Supt. Miller Kept the L. & T. Open.

At a number of points between Spring Mills and Bellefonte the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad frequently during the past years was blockaded by snow drifts after falls of snow such as was had last Friday night. This is Superintendent W. F. Miller's first winter on the local branch, and although not acquainted with the freaks of the wind and snow about the "White" station west of Centre Hall and other points, he managed to have a clear track for the east and west trains on Monday morning.

At Centre Hall twelve local men aided the regular section force to combat the work of the wind in loose snow, and Section Boss Osman of Glenn Iron with eight men also worked at various points. Sunday morning at three o'clock a snow plow was run over the road, and at two o'clock in the afternoon the "flanger" passed over the road. Superintendent Miller accompanied the flanger, and felt confident that everything would be in fair condition for Monday's traffic. And so it was.

To Undergo Seventh Operation.

Mrs. Daisy Dunning of Howard was admitted to the Shamokin state hospital Friday morning, and a few minutes later Dr. Reese started to operate on her and when he finished he had performed the following operations: Abdominal, internal troubles, tumors, abscesses, appendicitis and last but not least, removed one hundred gall stones from her.

Despite the many operations, the woman stood the ordeal and is greatly improved and on a fair road to recovery.

When she gains a little strength she will be operated on for hernia.

Will Support Democratic Party.

The Weekly Democrat and Sentinel, Lewistown, which for many years has been only nominally Democratic, came out last week as a strong supporter of the Democratic party and Democratic principles.

The need of a pronounced Democratic newspaper, with forcible editorial opinions and honest sentiment, has been felt by the Democrats of Mifflin county, and the Democrat and Sentinel will no doubt fill the bill and merit their cordial support.

Bruce Pays Penalty.

John Wilkinson, the rich Clearfield coal operator, who beat into insensibility a helpless young school teacher, paid the penalty. He pleaded guilty to assault and battery, and was sentenced to seventy days in jail, and also paid the plaintiff, Miss Pooler, $1050 and doctor bill.

The offense the girl committed was to keep in after school hours Wilkinson's son for punishment for having used profane language in the school room.

Altoona Tribune's City Editor Dies.

E. Warren Everhart, sixty years old on Sunday, city editor of the Altoona Tribune since 1884, was found dead in bed Monday afternoon when he was called for the day's work.

Mr. Everhart performed his duties as usual for Monday's issue of the Tribune, and apparently was in good health when he retired early Monday morning.

DEATHS.

One of Coburn's business men and well thought of citizens passed away in the death of William Hosterman on Monday morning at about ten o'clock. He had been a sufferer from rheumatic fever, and was convalescing when he had a relapse which resulted in death. His age was about forty-four years.

Funeral services will be held on Friday in the Lutheran church, and interment made in Bellevue cemetery. Millheim, the ceremonies to be conducted by Rev. D. M. Geesey pastor of the Lutheran church of which the deceased was a member.

Mr. Hosterman was a son of Charles Hosterman, and was bereft of the council of father when he was but a boy. About eighteen years ago he located at Coburn, and engaged in various enterprises among which was the Coburn creamery, grain and coal yards, and at the time of his death was engaged as a grain and coal merchant. He was well thought of as a business man, and as a citizen. His wife whose maiden name was Miss Nora Kerstetter, daughter of Emanuel Kerstetter, survives him, as do also two sons, Lester and Stewart, well on in the teens. There also survive three brothers, namely: Allen, Penn township; George C., Kis-Lyn; and John C., the latter editor of the Millheim Journal. The four surviving sisters are: Mrs. George Corman, Aaronsburg; Mrs. John Haines, Aaronsburg; Mrs. William Corman, Winnie, Texas; and Mrs. A. S. Cole, Plymouth. Gurney Book, who is in the Navy with residence at San Francisco, California, is a half-brother; and Mrs. Orvis Scholl, Millheim is a half-sister of the deceased.

A Pleasant Election.

One of the great beauties about such an election as that recently held in Iowa is that it pleases everybody. The Democrats are pleased because they elected their candidate and held their vote. The figures show that in 1912 Wilson had 1734 less votes than Roosevelt and Taft combined, and on Tuesday last the Democratic candidate had 1772 fewer votes than the Republican and Progressive nominees. The Republicans profess to be mightily pleased because they polled more ballots in 1914 than in 1912, and the Progressives are tickled to death because they stuck a knife in the Republicans' ribs and made it impossible for them to win.

Altogether, it was a very pleasant election and gratifying to all concerned in it. During the next two years there are likely to be a large number of such agreeable and inspiring contests throughout the country. They may be said to be a part of the new era of good feeling introduced by Woodrow Wilson.

Altoona Business Men Duped.

An oily-tongued man representing himself as Henry O. Hess swindled three Altoona business men on Saturday. Hess came to that city on Friday previous and represented that he was looking for a factory site, and it was only a short time until all Altoona became interested. A suitable site was found, and everything moved along rapidly. Between talking of the establishing of a manufacturing establishment, Hess got three checks cashed, the sums being $50, $75 and $50. On Saturday someone became suspicious and communicated with the Harrisburg bank on which the checks were drawn, and the exposure followed. Hess lingered too long, and was taken into custody by the Altoona police, the charge being forgery and false pretense.

