Not Before the Snow Goes, of Course.

The Bellefonte Academy's baseball schedule for this year has been announced, and on the list are two games with the fast Chinese team which made such a remarkable tour of the United States last year. The dates for these games are June 10 and 11.

Will You Change Your Address?

Subscribers to The Centre Reporter who contemplate changing their address about the first of April, will confer a favor by making the fact known to this office far enough in advance so there will be no delay in delivering this paper. Do not wait until after you have made the actual change but advise us in advance. Always give the old address as well as the new.

The Pink Label.

The PINK LABEL appears in this issue. This indicates that credits for all subscriptions paid between January 1st and February 27th appear for the first time on the label. The pink label signifies nothing but the fact that credits have been transferred from our book to the tab bearing your name, and is printed on pink to attract your attention. Please examine the label carefully, and note the figures. Where no month is indicated the month of July is meant; for instance, if the figures opposite your name is simply "15" it indicates your subscription is paid to July, 1915. All months except July are indicated. If you chance to find an error, please report at once. Do not wait a single day.

New Postal Order.

Here is a new order by the post master general, which is of interest to the general public:

Letters and postcards may be dispatched whether or not any postage is paid thereon. Other articles such as parcel post, books and paper shall not be dispatched unless prepaid in part. But in all cases of insufficient prepayment double the amount of the deficiency in postage shall be collected from the person to whom the articles are addressed. The option of no prepayment or part prepayment of postage does not apply however, to either letters or other articles mailed with the apparent intention of avoiding prepayment.

Formerly if a letter or other article was received without postage it was held at the office of mailing until postage was paid. Every one however should take great care to see that the full amount of postage is prepaid.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

Miss Hall of Harrisburg Speaks in Grange Arcadia—Her arguments impressive and convincing.

Miss Louise Hall, executive Secretary of Pennsylvania Woman's Suffrage Association, addressed a large audience on the above subject in Grange Arcadia Thursday evening, February the 26th. Miss Hall is an attractive young woman who speaks well. Her enunciation is distinct, her use of the vowel sounds shows high culture, and her oratory is lucid, impressive, and convincing.

She made argument against the common objection that the suffrage would take woman from her proper sphere, the home. Modern civilization seems to demand that woman be self-supporting and often that she even help support the family. For this purpose present day conditions take her from the home into the factory, the store, the office, the school room, the professions, and into a multitude of places outside the domestic circle and from the same even her children are taken into the school room, the factory and elsewhere. Her home is no longer what it used to be. Into these new spheres the law follows her and her children, regulating their hours of labor, the sanitary and safety conditions of the places of labor. The law precedes her to the market inspecting the food she must buy and even enters her home with its mandates. Everywhere she finds herself confronted by law and its officers. Why should she not have a choice in the making of these laws and the selection of these officers? By what right should man do all this for her? Again, to keep a just, healthful balance in our civilization woman should have the ballot. Man is prone to be influenced too much by the dollar. Woman is quicker to see that human rights are superior to property rights, that the spiritual element makes more for human happiness than the material element. She gave a striking illustration of the way in which man sets the material above the best things in this world. Here in Pennsylvania, under man-made laws, a girl can dispose of her virtues at sixteen, of herself in lawful marriage at eighteen, but cannot dispose of the least bit of property that she may own till she is twenty-one.

Another telling illustration of how man is blinded by his devotion to the material is this: In Rhode Island in order to vote a man must own property to the amount of $183. Because he possessed a donkey worth as much as that a certain man voted for several years; but the donkey died and the man lost his vote. If, however, instead of the donkey, the man had died, the donkey would have been inherited by the voter's penniless son and then the latter could have voted. Who voted, the man or the donkey?

By reference to a specially prepared map Miss Hall showed the encouraging progress the cause she pleaded for is making. One thing is certain—there was nothing in her appearance, manner, or matter to justify the cheap gibe often heard that those who are leading in the woman's suffrage movement are uncultured, homely, disappointed women. No anti-suffragist can truthfully assert that she was in any way offensive to good taste in her way of putting things. Her address no doubt won converts to the cause and started many to think along lines that will eventually lead them to espouse the cause she advocated.

