

STATE TO REPAIR HIGHWAYS AT ONCE

$2000 Released by Court Decision to Be Used.

TAXATION OF AUTOMOBILES.

Commissioner Bigelow Intends To Have the State Highways Gone Over Thoroughly—Primary Count Finished.

Harrisburg.—The State Highway Department is preparing to begin repair work at once on the State highways of the Commonwealth. The decision of the Dauphin County Court releases for this purpose $1,028,665, which is the accumulated money derived from the taxation of automobiles and licensing of drivers during the current year. It is possible that the decision will be appealed and therefore, only the $2,000 released specifically by the Court will be used now.

The whole amount has been withheld from the State Highway Department by the action of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, who have sought judicial interpretation of the Act of July 7, 1913, under which all such sums are appropriated to the uses of the State Highway Department.

The decision was rendered in two cases involved, respectively, $1,035 and $1,107, a total of $2,142, which is available now. New construction work will not be started until it has been decided whether an appeal is to be taken. Unless further delay is caused by an appeal the "good roads" cause will receive an uplift in Pennsylvania.

Highway Commissioner Bigelow says the money will be used for the purpose of putting in first-class condition all of the State highways. During the past few months while the cases were before the courts, the State Highway Department has put its working force in condition to start work just as soon as word was given. Commissioner Bigelow intends to have the State highways gone over thoroughly, broken places repaired, gutters cleaned out, drains and culverts fixed and the roadway scraped, cleaned and put in tip-top condition.

The $1,028,665 on hand at close of business June 8, the day on which the Court's decision was handed down, was derived from license fees from the following sources:

Pneumatic tired vehicles.....	$4,240
Solid tired vehicles.....	5,280
Tractors.....	402
Trailers.....	132
Motorcycles.....	11,430
Drivers.....	22,620
Dealers.....	3,170
Operators.....	15,833
Transfers.....	2,330
Total.....	$145,434

Compared with the same time last year the records show that the number of licenses issued this year is 41,852 greater. The following table shows the 1913 data:

Pneumatic and solid tired vehicles licensed.....	$66,225
Drivers.....	23,232
Dealers.....	3,684
Motorcycles.....	8,161
Transfers.....	1,999
Operators.....	1,131
Total.....	$103,782

The amount of money turned over to the State Treasury on June 7, 1913, from the automobile division of the State Highway Department was $696,478.37, as compared with $1,028,665 on June 8, 1914.

The Source of Uric Acid

Eating too much is a common habit that does a lot of harm. Meat, especially, forms uric acid and the constant filtering of acid-laden blood weakens the kidneys. Uric acid causes rheumatic and nervous trouble, weakens the eyes, forms gravel and leads to dropsy and Bright's disease. Kidney weakness gives early warnings, however, such as backache and urinary disorders and can be stopped by prompt treatment.

SCORED ONE ON HIS RIVAL

Brown Had Overlooked Leap Year, and Jones Was Quick to Mark the Point.

Irving Fletcher, the well-known advertising expert, said at an advertising men's dinner at Delmonico's in New York:

"A good advertisement never lies. It never deceives. For it can only pay by making life patrons, not transient ones."

"A good advertisement never lies, but it states its case as strongly as possible, and it avails itself of every point, however slight. There it is like young Jones."

"Young Jones proposed at Lakewood to a pretty girl, but she said uncertainly, swinging her slim foot in and out of her slashed skirt:

"I like you, Mr. Jones. But, then, I like Mr. Brown, too. And Mr. Brown is so devoted. He says he thinks of me 365 days in the year."

"Hub!" snorted young Jones, contemptuously. "He wants a day off every four years, does he? Well, I hope you're not taken in by any such one-horse devotion as that."

A cow recently walked into a village bank in Ohio. She probably wanted to have her milk certified.

A good bluff makes more noise than great riches.

CUPID HAD HIT HIM HARD

Surely Day of Romance Is Not Ended When Lovesick Swain Can Feel Like This.

"Come, come, old man; don't let it knock you out. There are plenty of other girls in the world. In six months from now you will have forgotten her."

