

REV. JOHN HEWITT.

A Brief Sketch of the Man Who Seeks Seat in Congress.

Rarely does it happen that any party or people has a candidate of such pure life, nobility of character, broad culture, and lofty purposes as is offered not to the Democrats, but to all the people of the Twenty-first Congressional District in the person of John Hewitt of this county.

By experience, education, ability, integrity and honesty he is undoubtedly the one man in the district that should be nominated. In the year he has been among the people of Bellefonte he has endeared himself not only to all the people in the town, but to a large number of persons in various parts of the county who have become his devoted friends.

Mr. Hewitt in his life has been brought in contact with so many men in every station of life, that he has become an expert as a leader among men, being endowed by nature with a kindly and genial disposition, he is pre-eminently fitted to meet and fully and honorably discharge the duties of a representative in Congress.

Mr. Hewitt has been a resident of Centre county all told twenty-five or thirty years. Located in Bellefonte some years, he then served pastorates at Columbus, Ohio, and Lincoln, Nebraska. At the latter place he enjoyed the confidence, friendship, and association of Hon. W. J. Bryan and is now recognized as one of that eminent citizen's firm and devoted friends.

In educational matters in early life he was a teacher in a manual training school in Maryland, then in Burlington College, N. J.; then a tutor in Latin in a private school in Mississippi; then principal of the Academy at Huntingdon, Pa.; then principal of the State Normal at Bloomburg, Pa., and while in Ohio and Nebraska he rendered great service in an educational way to the University of the State of Ohio, at Columbus, and at the University at Lincoln, Nebraska. He has moreover rendered a great and lasting service to the young men of his faith, who have been and are now in attendance upon our great Pennsylvania State College.

No candidate now seeking the nomination of any party in the Twenty-first Congressional district has a better conception of the needs of the people, not only of the district, but of the state, than has Mr. Hewitt. Well educated, and cultured in all the amenities of life, a man of fine abilities, he has all the sociable qualities which would necessarily make him a conspicuous member of the House of Representatives. If the people of the district seek a man who will, as a representative, honor them they will find in him Centre county's candidate for Congress.

As a summary of his work the following is quoted from last week's Centre Democrat:

"Having traveled over all parts of Pennsylvania, he has become acquainted with its varied interests as well as with the general character of its people. The belief that he is qualified to represent the interests of all classes of people is further confirmed by the following facts, namely: Not only has his calling introduced him to the homes of rich and poor, educated and uneducated alike, but he has worked on the farm, clerked in the store, roughed it on the plains with Indians, cowboys, pioneers and railway construction crews; wrought as agent of county societies among city poor and as a manager of a city hospital; served eight years as Chaplain to a regiment of the National Guard; served as State Secretary of the Red Cross Society; on State Commission appointed by Governors of Ohio and Nebraska; as Chaplain of many State Democratic Conventions, and for twenty-four years as a member of a nation-wide deliberative body in which, from time to time, the most distinguished jurists, statesmen, governors, financiers, educators and authors have sat as members."

Wednesday evening, April 29, the commencement exercises of the local high school will be held in Grange Hall. The class this year numbers four; name, Misses Anna Reardon, Jennie Stahl, and Messrs. Fred Stover and Ralph Roman.

Mrs. G. O. Renner sprung a surprise upon her husband, Merchant G. O. Renner, Tuesday night by apprising him of his fiftieth birthday anniversary by way of having a number of near friends invited to their home where she had carefully prepared a sumptuous supper. Mr. Renner pleaded ignorance of any knowledge of the preparations made in his honor, and as it was the first surprise of this sort in his fifty years, he enjoyed it in its fullest measure. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lingle, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Arney, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Arney.

He struck a match to light his pipe, and unobserved by him, a spark flew into some straw in the rear of the wagon, setting it on fire, and before Mr. Stump discovered the situation the wagon was ablaze. In his effort to extinguish the flames, the grass along the roadside was ignited, and while he was extinguishing these flames, the side of his wagon was burned out. His predicament was observed by a traveler who hurried to his assistance and together the day was saved.
