Oh, You Valentine.

My Valentine is very dear
And sweet? My goodness, yes;
As sweet as roses sugar-cured
Or honey-filled, I guess.
My Valentine is good to see—
Fresh, lovely, modest, pure;
You couldn't find a Valentine
That's finer, I am sure.
My Valentine is not a girl,
But for a girl I know;
It's just a bunch of violets
That cost ten bones a throw!

LOCALS

Today (Thursday) is Lincoln's birthday.

Ryan stock is much below par. In fact, it is not quoted on the local market.

Ernest L. Stover of Aaronsburg recently purchased a 1913 model Buick automobile.

Mrs. William Keller, mother of Miss Tillie Keller, the efficient clerk in the Centre Hall postoffice, has been quite ill during the past week.

Mrs. Catharine Muselman is back from Flemington where she had been since the death of her brother, Mr. Osman, several weeks ago.

A vigorous fight against rum is being made in Snyder county. The hotel men are fearful because of the fact that within the past year several deaths have occurred directly traceable to the rum habit.

Mrs. Mary Snyder and daughter, Rebecca, who have been at Jersey Shore for some time, came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week. It was the very serious condition of the former's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Floray, and who since died, that brought them here at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lingle of near Potters Mills were in Centre Hall on Tuesday, and called at this office to have a sale advertised. They sold the place, and will move on the Daniel Ripka place, about two miles farther east, until they find a home suited to their tastes.

Newton Yarnell of Linden Hall was on hand at the Reporter office under the $150 rate, and paid cheerfully, and in advance. Mrs. Yarnell is in Altoona, helping her sister, Mrs. Andrew Gregg, to get her home fixed up. Their mother, Mrs. George Sweeney, while the home is being put into condition, is at the home of her grandson, George Yarnell in Altoona.

Among the traveling men who come to Centre Hall the Reporter is always glad to see is A. L. Reedy of Laurelton, salesman for Wm. H. Smith, Reading. His line of goods is hats and caps, and just now is taking orders for summer goods. He covers a large scope of country, but manages to watch his customers when in need of goods in his particular line.

Considerable space in this issue is devoted to political affairs in Pennsylvania. The Reporter is not offering an apology for having given place to this matter, because the present movements are of such a nature that every voter in not only the Democratic party, but in all parties, ought to be informed. This paper, during the approaching campaign, will be found on the side of the progressive element in the Democratic party. It will support the candidacies of Mr. Palmer and Mr. McCormick, for United States Senator and Governor, respectively, at the primaries, and oppose the effort of Michael J. Ryan, the Philadelphian, and his supporters, to disrupt the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. This position is a natural consequence after having aided the re-organization movement from its very beginning.

Marriage Licenses.

H. Franklin Confer, Millheim
Miriam E. Auman, Rebersburg

Wabash Engineers.

Engineers are in the valley working on the Wabash Air Line railroad passing through the southern section of Centre county. Several engineers have been quartered at Boalsburg during the past week, and a few days ago a number of them came to Centre Hall, making the trip across the valley every day.

The Page Fence.

A car load of woven wire fencing has just been received by J. H. Weber, Centre Hall. It is the Page make, lion strong. You will find it all heights, and can be bought in any quantity.

Mr. Weber also has on hand smooth and barbed wire, staples, nails and everything needed to construct a wire fence.

Purchases were made in car load lots, which guarantees the best prices to customers.

"The New Minister."

This play will be given in Grange Arcadia, Saturday evening, 21st instant, by a company of home talent artists under the auspices of the Millheim Civic Club. The play was twice rendered in Millheim and each time the house was crowded to the walls. The characters are the best, selected from among the young people in and about Millheim. The play will contain many new and original features.

Go To The Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, Pa.

The Spring term of twelve weeks begins April 6. The total cost is $56.50 if you are over seventeen years old and intend to teach. A thorough review of the common branches, special instruction in Pedagogy and an opportunity to observe Teaching in the Training-school, are features of this term. Send for particulars and illustrated catalog to Dr. George P. Singer, Principal, Lock Haven, Pa.

Railroad News.

John H. Puff has been given a place in the yards at Williamsport by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and is now a foreman of a track force.

The removal of J. H. Weibly, the Linden Hall section boss, to Bellefonte, to be a watchman in the tower just east of the Bellefonte station, made an opening that was filled by placing James Osman, the former boss on the Spring Mills section, at Linden Hall.

The successor of Mr. Osman has not yet been given out.