LOCALS.

The PINK LABEL appears on this issue.

There was lots of swishing of the March lion's tail when he made his appearance.

EXAMINATIONS FOR POSTMASTER.

Under President's Order 1118 Fourth-Class Postmasters in Pennsylvania Will Be Appointed from Applicants Who Pass Civil Service Examinations on April 4th and 18th.

The United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., forwarded information to this office that civil service examinations for fourth-class postmaster in the state of Pennsylvania will be held on April 4 and 18th. On the first date examinations will be held at Kelleysville, Lackawaxen, Laporte, Loysville, McDonnough, Middleburg, and Millintown, and on the latter date at forty-two points throughout the state, including these centrally located: Altoona, Bellefonte, Harrisburg, Huntingdon, Lewisburg, Lewistown, Lock Haven, Philipsburg, State College, and Tyrone.

There are one thousand one hundred and eighteen fourth-class post offices to be filled from among the applicants who successfully pass the civil service examination. Applicants may be examined at any of the points scheduled as examination places, regardless of the location of the postoffice of which he aspires to become master. All necessary information may be secured from any of the postmasters at the offices designated as examination offices.

The postoffices in Centre county that will be supplied with postmasters from these examinations are Aaronsburg, Boalsburg, Centre Hall, Coburn, Hubersburg, Millsburg, Millheim, Oak Hill Station, Pine Grove Mills, Pleasant Gap, Port Matilda, Spring Mills, Unionville, Zion, Sandy Ridge, Snow Shoe, Stormstown, Curtin, Julian, Moshannon, and Blanchard.

With this notice the commission inclosed a letter stating that there were good opportunities for young men of eighteen years and older to secure the position of stenographer and typewriter at the entrance salary of $840 and $900 per year. There is an abundance of female stenographers and typewriters, but men are wanted just now. Advancement is reasonably rapid for those meriting it. The examinations, which any competent stenographer should be able to pass, are held each month in the year, except December, at the principal cities of the United States. Full information in regard to the examination may be secured by addressing the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

The Hebrew, Rube and German comedians are especially worthy of mention and will be able to highly please. Read posters and advertising matter later. Admission the popular prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brooks Entertain.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Brooks, west of Centre Hall, entertained a number of young people, who are named as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osman, Mr. and Mrs. George Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burris, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walker, Mr. Robert Bloom, Ruth Callahan, Viola Sharer, Luella Bloom, Mamie and Ruth Brooks, Oran, Hobert, Fred and John Osman, Lanson and Harry Burris, Bud, Hugh and Hayes Ralston, Norman, Clyde and Clarence Walker, Daniel and George Bloom, Clarence Blazer, Lloyd Ripka.

"Save Our Baby"

"Save yourselves and our baby; I'll stay with Mary!" heroically shouted Harry Blazier to his brothers, Frank and Samuel, as he and his wife struggled in an ice hole in the Susquehanna river at Hellinggrove, on Thursday of last week.

The three Blazier brothers and Mrs. Harry Blazier had walked on the ice-covered river to place fish nets. Samuel went ahead pulling a sled with the baby in it. Mr. and Mrs. Blazier and Frank were in the rear, arm in arm when the ice gave way under them.

Samuel rushed to the frantic struggles, and, in attempting to help them, was pulled into the hole. He crawled out, pulled Frank after him and was returning for the other when his husband and wife disappeared under the ice. The bodies were recovered the following day.

Even the bow-legged man may flatter himself that he has an arch look.

Some people are satisfied to take what they can get, and others get what they can take.

PROGRESSIVE TO AID DEMOCRATS.

Henry G. Niles, Former Lincoln Party Chairman, Asks All Sincere Progressives to Register As Democrats.

A very obvious trend of genuine progressives into the Democratic party was strongly endorsed and strengthened by a letter recently made public written by Henry G. Niles, Esq., of York.