Miss Hall on Woman Suffrage.

Miss Louise Hall, the executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, will speak on the cause she represents on Thursday evening, February 26, in Grange Arcadia. The house will be open to both men and women. Miss Hall is a highly entertaining speaker, and the individual will be pleased with her no matter what his or her opinion is on the question of woman suffrage. The lecture is free; no collection.

LOCALS.

A fair man will not condemn another on mere hearsay evidence.

We'll not run our automobiles for a while, unless runners are devised and put on the market.

Francis T. Baker, the well known agent for the International Harvester Company, is about to open an extensive implement store in his home town of Lewisburg.

Keep in mind the "The New Min-later" in Grange Arcadia, Saturday night. It is a musical comedy full of fun. Go to hear it and help swell the Grange Hall fund, for the proceeds will find their way there.

Mrs. Albert Foster of Lewistown is at the home of her son Dr. J. V. Foster in Centre Hall and will remain until at least the close of this week. Mrs. Foster is an enthusiastic W. C. T. U. worker and on Saturday afternoon attended the local order and spoke of the methods employed by the temperance men and women to make Mifflin county dry.

Harris Township.

Harry Kuhn spent part of last week at Williamsport.

Reduction sales are now on at the Stuart and Harrison stores. Samuel Everhart of the Branch spent Saturday afternoon at Boalsburg.

Mrs. Jacob Meyer spent Friday and Saturday with acquaintances at Millmont.

James Irvin of Pleasant Gap made a business trip to Boalsburg last Friday.

Those who did not have their loaves filled prior to this are busy at the work now.

Miss Margaret Weber of State College enjoyed a week with relatives and former companions at Boalsburg.

We had another deep snow followed by high winds, causing drifts in the byways and also portions of the main roads were closed.

A number of persons from Boalsburg attended to legal business relating to the will of the late Mrs. Julia A. Dinges, at the county seat on Friday.

A number of Mrs. S. J. Wagner's lady friends gave her a genuine surprise on Tuesday evening. The occasion was one long to be held in pleasant remembrance.

The Valentine social at the Sweeney home on Friday evening was a most pleasing event. About ninety persons were present. On account of the snow and stormy weather some were prevented from going.

A number of the talented musicians of Boalsburg are making preparations for holding a concert in the near future. It will consist of vocal and instrumental music, and promises to be a rare treat. Proceeds for the benefit of the Boalsburg band. Look for further announcements in this column.

REBERSBURG

Chestie Stover and daughter Bert are on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheesley are at present visiting at the home of George Smith. Charles Shilling, who was working at his trade carpentering at Renovo, has returned home.

J. N. Moyer, the teacher of the grammar grade of the public schools in this place, is ill.

Mrs. Alfred Reed and little daughter of Millinburg are visitors at the home of Samuel Mowery.

Howard Kraus, the medicine man, is at present confined to his home with a severe attack of neuralgia.

Domer Crouse and Charles Gephart left last Thursday for Maple Park, Illinois, where they expect to work on farms next summer.

Miss Miranda Mowery, who is employed at Bellefonte, arrived at this place on Monday and will spend a week under the parental roof.

Herbert Brungart, who spent the past two weeks at the bed-side of his sick father, returned on Saturday to his home at Columbus, Ohio.

Wallace Brungart of Boliver, Texas, arrived at this place on Friday. He was called to this place on account of the serious illness of his father, Newton Brungart.

An oratorical contest will take place in one of the churches Friday evening. There will be five contestants, and the one found to be the most efficient and fluent will be chosen to take part in the county contest.

The lumber operations on the Winkleblech lumber job have been suspended for the present on account of the heavy fall of snow, which makes it impossible to get around in the woods with a team.

One morning last week Margaret Long, daughter of land-lord C. C. Long, was painfully burned about the neck and face, caused by the water back of the cook stove exploding. Hot coals were thrown over her. The explosion was caused by the water pipes freezing.

One can now speak of the temperance movement without apology, and without fear of resentment in the average knot of men and women. So can the accomplishments of temperance people throughout the land be printed in the columns of weekly newspaper without causing the enmity of those who are not in accord with the present day temperance movements. The signs of the times are being observed by the boozers supporters, and they are becoming willing to accept the situation as it actually is.

Aaronsburg.

Frank Burd returned from his trip to the east well pleased.

Mrs. A. S. Muser visited her many friends in Bellefonte, last week.

Walter Orwig of Altoona is home with his family for a few days.

Henry Mowery of Centre Hall bought the Mowery homestead.

It is gratifying to know that all the sick about here are improving, if only slowly.

The news that William Hosterman, the Coburn coal dealer, had died was received with sadness.

The average citizen is kept busy shovelling snow, and as fast as a path is made the wind fills it up again.

$10,000 WORTH OF STOCK

MUST BE SACRIFICED IN NEXT TWO WEEKS.

February 28 is the last day. We only have two more weeks to stay in the Millheim Store, and we must get rid of the large stock we still have on hand. The time is so short that we are compelled to almost give this Merchandise away, as we are at the mercy of the public, and we are willing to stand the losses. We advise the public to buy now for present and future needs—buy as much as your purses will permit. A chance like this will positively never come again.
