

OFFICER CARROLL CURED OF BAD CASE OF ECZEMA

He writes from Baltimore as follows: "I am a police officer and had long suffered from a bad case of Eczema of the hands and had to wear gloves all the time. "I was under treatment by eminent physicians for a long time without success. Last summer Hancock's Sulphur Compound and Ointment were recommended to me and my hands improved on the first application. After a week's trial I went to the Johns Hopkins Hospital to have my hands treated with X-rays. Under their advice, I continued to use your Sulphur Compound and Ointment for 6 or 8 weeks, and at the end of that time my hands were cured. I cannot recommend your preparations too highly." (Signed) John T. Carroll. Hancock's Sulphur Compound and Ointment are sold by all dealers. Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.—Adv.

Followed Her Vanished Nest.
This story of a thrush that missed, and caught its train comes from Limavady, in Ulster, Ireland. The bird had built its nest under a first-class carriage immediately over the steam heating pipe, and notwithstanding that the carriage traveled between Limavady and Londonderry, the nest contained four eggs.

The institution of the summer service of trains caused trouble. The carriage left Londonderry in the evening at 4:40 instead of 4:50, and when the mother thrush, who had presumably been on a foraging expedition, returned she found carriage, nest and eggs had disappeared. She was noticed at Londonderry in apparent distress, and the station master apprised Limavady of the circumstances and asked the railway people there to look out for the bird, suggesting that she would probably arrive by the next train. The bird duly arrived at Limavady either by train or air and resumed her task of hatching the eggs.

The sympathetic railway officials have decided to withdraw the carriage from service pending the hatching of the eggs.

For the Collection Box.
Jimmy, aged four, had been sent upstairs by his mother to get ten cents, which she intended to use for the purchase of postage stamps. Not knowing exactly what a ten-cent piece looked like, Jimmy called downstairs: "Mother, is ten cents a little piece of money?" "Yes, Jimmy, the smallest piece of money in my purse."

"Oh, I know now, mother! Church money."—Judge.

ALLEGED JEWEL THIEF CAUGHT

Woman, Confined to Bed, Weds Despite Illness.

"LOST VOICE" RECOVERED.

Corner Stone is Laid For $20,000 Old Folks' Home—Infant At Jeannette Attacked By Gander in Back Yard.

Kills Thief Leaving Looted Store.

Reading.—A burglar, identified as Daniel X. Bressler, of Reading, was shot and killed while he was robbing the hardware store of Focht & Lacey at Birdsboro, this county. Bressler, who served several terms in the Berks prison for car-cracking and larceny, was seen on the second floor of the store by Officer W. E. Lloyd, who had been watching the place, after a telephone message had been received at the police station earlier in the evening that two persons were seen to enter the place. At that time a search of the place was made but no one was found. Later a second message was received and Lloyd was placed on guard. Bressler was leaving the place with loot when the officer shouted to him to halt. The latter leveled a rifle at Lloyd, and threatened to fire. Lloyd whipped out his revolver and shot Bressler through the heart. The body fell into the creek from the second-story window.

Alleged Jewel Thief Caught.

Pottsville.—Accused as the burglar who robbed the home of W. L. Shearer here of $10,000 worth of jewelry, a suspect is under arrest in New York city and will be brought here as soon as extradition papers can be made out. The alleged burglar told the New York police that he was Leslie Shearer. This is the name of a member of the Shearer family and the extradition papers are being made out under this name. The fact that part of the jewelry stolen was engraved with the name of "Leslie Shearer" is said to be the reason of the assumption of that name by the suspect.

$20,000 Old Folks' Home.

Waynesboro.—The corner stone of the Colestock Oil Folks' Home of the United Brethren Church was laid at Quincy on grounds recently purchased by the church, adjoining the United Brethren Orphanage. The stone was laid by Rev. J. S. Fulton, of Johnstown. Bishop Weekly, of the Eastern District, took part in the service. The Old Folks' Home, which will take the place of that at Mechanicsburg, will be extensive. The first building will cost $20,000 and be completed by December 15.

Girl Recovers "Lost" Voice.

Pottsville.—Miss Jessie L. McClellan, a telephone operator, who suddenly "lost" her voice while seated at the switchboard several weeks ago, recovered the use of her vocal cords while at dinner Wednesday. A question was asked her and she answered without difficulty. Miss McClellan was in good health and physicians were puzzled by the sudden paralysis.

Killed in Mine Explosion.