Mr. Niles was a former chairman of the Lincoln party during its famous fights of 1905-6 against the machine, and has long been known throughout the State as one of the ablest and most consistent independent Republican reformers in Pennsylvania. His advice to progressives and independents of all parties is to join with the Democrats in nominating at the Democratic primaries progressive and independent candidates, and to then support these candidates at the general election. He would have progressives enroll as Democrats this spring, declaring that the Democratic party is the most likely instrument for the redemption of the commonwealth. Mr. Niles' letter was to the editor of the York Gazette:

"Your editorial of last Friday under the heading 'Register as a Democrat' seems to me to be entitled to commendation.

"There is no valid reason why sincere progressives, regardless of former party connections, should not register as Democrats; and thereby practically exert their influence in encouragement of these elements which under the leadership of the president are striving for 'The New Freedom'.

"In a short year of the Wilson Administration there has been a complete change in the political atmosphere. It has been demonstrated that this new Democracy is of the highest ideals not only; but is also capable of doing the right things promptly and effectively.

"In Pennsylvania there is hope of the complete regeneration of the Democratic party. This can be assured if independent voters who approve of the ideals of the national administration, which are the more truly progressive because in harmony also with its fundamentals of constitutional freedom, shall now make their influence felt within that party.

"In York county, the sincere Progressives can at this time, by registering and participating at the primary, assist practically in making the Democratic party the instrument of the reforms for which honest citizens have been longing for a generation.

"In my opinion, this year, the Democratic party presents the most likely instrument for independent voters to use for the redemption of the Commonwealth."

LOCALS.

Miss Anna Ross of Linden Hall was the guest of Miss Margaret Jacobs.

The chart for the Bowser lecture is now open and will be found at this office.

George Ream of Boalsburg on Monday entered upon his duties as farmer on the Reporter's acres.

Mrs. S. W. Smith is in Philipsburg where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. Ray Morgan, for a week.

A bill passed the senate giving rural mail carriers an increase of salary of $100, or from $1100 to $1200 a year.

Mrs. Henry Swabb will make sale of her household effects Saturday, March 14th, at her home in Centre Hall. Sale will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Viola Sharer spent a few days with her friend Miss Ruth Brooks, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks, west of Centre Hall.

The Tyrone Herald will advance its subscription price on April 15th from $1.00 to $1.50. County weeklies are beginning to realize that the two-cent-a-week paper can not be maintained under present conditions.

The personal property of the late Jonas Bible will be sold at public sale on April 3rd, by the executors, Mrs. Alice Bible and Harry E. Bible. The Bible farm of fifty-seven acres will also be offered for sale at the same time.

Although James M. Ross sold his farm at Linden Hall to John Houser, who lives with his son William on the Lutz farm east of Centre Hall, he will remain there for another year, and, of course, this means that Mr. Houser and his son will continue to live on the Lutz farm for a year longer.

The young people of the Methodist church who met with success both at home and at Pleasant Gap in the role of actors in rendering these plays—"Out in the Sizzles," "How a Woman Keeps a Secret," and "Bargains," will go to Boalsburg Friday night under the auspices of the band at that place.

On Monday Robert W. Bloom returned from a three weeks visit to Philadelphia, he having gone there to accompany his sister, Miss Stella, of Medis, to the Stetson hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis and two other operations. Her condition at present is very favorable. Mr. Bloom is delighted over the sights in Philadelphia, and after his sisters condition became such that his presence was not needed he lost no time in making all points of interest. He stopped with his sister Mrs. C. W. Fisher, in Frankford.

GRIN FARREL WINS PRIZE.

Oratorical Contest at Philipsburg Awakens Interest Among Youths.

The following is reprinted from the Philipsburg Journal:

Philipsburg can justly feel proud of the seven young students who took their parts so splendidly in the oratorical contest, held last evening in the public school building. The large platform, where the contestants were seated, was gaily adorned with flags and potted plants. While the people were gathering, the school orchestra played several selections, and also rendered several others during the evening. Mr. A. H. Palm delighted the audience with a solo.