Rev. Lantz Holding Revival.

From Clearfield Progress
Great interest is shown in the revival meetings in the Curwensville church. Up to this time about eighty persons have come forward and asked what they had to do to be saved. As showing the effect of the meetings the business men of Curwensville, including the barber shops, stores, pool rooms and almost every kind of public place was closed at 7 o'clock every evening except Saturday in order that their employes may attend the services. Rev. Max Lantz the pastor of the church, is conducting this revival and is doing most efficient work.

Churches Will Oust Liquor Petitioners.

Members of Lutheran congregations who signed liquor licenses recently in York may be dismissed from their churches. The west Pennsylvania synod of the Lutheran Church has adopted a resolution, under which no member of the church is allowed to sign a petition for the licensing of a liquor establishment or engage in the liquor business.

The York Lutheran Ministerial Association decided to enforce this resolution against members of the Lutheran congregation. The ministers deplored the fact that a large number of members of their churches were signers to the liquor license petitions.

LOCALS

Of course time is money when a fellow can pawn his watch.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford, in Centre Hall, a few days ago. This is the second daughter in that family.

W. S. Shelton installed an electric light plant in the Auman roller flour mill in Millheim, and Mr. Auman's residence will also be lighted by electricity, states the Journal.

In another column of this issue mention is made of corraling deer in the Mosser park in Clearfield county. A part of the shipping has now been done, and two deer killed themselves, one by breaking its back in jumping into a crate, and the other broke its neck by dashing against a wire fence.

Harris Township.

Miss Lizzie Bloom visited with her mother and other relatives at Bloomsdorf last week.

W. A. Murray attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Eliza Houser, at Houserville on Saturday.

A. H. Hosterman and Mrs. H. M. Hosterman spent a day at the home of J. H. Nerdigh at Struble Station.

John Hook, J. C. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane attended the funeral of General Beaver.

Mrs. Wm. Stover and daughter Mrs. Grant Charles attended the funeral of John Kuhn at Shiloh last Thursday.

The members of the ladies Bible class, of the Lutheran Sunday school, were entertained at the parsonage on Saturday.

Mrs. Thomas Hynes with her children moved to Jersey City this week, where her husband has been employed since September.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Goheen, Mr. and Mrs. George Fortney and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kuhn were to Bellefonte to the play last week.

Rev. B. C. Stover is holding services in the church at Pine Hall during the evenings of this week, closing with communion on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Mothersbaugh spent a day with Misses Amanda Mothersbaugh and Katharine Spangler at their home near Lemont.

James Poorman, a veteran of the Civil War, has been housed up all winter from paralysis, and it is with much difficulty that he moves about in the house with the aid of a cane. The other evening the male quartette went to his home and entertained him by rendering a few selections.

Engineers are again surveying on the route supposed to be that of an air line by the Wabash railway. The force came here from Stormstown. The line they are now working on leads through the farms of N. E. Hess, Elmer Ishler, T. D. Boal, keeping south of Boalsburg on through the valley.

Mrs. Frank Parsavant is here from Mexico, and gives a bit of account of the great danger of harm and loss of life in that country just at this time. Shooting is oftentimes done promiscuously, and without warning. Mrs. Parsavant, before marriage, was Miss Mary Seanson, and her childhood days were spent in Boalsburg. Her husband is engaged in boiler works in Mexico, but conditions became so unbearable that she concluded to come to her native state for a season. On her way here she visited in New York, and at Philadelphia she was a guest of Mrs. Irvin Stover, her aunt, and from that city came to Boalsburg. From here she will go to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Seanson at Conneville.

One of the most active lodges in Boalsburg is that of the Tussey Rebekah. That order has done much to dissipate the tendency toward selfishness and partiality shown in communities like this. The teachings of the order point out the folly of such living, and the anniversary gathering the other evening fully demonstrated that the members are striving to follow the teachings that form the foundations of the Rebekah Lodges.

The program on this occasion was interesting and instructive. The recitations by Miss Mildred Kuhn and several High School girls were well rendered, and delighted all who heard them. Miss Anna Dale gave the address of welcome in such a cheery way that everyone felt altogether comfortable. The work and duties of the order were dwelt upon in a paper by Mrs. H. C. Rothrock, and her expressions were supported by statistics furnished by Messrs. R. B. Harrison and William Stover. The music consisted of selections on the player piano, solos, duets, and several songs rendered by a male quartette. "Nearer My God to Thee," the familiar hymn, was illustrated by the use of lantern slides. Next came the refreshments which were greatly enjoyed.

