

DEATHS.

Thomas Palmer, a life-long resident of Potters Mills, died at his home Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, following a stroke of paralysis with which he was stricken at eight o'clock in the morning. He was buried in the Sprucetown cemetery Monday morning, services having been previously held at the M. E. church of which the deceased was a member. Rev. Walter Williams was the officiating minister.

Mr. Palmer was born at Potters Mills sixty-five years ago and was a carpenter by trade. His failing health was of short duration and had its inception about four weeks ago when he suffered from a slight stroke of paralysis.

He is survived by his wife, nee Anna Stonebraker, and one daughter and one son, namely, Mrs. T. F. Farmer of Philadelphia, and Blaine Palmer of Potters Mills. One daughter died some years ago.

Calvin Zimmerman, a well known resident of Milesburg, passed away in the Bellefonte hospital on Monday afternoon, April 27, of traumatic poisoning. He had been in declining health for some time past and a short time ago was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital, undergoing a successful operation. The uraemic poisoning had so permeated his system, however, that no hope was entertained for his recovery.

He was sixty-three years of age. Interment was made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte. He is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Harry, New York; John, Berwick; William, Karthaus; Clara Butler, Howard; Mrs. Mary Fisher, State College; Jennie and Edith, Lancaster.

Thirty or more years ago Mr. and Mrs. From moved to Ohio. After her second marriage much of the time she lived in the far west, and a part of the time was spent in Klondyke.

The brothers and sisters surviving are John H., Harry and George, Tusseyville; Rev. Andrew J., Youngville; Mrs. Charles Ryan, Bellefonte; Mrs. Brown, Cleveland, Ohio.

In the death of Miss Andolia Armor, Wednesday of last week, Bellefonte lost one of its most aged residents. Had she lived until next Tuesday she would have reached her eighty-fifth birthday. During July of 1912 she fell and fractured her hip and since had been confined to her bed, her death being the result of a general wearing out of her system.

Funeral services were held at her home Friday afternoon by Rev. John Hewitt, after which burial was made in the Armor lot in Union cemetery. She is survived by one brother and two sisters, all of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Sarah Wooster died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Mothersbaugh, at Bald Eagle, following an illness incident to the ravages of old age. She was almost eighty years of age, and is survived by her husband, Henry C. Wooster, and seven children. Ex-sheriff D. W. Woodring of Bellefonte is a brother of the deceased, and Mrs. Mary Bennett and Mrs. Nancy Woodring of Port Matilda, are sisters.

Margaret Ann, wife of Irvin T. Williams, died at her home at Rice, Minn., of cancer from which she suffered for four years.

Mrs. Williams was a daughter of David and Mary Ulrich and was born in Millheim fifty-four years ago. Besides her husband there survive one son, one sister, one brother and her father, David Ulrich, who was with her of late years.

Mrs. Isabella Long died at Wingate at the advanced age of seventy-three years. Her husband, Edward E. Long, and three children, survive.

Philip Confor, a retired Marsh Creek farmer, died at the age of eighty-three years. He was ill but a short time with pneumonia.

Amos Crain, a life-long resident of Philipsburg, died at that place Monday of last week. His age was fifty-five years.

A half-hour's wandering through Lewisport leads one to believe that the two most prosperous businesses in that city are banking and printing, at least no other institutions there have made the same visible strides in advance as have these. The paved streets and many pretty homes, of course, indicate that the city generally is prosperous.

Messrs. Huyett and Luce sold off of their three teams of three-year-old colts to Milton R. Johnson, the Bellefonte marble dealer. The horses are bays, and are a fine pair.

Farmer George Swabb in Hospital.

George Swabb, son of Frank Swabb of Pine Grove Mills, and tenant on the Newton Hess farm in Ferguson township, while picking stones on Monday ruptured a blood vessel, and became so ill that he had to be carried to his home on an improvised stretcher. Tuesday morning he was taken to the Bellefonte hospital, and on examination it was found that in addition to the rupture, he was suffering from appendicitis. An operation was performed.

A borough ordinance says that automobiles shall not run faster than twelve miles an hour. Some drivers of cars, as well as motorcyclists, are evidently ignorant of such an ordinance considering their twenty-five or thirty-mile-an-hour pace, at which speed they can't be seen for dust. Cut down the speed!

While in the state legislature Mr. Benson largely devoted his energies in behalf of the farmers and other real estate owners in an effort to secure the passage of a law that would equalize taxes, and had his measure passed the Pennsylvania farmers would not now be paying six times as much in the form of taxes as corporate and personal property. Mr. Benson is now a candidate for congress in this district, and if nominated will be elected.

Grim Tells on the "Old Guard." Democrats need not look far back to see what overwhelming disaster would overtake them if their organization were to be returned to the hands of the bi-partisan tricksters and traders.

Webster Grim, who was named by them for Governor, has himself testified to their incompetence and treachery.

This is what he said at a Jackson Day dinner in Philadelphia in 1912: "With a supposed organization behind me that turned out to be useless and worthless, attacked on the flank by those who I had reason to believe were the friends of the cause for which I stood, I was betrayed and the party was betrayed."

Is that the kind of an organization the Democrats of Pennsylvania want?
