LOCALS.

Mrs. P. McMaus and son Frederick of Harrisburg attended the personal property sale of the late Mrs. Sara Tressler, in Potter township.

Mrs. Mary Shoop just returned from a five weeks' visit to her son near Harrisburg, and now declares she will be at home to all her friends the remainder of the summer. She enjoyed her visit very much, but, after all, home is such a delightful place that she is quite happy to be here again.

Otto and Margaret Strohmeier, son and daughter respectively of Julius Strohmeier of Philadelphia were arrivals in Centre Hall Tuesday afternoon and are guests of their uncle, H. G. Strohmeier, the marble dealer. The Philadelphia Mr. Strohmeier is an upholsterer, and like most Germans is making good in the states.

The scarcity of help induced W. W. Spangler to help his neighbor, William Stover, to take in hay. He was first contented to drive the four horses hitched to the hay wagon to which a hay loader was attached, but finally he was lured to the wagon where hay was being loaded in the most approved way. While busily engaged in taking care of his portion of the work, the wagon lurched and Mr. Spangler was thrown to the ground. The injuries were slight, but sufficient to deter him from longer performing that kind of work.

The resignation of William B. Fiedler as a member of the borough council caused a vacancy that was filled by electing D. A. Boczor a councilman. The selection is generally approved, as Mr. Boczor is the type of citizen this paper has long advocated should fill these places. For some reason, during the past year, the actions of the council have been more to the interest of the taxpayers, petty personal matters not having been permitted to interfere in the administration of public affairs. No attempt is here made to cast reflections on Mr. Fiedler, the councilman who resigned because of his absence from Centre Hall every week day. Now for an administration of affairs where a dollar buys a dollar's worth, and no favors shown.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Huntingdon held a district meeting in the Presbyterian church of Centre Hall on Tuesday. Representatives were present from State College, Lemont, Spring Mills, Fairbrook and Centre Hall and also Presbyterian Missions from Altoona and Warriors Mark and a missionary from China, Rev. C. E. Patton.

Miss Emma McCoy opened the morning session with prayer, reading of scripture, and a hymn by the choir. Mrs. Frank W. Gardner of State College, who spent three years in Porto Rico with her husband who was sent to the island by the U. S. Government to establish and superintend an agricultural experiment station, gave a very interesting description of conditions in the island, showing very clearly the great need of Protestant missionary work in this possession of the U. S. Mrs. Horace Smith of Altoona led a conference on Study Classes.

The session was brought to a close with an address by Rev. C. E. Patton on the growth of the Chinese church in numbers, liberality and pointing out the great need of workers, and the irresistible tendency toward union among both missionaries and converts. The revolution in China is a revolution of view point, and hence is changing everything.

In the afternoon, Mrs. William I. Thompson presiding, the session was opened with devotional services conducted by Mrs. William Thompson of Lemont. Miss Mary Mages of Altoona then made a report on the Biennial Assembly at Pittsburg.

Then followed a triologue by Catharine Ruble, Gertrude Ruble and Helen Foster. Miss Elizabeth Findley gave messages from our missionaries and Miss S. R. Lowrie spoke of the "Year Before Us."

After devotional services conducted by the pastor the address of the evening was given by Mr. Patton. He spoke of the Evangelistic work in China in which the great aim is to raise up a self supporting, self propagating and self government church.

Centre Locations P. C.

The Centre County Association of Philadelphia, numbering 450 members, held its eleventh annual picnic Saturday afternoon and evening at Belmont Mansion.

Speeches in praise of Centre county were made by Congressman J. Washington Logue and by Charles R. Kurz, newly appointed surveyor of the post of Philadelphia. Mr. Kurz distributed alphabetical lists of names of Centre county people living in and about Philadelphia.

Ira D. Garman, the president of the association, pointed out with pride that there was no race suicide among Centre county families, and that each of the names in the printed list really represented four or five people who were eligible to membership.

The Centre county people are ever fond of recounting the many public officials their home district has furnished the state and country. Five governors of Pennsylvania came from Centre county. They were William Bigler, 1852; William F. Packer, 1858; Andrew G. Curtin, 1861; James A. Beaver, 1887; and Daniel H. Hastings, 1895.

The officers of the Philadelphia association, besides President Garman, are: Warner Underwood, first vice president; William S. Funt, second vice president; J. C. C. Beale, secretary, and S. Gray Matern, treasurer.

Drowning Claims Four.

Three young men and a boy lost their lives by drowning during the past week, one of the quartette being a former resident of Boalsburg, and mention of whose death appears elsewhere, and three in adjoining counties.

While bathing in the Lewistown Narrows on Monday evening, Joseph Wolfe, 22, a prospective bridegroom, met his death in twenty feet of water. An attack of cramp was the possible cause.