CENTRE OAK

H. E. Shreckengost has not yet succeeded in renting his home at the Union church.

Mrs. John F. Hagan is slowly improving; hopes she will soon be able to get around.

Miss Maud Hosterman of Aaronsburg is spending a few weeks at the J. W. Zarby home.

Mrs. Harry Ilgen and son Lester had a severe attack of pneumonia but at this writing are able to be around again.

Bland and Sumner Frankenberger from Millheim spent Saturday and Sunday with their uncle, Harry Frankenberger.

W. B. Ripka is shredding corn fodder in this section, using a threshing machine to do the work and it makes real good work.

D. J. Vonada has the foundation almost laid for a lime stack. "Davy" is in a hurry to get the lime burned before spring work begins.

Mrs. Maud Mark had a quilting party last Saturday, and, of course, the scribe had a bid, but he was more interested in the dinner than the quilting.

Wilbur Lucas had the misfortune to

$10,000 WORTH OF STOCK

MUST BE SACRIFICED IN NEXT TWO WEEKS.

February 28 is the last day. We only have two more weeks to stay in the Millheim Store, and we must get rid of the large stock we still have on hand. The time is so short that we are compelled to almost give this Merchandise away, as we are at the mercy of the public, and we are willing to stand the losses. We advise the public to buy now for present and future needs—buy as much as your purses will permit. A chance like this will positively never come again.

cut his arm with a cross-cut saw. While coming down the mountain he slipped and fell striking his arm against the saw.

Linden Hall

Mrs. Annie Noll went to Greensburg last week for a short visit with friends.

Mrs. Margaret Swabb of Centre Hall is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Swabb.

Mrs. Earl Ross spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Homan, at State College.

Miss Gertrude Miller and niece, Elizabeth Miller, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives here.

On Monday Fergus Potter bought the J. H. Weibly property here for $1500, but will not occupy the place this year.

J. H. Weibly will move to Bellefonte next Monday. He will have sale here on Saturday, the 21st, of some household goods, horse, wagon, sleighs, buggies, etc.

Frank McClellan and family in a few weeks will move to the Hess home vacated by Charles Colyer. Mr. McClellan at present is located at Cohanter in a railroad office, but will retire from railroad work for a time.

Aaronsburg.

Clyde Stover bought the Polly George stable for $12.

Mrs. Margaret Ream spent a few days with friends at Coburn.

Mrs. Dora Bower is just now suffering a great deal with weakness of her eyes.

Miss Annie Beaver of Milroy was the welcome guest of her uncle, A. S. Stover.

Noah Corman and friend of Rebersburg made a business trip to town on Monday morning.

Mrs. Lizzie Hains is in a very feeble condition. Her son was also sick a few days last week.

The small game killed by W. M. Stover and two sons were forty-three rabbits, twenty-seven pheasants and eleven squirrels.

Mrs. Ralph Stover from Penn township spent a part of Saturday and Sunday with her aged aunt, Mrs. Aaron Weaver, and other friends.

Rev. William Bair of York, Eastern field secretary of Laymen's Missionary movement of the General Synod of the Lutheran church, gave a very interesting talk on Saturday evening in the Lutheran church. While here he was entertained at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Geesey.

Woodward.

Among those on the sick list are Mrs. James Gusewite and Jacob Fultz.

Miss Maude Ard attended Mrs. John Church's funeral in Glenn Iron last week.

After spending a month in Williamsport C. C. Siffer returned to his home last Friday.

Mrs. Daniel Stover and son Miles spent a day last week with friends in Millheim.

Mrs. John McNitt and son, Jesse Burkless, of Milroy spent a few days with Mrs. McClenahan, the former's mother.

Jonas Bible, an esteemed resident of Sprucetown, died Saturday morning after a prolonged illness. Mr. Bible was a consistent member of the M. E. church, also of the Sunday-school and Epworth League. He will be greatly missed.

From the Lewisburg Journal: F. W. E. Snyder of Millmont was a Lewisburg visitor Saturday. Mr. Snyder was employed for thirty years with lumber operations and a year or so ago concluded to quit and try his hand at farming, but when offered the position as superintendent of the Kulp plant in Juniata county, made vacant by the death of Charles Wagner, he accepted it. He is thoroughly acquainted with the details of the business, and was home for a few days looking after his affairs in the upper end of the county.