Prof. C. O. Frank opened the evening's entertainment with some pleasing remarks and also presided over the affair. He congratulated the public in the great interest shown in all matters relating to our schools.

The contestants were Norman Meese and Myron Palm from Eighth Grade; Orin Farrel, a Freshman student, and George Glenn, Frank Gette, Crist Miller and Richard Steel, Sophomores. Their subjects were as follows: "Mrs. Susan B. Anthony's Address on Woman's Suffrage," George Glenn; "The Decisive Battle of the Republic," Orin Farrel; "Abraham Lincoln," Frank Gette; "American Ideals," Christ Miller; "North American Indians," Mahlon Meese; "Character, the Basis of Credit," Richard Steel; "The American Flag," Myron Palm.

The boys all acquitted themselves in a very able manner. They entered like heroes into the spirit of their subjects and their enunciation, expression and gestures showed the talent in oratory each possessed. All merited the wild applause which burst forth at the conclusion of each oration.

Supt. J. S. F. Rithersuff praised the boys for their excellent accomplishments and stated that although they could not all be prize winners, they had gained advanced ground by their efforts. He further announced that similar contests will continue.

Intense anxiety prevailed as to the verdict of the judges, Hon. P. E. Wompledorff, Dr. F. K. White and Mr. G. C. Irish. Orin Farrel was announced the winner of a $10 gold piece, the gift of the First National Bank, and Richard Steel received $2.50 in gold, the gift of a friend, as a second prize.

Party at Hettingers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hettinger, who live on the Grove farm below Centre Hill, on Wednesday evening of last week entertained a number of young people, who spent the time playing games and dancing to the music furnished by "Uncle" John Bitner. There was an abundance of refreshments, and all enjoyed themselves very much. Those present on this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Lingle, Mrs. William Ripka, Mrs. James Giesewitz and daughter Mae, Misses Grace Ripka, Nettie Lingle, Ida Hettinger and Messrs. Guy Foreman, James and Harold Stover, Fred Royer, Eben Finkle, John Harter, Bloomer Weaver, Willard Smith, Charles Faust, Harry Hettinger, John, James, Charles, Clyde and Elmer Lingle.

Recognized Centre Countians.

The reorganization of the Custom Service at the Port of Philadelphia resulted in the promotion of two Centre countians, Robert J. McNight and William A. Magee. The first was made chief weigher, and the latter measurer of vessels for the Philadelphia Custom District. This was made possible by the action of Charles R. Kurtz, the surveyor of the Port, with the assistance of Collector of Customs W. H. Berry.

Hope Sale at Millheim.

F. A. Hosterman will sell an express load of fine Illinois horses at the National Hotel, Millheim, Pa., on Friday, March 13, at 12:30 P. M., sharp.

This will be an extra good load of draft horses, farm chunks, brood mares, and general purpose horses, a fine black hearse team, six years old, well broke to all harness. Also a fine registered Percheron mare in foal, six years old, weighs 1600. Don't fail to see this lot if in need of good stock.

$900 Average Income Per Farm.

The average annual income per farm in the United States, according to Secretary Hoston's latest report, is $900 per year. Out of this comes cost of hired help, machinery, upkeep of buildings, etc. There are 6,600,000 farms in the country with annual crop value of $6,100,000,000 of these crops 52 per cent remain on the farm to be consumed, and 48 per cent of animal products remain on the farm. The rest are marketed with the returns as stated.

Entertained Milroy People.

Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Krise on Saturday entertained a number of Milroy people, the party coming here in a sled, reaching Centre Hall in the afternoon. An oyster supper was served, and the evening spent in a social way. The party was composed of Mrs. J. Rickard, Mrs. Joe Kritchbaum, Mrs. B. F. Reish, Mrs. J. W. Brown, Misses Helen Fultz, Hilda Brown, Virginia Hettrick, Catharina Kritchbaum, Messrs. Floyd Calhoun, Charles Reed, Wm. Harmer, Wm. Shaffer, and Samuel Brown.