Lloyd Shoemaker, a lad of eight years, lost his life while swimming in the Susquehanna River near Lock Haven, late Saturday afternoon. His cries for help were taken by his chums to be in fun and they failed to go to his rescue until too late.

The other death by drowning is that of the young man at Pennsylvania Furnace, mentioned elsewhere.

Nittany Furnace Sold.

The Nittany Furnace, the oldest in Centre county, with all its equipment, 265 acres of land and valuable ore rights, was sold at assignee's sale at Bellefonte, Saturday, for $23,000. The entire property was purchased by F. L. Crosby of New York, for the benefit of the bondholders. The plant has been idle for four years, and will probably be dismantled at an early date.

An attempt was also made to sell the Nittany Valley Railroad, a line six miles in length; but the highest bid received was $7000 and it was rejected.

Dr. Charles Loe was made the new principal of the Central Normal School at Lock Haven. He had been superintendent of the Williamsport schools for twenty years.

LOCALS

Adaline McClenshan spent a week with relatives at Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Magee and son Huyett of Wenonah, New Jersey, will arrive in Centre Hall this week and will be at the Huyett home during their vacation.

Messrs. B. D. Brislin, Capt. G. M. Boal, D. A. Boczor and W. Frank Bradford attended the funeral service of General Taylor at Reedsville, Wednesday forenoon. The trip was made in the former's car.

Thomas E. Packer, arrested for embezzlement, made his second escape from the Clinton county pen on Sunday morning. He took with him John Statton, a fellow prisoner. The escape was made by sawing off four of five lock bolts.

Foster Ripka, for a few days last week, visited his mother, Mrs. William Klimefelter, at Tusseyville, and A. C. Ripka at Centre Hill as well as other friends and relatives. He is employed in a large printing house in Buffalo, N. Y.

Trains from the east the beginning of the week were late owing to the heavy traffic of school teachers on their way to State College to take the teachers' six weeks' course. More school teachers are already enrolled than at any previous year, the number exceeding a thousand.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crawford, daughter and son, Miss Grace and Francis, Jr., were in Centre Hall Tuesday and while Mr. Crawford worked some territory in the interest of the Potter-Boy Hardware Co., the ladies were entertained among their many friends here.

The personal property of the late Mrs. Sarah Tressler, below Centre Hill was sold on Tuesday by the administrator, F. A. Carson. The attendance at the sale was large, women predominating, and many old linens, china, ware and trinkets brought good prices. A Lincoln buggy in running order, probably the only one in this section of country, sold for thirty five cents.

Mrs. Lavina Spanogle, of Phillipsburg, was struck, knocked down and run over on Monday afternoon by an automobile driven by J. Z. Sloan, of Bedford. She was hurried to the hospital where it was found that she had received a concussion of the brain, the result of striking her head on the brick pavement when she fell. Her condition is regarded as serious.

Cleveland Mitterling is limping in his right leg as the result of an attack by a dog while buying cattle in the vicinity of Linden Hall, Saturday. Mr. Mitterling entered the farm premises by way of the gate when a coach dog, lying before the door, across his lethargy and springing at him fastened its teeth in the knee of his right leg and held on long enough to tear the flesh the length of several inches. The wound was cankerized and no serious effects are anticipated.

Mrs. H. B. Spangler of Park Ridge, Illinois, accompanied by her three children—William, Dorothy and Virginia, and her sister, Miss Anna Wilkinson, were arrivals in Centre Hall on Monday afternoon and for a few days will be guests of Mrs. Spangler's sister-in-law, Miss Gertrude Spangler. They will then go to Potter Mills and spend the remainder of their three weeks' vacation at the home of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkinson. This is Miss Anna Wilkinson's first visit home since becoming an Illinois resident eight years ago.

Herman Muth of New York City came to Centre Hall on Monday and is at present being entertained at the reporter's home. Mr. Muth conducts a retail meat market on Bedford street, and does a thriving business. He is also interested in real estate, having recently erected several private houses in Brooklyn, and also owns lots in New York City. He is a German, and when he came to New York he had but the proverbial thirty cents, plus six cents, in his pockets. By close application to business he acquired means and also became an influential citizen in his district. He is an uncle of the Baileys who make their home with the editor of this paper.

LETTER FROM SUBSCRIBER.

CHICAGO, Ill.,
June 29th, 1914.

Editor Reporter:

We are having very cool weather here, only once in a while we get a hot day and then we very nearly roast. The business in general is very quiet, having had a brick strike for three or four months which put the building line to the bad, but as the strike is now settled they are getting busy. Some of the builders have cancelled their permits so there will not be as much building as expected.

I have been busy for the last four months but last winter was very slow. We expect to have a good fall.

The street in front of our house has just been paved and it improved the street very much. I also had our house painted last month, also decorated, so we have a nice and comfortable home.

I expect to come to Centre Hall some time in August. Will bring my wife and children.

(HAS A. MITTERLING.)