Mahanoy City.—By an explosion of gas at the Tunnel Ridge Colliery, near here, Joseph Livikatis was killed and Lewis Ruffus was seriously burned. The men were timbering in a manway when the explosion occurred. The manway took fire and the body was not recovered for several hours when the fire was extinguished.

Shot Husband; Is Indicted.

Williamsport.—Mrs. Alene Troxel, charged with shooting her husband, Harry G. Troxel, widely-known lawyer and former State Assemblyman, in their home on Christmas night, was indicted on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. Her defense will be that she thought her husband was a burglar.

W. C. T. U. Prizes For Essays.

Pottsville.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union, of Schuylkill county, has announced its awards of cash prizes in the annual prize essay competition on the theme, "Alcohol and the Laborer." The winners are Miss Naomi Warinkessel and Vincent Flaig. The prizes were awarded at a public meeting.

Weds Despite Illness.

Scranton.—Although seriously ill and confined to her bed, Mrs. Gertrude H. Lee became the bride of E. W. Green, of Mauch Chunk, at her home in Scranton. The bride's condition was improved and it is expected that she will soon be able to accompany her husband on a honeymoon trip.

Found Dead in Home.

Shamokin.—Martin Kohl, formerly a leader in the United Mine Workers of America, and one of the best known underground workers in the anthracite coal field, was found dead by neighbors, in his apartment. A coal bucket was over his head. The coroner thinks he was stricken by apoplexy while putting coal on a fire.

His Coffin Finished, He Dies.
After seeing that his coffin was made, J. Welch, father of Mrs. Nelson, died from the ravages of cancer. He came from Oakland last fall to live with his daughter. Three months ago he requested that his coffin be made, so it might be finished before his death. His son-in-law and daughter were able to postpone the unpleasant task, but Nelson yielded to entreaties of his father-in-law ten days ago, and unwillingly began the work to please the aged sufferer, finishing it before death came.—Fall River Mills (C.A.) Dispatch to the New York World.

He Was Right.
"Money won't buy happiness, my dear."
"Certainly the little that you earn won't."—Detroit Free Press.

It's a waste of time to contradict the average woman. Give her time enough and she will contradict herself.

The biggest fool mistake a couple can make is to imagine they have to quit their love-making just because they are man and wife.

All that glitters isn't gold. Many a man has pinned his faith to a star, only to discover that it was really only a firefly.

Some men are born rich, some acquire riches, and the rest of us struggle riches upon them.

Forget-Me-Not.
"Ah, yes, there are still true and loyal souls in this sad world," murmured the solemn individual in the tortoise-shell glasses. "I used to know a dear girl—it was ten long years ago—and not a year has passed since that she hasn't written me a birthday letter. Always what she writes is about the same: 'Dear Alfred, I can't ever forget, not if I live to be a hundred, this day of all the days in the year. Let me once again wish you long life and happiness with all my heart,' etc."

"Very sweet of the girl," said the stout young man with the amazing waistcoat, "very sweet of her, indeed."

"Very," replied the solemn individual; "only, you see, she writes that dashed letter to me on a different day every year."

Old Acquaintance.
A resourceful girl, having danced a pink party frock to ribbons, took what was left of it and made a wonderful lamp shade. The next evening she was entertaining a caller in the soft light and she said to him quite casually: "How do you like my new lamp shade?"

William regarded it for a moment critically, then he said: "The last time I saw that shade I danced with it."

A grass widow is never as green as she pretends to be.

Getting Round It.
Lincoln Stephens, in a recent address at Cooper union in New York, said: "The wife of a child labor millionaire once asked him in some little disgust: 'George, suppose you'd been born in the days when everybody had to live by the sweat of his or her brow. What would you do then?'"

"I'd open a stand," George answered, "for the sale of handkerchiefs."

Patience—What good did it do your brother to join the militia?
Patrice—Why, he's been mixed up in four engagements and he hasn't been taken prisoner yet.

AGAINST WOMEN'S POCKETS

New York Newspaper Gives Eight Reasons for Its Opposition to Proposed Move.

1. Because pockets are not a natural right.
2. Because the great majority of women do not want pockets. If they did, they would have them.
3. Because whenever women have had pockets they have not used them.
4. Because women are expected to carry enough things as it is without the additional burden of pockets.
5. Because it would make dimension between husband and wife as to whose pockets were to be filled.
6. Because it would destroy man's chivalry toward woman if he did not have to carry all her things in his pockets.
7. Because men are men and women the women. We must not fly in the face of nature.
8. Because pockets have been used by men to carry tobacco, pipes, whiskeys, chewing gum and compromising letters. We see no reason to suppose that women would use them more wisely.—New York Tribune.
