LOCALS

Mrs. Henry E. Homan is spending a few days in State College with her daughter, Mrs. Chester E. Homan.

Miss Sarah Condo, a Bell telephone exchange operator at Spring Mills, spent Wednesday with Miss Lena Emerick, a local operator.

Miss Victoria Benner, after a visit of a month or more with her father, Merchant G. O. Benner, returned to her home in Boston, Mass., Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Hoy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hockman, and Mrs. Mary Brungart, of Zion, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Homan.

The Engard brothers—Chas. A. and C. H.—who for eight years did an extensive threshing and baling busi ness, sold their complete outfit to Frank Duck and son of Madisonburg, a short time ago.

Mrs. Lavina Walters who had the misfortune to break her hip last winter has returned to her home on Hoffer street after having spent some time with her daughter in Millheim. She requires the aid of crutches to move about.

Prof. John S. Hosterman, principal of the Montrose public schools, arrived in Centre Hall Saturday to remain for two weeks at the home of his father, Dr. G. W. Hosterman. Mrs. Hosterman is expected here today (Thurs day) from Lancaster where she has been spending a short time with her parents.

Edward Jamison was a recent caller at the Reporter office to tell of the extra good qualities of a suckling filly he had to sell, and induced the writer to make a trip to his stables to prove the case. The result is the filly is now in the Reporter's stables and has the appearance of the making of a mare much above the ordinary.

About five hundred students have already qualified for the Freshman class at State College, a hundred more than at the same period last year. The vacation is only one-third over, and it is expected that there will be over nine hundred applicants by September. The chances are that only the six hundred best prepared will be finally accepted. Only four of the eight buildings authorized by the last legislature will be ready by September, and the number admitted must be limited accordingly.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Rev. T. J. Frederick, at Apollo, Reports Big Fruit Crop—3,000 Bushels of Peaches.

APOLLO, PA., July 16, 1914.

Editors of the Reporter:
Enclosed please find cash for sub scription. * * * I have a fine fruit crop on the way. I suppose I shall have two thousand bushels of peaches, besides apples, plums and pears. The peach crop in the country is quite short, hence I am in good luck.

Respectfully,
(REV.) T. J. FREDERICK.

BETHANY, Ill., July 13, 1914.

Editor Reporter:
Find enclosed $1.50 for paying for my paper for another year. Though the subscription is raised I would not like to be without it since it brings much home news.

Yours truly,
MARY A. NEFF.

Mrs. Sarah Drescher of Oak Hall, in remitting $1.50 for a year's subscrip tion, says: "I can't do without the Reporter."

Farmers' Institute.

The places for holding the three Farmers' Institutes to which this county is entitled under the allotment made by the Department of Agricul ture for the coming season, have been selected by the county committee, and are as follows: Centre Hall, Unionville and Phillipburg. The dates and the personnel of the speak ers to be furnished by the State will be determined in the near future by the State Department and made public in due time.

Festival at Linden Hall.

The Linden Hall Sunday-school will hold a festival on the lawn at Robert McClellan's home on Saturday evening, August 8th. The best of re freshments will be served. Everyone is invited.

LOCALS

Signers are being solicited to institute a camp of Patriotic Order Sons of America in Centre Hall.

Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Deitzel of Pleasant Unity, accompanied by Mrs. John Smithley, are at the home of Mrs. Deitzel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Durst, and will remain for a month.

By the time the Reporter reaches its readers the grain will have been cut and much of it stored in the barns. The weather conditions during the whole of last week, except Saturday, were unfavorable for either cutting or "hauling in."

A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for United States senator, Hon. Vance C. McCormick, candidate for governor, and Hon. William T. Creasy, candidate for lieutenant governor, will be guests of the Sugar Valley grange Saturday, August 1.

Thursday morning Hon. Leonard Rhone accompanied State Forester Conklin and party through the north eastern counties of Pennsylvania with a view of looking over state lands. Mr. Rhone takes a deep interest in reforestation, and has traveled over every section of the bordering Penna. Valley and other mountains in Centre county. He has growing on Rhoneymede several thousand pine trees planted within the last ten years, and most of them have made a fine growth.

C. S. Bodorf of Colyer called at this office Tuesday to advance his subscrip tion, and informed the Reporter that his oldest son, John E. Bodorf, who is in the Jersey Shore hospital suffering from typhoid fever, is slowly improving. Mr. Bodorf was in Jersey Shore last Thursday to pay his son a visit and stated that on the ad vice of a physician his son sold out his bakery and confectionery business, and will for the present give his en tire attention to the restoration of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Homan and son Ralph of Altoona, Mrs. C. C. Homan of Toledo, Ohio, A. E. Homan and Miss Eva Williams of Cleveland, Ohio, came from Altoona Saturday in the former Mr. Homan's Overland car and until Wednesday were guests of Mrs. Emma Homan in Centre Hall. A. B. Homan is an employee of the Pennay at Altoona, and A. E. Homan still continues with the Peerless Spring Company at Cleveland, a position he has satisfactorily filled for a number of years. He declares business fine in the Ohio city and that his firm runs full twenty-four hours a day.

William Wolf and daughter, Mrs. Jamison, of Orangeville, Illinois, passed through Centre Hall one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Musser of Bellefonte had them in charge. On their way they visited Penna. Cave, and spent the day calling on friends by the way. Mr. Wolf, when a young man, lived near Spring Mills, but many years ago moved west, and this is his first visit to the old home. They are much pleased with the country and are enjoying their visit very much. While in town they called at the G. L. Goodhart home to exchange greetings and to receive any message they would wish to send to their son who is a resident of Orangeville.

Rev. J. I. Stonecypher is taking a vacation. In company with his wife and her mother, Mrs. Ulrich, they will spend the time in Philadelphia, New York and other places of note.

Mrs. Margaret Rhodes of Winfield spent several weeks in Boalsburg help ing to care for her sister, Mrs. Ellen Souey, who was suffering with neuralgia. At this writing Mrs. Souey is some better, yet not entirely free from pain.

Frank Rothrock and sister, Miss Martha, were keeping house in Belle fonte. The sister is at present in the hospital laid up with a fractured ankle caused by a fall in their yard.

Mr. Rothrock is staying at the home of his brother, H. C. Rothrock, at Boalsburg.

Fattig Hogs.

This simple sounding task is neglected on more farms than any other thing. Most farmers aim to give their hogs salt in some way or other; but many farmers do not give the salt in the proper manner. Salt should be mixed with some other ingredients when it is given to hogs. One method is to mix it with wood ashes half and half. A better way is to mix up a combination of articles along with the salt. A dime's worth of lump copperas should be procured at the drug store. Take five or six lumps of copperas and pulverize them real fine with a hammer. Mix this powder with a gallon of salt. Then take a gallon of wood ashes and add a pint of powdered charcoal. Mix the salt and copperas mixture and the ashes and charcoal mixture together in a broad flat box. The hogs now have a preparation which is inexpensive and at the same time will act as a conditioner and health food. The charcoal absorbs gases in the diges tive tract. The ashes help digestion by keeping the hog's alimentary canal free from worms. The copperas purifies the animal's blood and is a disease preventive. The salt in the mixture causes the hogs to eat it freely. When heavy feeding is in progress this mixture is especially valuable.

Millin county will have an additional industry in operation within a few days that will comprise an invest ment of $50,000 and employment of one hundred men. It will be known as the John H. Miller Sand Company, located near Burnham, with mines furnishing the best grade of glass sand.
