Centre Hall and surrounding community since his leaving here about the time he obtained his majority. For a number of years he has been employed in the office of the Knoxville Ice Company, and is very well contented with his lot.
