LOCALS

Mrs. Alfred Durst, who has been in a rather serious condition, is not improving.
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harshbarger of Altoona are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford.
D. W. Bradford is having bathroom fixtures installed in his home. Joseph Runkle of Bellefonte has the work in charge.
Miss Anna Hayes of Watsonstown, from Friday until Monday, was the guest of her friend, Miss Mary D. Potter. Miss Hayes took the six weeks teachers' course at State College.
Three days of picnic in Centre Hall this week. Wednesday the United Evangelical church assembled in picnic array on Grange Park; today (Thursday) is Lutheran Day, and tomorrow (Friday) the Presbyterians and Methodists will picnic at the same place.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nearhood and family of Pittsburgh passed through Centre Hall Monday on their way home after having spent a short time with relatives in Penns and Brush Valleys. Mr. Nearhood holds a position as traveling salesman for a shoe house.
A cable message was received on Sunday, August 9th, from H. D. W. English and family who have been marooned in Vienna, Austria, of their safe arrival in Zurich, Switzerland. Mr. English requested that two thousand dollars in gold be sent him at once, so that he may be enabled to get home with his party of five persons who are touring in his auto car. Mrs. John G. King of Centre Hall and Mrs. W. Morris Furey are sisters of Mr. English.
In February, 1895, J. Henry Keller and family left Centre Hall for Kansas, and a few weeks ago Charles C. Keller, a son, made his first trip to the old home. He lives in Kansas City, Kansas, and is a machinist, and during the latter years gave his time to the construction of automobiles. While in Centre county he is making his headquarters with his sister Mrs. Ezra Treisler, of State College. While in Centre Hall he called to see the chums of his youth and the many friends of the Keller family.

Announcement from Herr.

I expect to leave in a few days for the eastern cities—Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore—to select our fall and winter clothing for men, women, misses and children. We expect to have the largest and most up-to-date stock in men, women's, misses, and children's apparel this town ever witnessed. All our Spring and Summer stock is pretty well cleaned up; every thing will be new for Fall and Winter.

DIXON'S HEALTH TALKS.

Dust the Means of Carrying Disease Germs, says the Commissioner of Health.
The hot, dry winds of August eddying through the city streets and along the country roads will carry everywhere clouds of dust. It is the pet abomination of housewives and their instinctive dislike is well founded, for in the city streets each tiny particle that is blown about may be a raft which bears the minute disease producing organisms which we call germs.
The means by which many of our contagious diseases are transmitted have been discovered to be through personal contact or through insects which carry the disease germs from the sick to the well. While the ancient theory that plagues were transmitted by the air has been disproved by the investigations of modern science, a dust laden atmosphere may be responsible for spreading certain infections. Experiments have shown that some of the germs of communicable disease die under brief exposure to the sun's rays. Others are less susceptible and thrive for a certain length of time amid the tiny particles of dust. The germs of tetanus or lockjaw are found in roads and about stables, and the tiny particles of dust carrying these germs are introduced into a wound, tetanus is apt to result.
In the sputum of a sufferer from tuberculosis, in the dust of the streets or sidewalks we often find the tubercle bacillus, the germ responsible for consumption.
We have reason to believe that the germs of smallpox and possibly pneumonia may also be transmitted in this way.
Dry sweeping of the streets with its accompanying clouds of more or less infected dust, and the dry sweepings of buildings may be a possible source of disease infection. In many of the European and in some American cities the streets are washed every day. This is a sanitary measure of no little importance and should be followed wherever possible. Dry sweeping and dusting with the old fashioned duster should be abolished.
The Patrons Rural Telephone Company will meet in Bellefonte on Friday of this week.

You Can Save Money on White Canvas Shoes By Buying NOW

We have cut prices on our line of Ladies' and Misses' White Canvas Shoes. We do not intend to carry them over until next season. Our line is still complete, but better hurry up for they'll not last long at the prices we have put on them. Lots of warm weather yet, so white shoes will be worn for some time.

Come in today.

Odd Fellows' Orphanage Prosperous.

At a recent meeting of the representatives of the Odd Fellows' Home at Sunbury, a report by the president of the institution revealed the following:
On July 1, 1914, the following children were in the home: 71 boys and 68 girls, a total of 139 children. During the year there were admitted 14 children and three were lost by death. On July 1, last year the enrollment was 141 children.
The report of the late S. B. Hilliard and H. I. Romig, assistant, shows that there was in the general fund $11,640.27; the building fund, $1,984.64; the Christmas fund, $11, and the permanent fund, $42. The total amount of receipts was $13,677.91. The balance now in these funds is $2,512.04, $7,212.54; $240.07 and $1,714.97, respectively. The present assets of the association amount to $108,732.42 and the liabilities are $4,875.56. The new barn is reckoned to be worth $4,600; the main building, $40,000 and the school, $20,000 while other buildings, ground, furniture, etc., make up the rest of the assets. The liabilities consist mainly of outstanding vouchers.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swab, and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Grove, enjoyed an auto trip down through Brush Valley narrows to Millinburg and other points, returning by way of the Penns Valley narrows. They all enjoyed the trip and say it is a beautiful country as far as they could see. No trouble was experienced with the car; Boyd has his car in first class running order.