"Yes, I suppose it is as you say; but it isn't six months from now. Everything I see reminds me of her. When I look at other women I can't help thinking how much more beautiful she is than any of them. When the wind blows I am reminded that it is probably adding to the color of her cheeks. Whenever I pass a corner where she and I have stood together I have a strange empty feeling as if something were gone out of my life."

"When I look up at the sky, I cannot keep from remembering that it is above her. If I could forget her for only a day, for only an hour, I think I might learn to hope again; but I can't get her out of my mind. It seems to me that the whole world is changed since she told me that I was never to see her again. I can't understand how anybody manages to keep on being happy. I would give almost anything to forget her."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Rare, Rare Man.

William H. Hamby, short story writer and novelist, is a great lover of folks and makes friends with all sorts and conditions of men. One day while on an outing in the Ozarks he got a hill billy who was something of a character to accompany him on a fishing excursion in order to study the type. The two men spent the day in the woods together and returned to camp old friends and then Mr. Hamby learned that he was not the only one on the expedition who had been studying his companion. As they shook hands in parting the hill billy said:

"I taken a likin' to yuh, but yuh shore be the queerest man I ever see. I've noticed you all day, an' yuh ain't took a drink, yuh ain't took a smoke and yuh ain't cussed onct!"—Kansas City Star.

His Training Counted.

Old Squire Grampus—Bill Bigsnort's a-makin' a gosh rattlin' good record down that tew congress. Bill'll make 'em set up and take notice. He's had durn good trainin'.

Farmer Stringem—Yeou bet. He's done nothin' but set around Pettus's store with yeou an' other similar prominent legislators fer th' last twenty years."

Uninfluential Quantity.

"Do you approve of taking the word 'obey' out of the marriage ceremony?" "No," replied Miss Cayenne. "Let it remain. Nobody is going to keep bringing up a marriage ceremony and quoting from it as if it were a party platform."

Many a man who imagines himself capable of ruling a nation can't even keep his own children out of mischief.

Life's Ups and Downs.

"Now I call that real foolish to climb that rock. What are you doing there, anyhow?" "I'm just pondering how I shall get down again."—Filegende Blaetter.

Libby's Luncheon Delicacies

Dried Beef, sliced wafer thin, Hickory Smoked and with a choice flavor that you will remember.

Vienna Sausage—just right for Red Hots, or to serve cold. We suggest you try them served like this: Cut rye bread in thin slices, spread with creamed butter and remove crusts. Cut a Libby's Vienna Sausage in half, lengthwise, and lay on the bread. Place on the top of the sausage a few thin slices of Libby's Midget Pickles. Cover with the other slice of bread and press lightly together. Arrange on plate and serve garnished with a few parsley sprays.

Pets and Broken Hearts. The dog of Mistral, the Provencal poet, died the day after Mistral's recent death. It is a fairly common thing for dogs, cats, canaries and other pets to die a few days or even hours after their masters. But do they die of grief? It is not likely.

A Manayunk physician examined the corpse of a canary that had succumbed with its little mistress. The canary's death, the examination showed, was due not to a broken heart, but to scarlet fever, the malady to which its little mistress had herself succumbed.

From this and from kindred post-mortems it is surmised that pets, when they die simultaneously with their owners, have become infected with the disease that carried their owners off—measles, diphtheria, typhoid. The death-from-grief story is pretty, but, alas, it won't wash.

A Real Need.

A Frenchman named Delamoy has invented an apparatus whereby you can wind your clock by opening and shutting a door, the winding machine doing its work by the action of the door.

What is really needed, however, is an invention that, attached to a door, will get rid of people inside of the room. No known method has yet been invented to accomplish this purpose. Yet is there anything which would promote greater efficiency and comfort and give more lasting satisfaction?—Life.

Shock Proof.

Clarence—Her father saw Jack kiss her the other night, and he was greatly shocked. Gladys—Nothing like that need worry you, Clarence. Dad's an electrician.—Life.

Why Not Armor for Every Bullet?

An ingenious New York doctor has invented a bichloride of mercury tablet in which the antidote is combined with the poison, so that a person may swallow corrosive sublimate, intentionally or accidentally, with impunity. It's a capital idea, and ought to be applied to poisons generally, and possibly Maxim might find some way of applying the principle to firearms. An automatic, self-resisting bullet, or something of that sort, would be of much greater utility than his silencer.
