

LOCALS

Veron Garis is walling up the sink on Main street. The hole is twenty-five feet deep.

The old fence about the new school play ground was torn down Monday, which makes the old and new ground as one.

Mr. and Mrs. John Homan and daughter Elizabeth spent Sunday at State College as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Homan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heckman of Tusseyville spent a day last week at the home of Mr. Heckman's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Runkle.

James I. Packer and children, Lester, Donald, and Sylvia, of Altoona, spent Friday at the home of his brother, Prof. L. O. Packer, in Centre Hall.

The threshermen's traction engine will be registered without reference to the rules and regulations laid down by Commissioner Bigelow. This the threshermen will hail with delight, as it is a victory over the road boss.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mrs. Malissa Boal on Monday were, Judge and Mrs. George B. Orady of Huntingdon, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Siefert, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Foreman, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carl of State College.

The borough authorities are tending the section of the road through Centre Hall lying next to the mountain, with gravel. The improvement, of course, is not permanent, but properly applied the material used will give good returns.

Snakes are evidently plentiful along the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad. A short time ago Henry Kahler, the foreman of the section crew at Lindale, killed ten copperhead reptiles in a very short time. His father, Thomas Kahler, the boss of the Coburn crew, killed seven of the same species.

Earl D. Fleming was here from Scranton, where he has charge of a branch of a New York advertising company. Mr. Fleming is one of Centre Hall's best products of his generation, and always has a kind word for the old home town and its people. It is a real pleasure to greet the home-coming of his character.

Rev. G. W. McInay of New Bloomfield, Perry county, from Saturday until Monday, was entertained by some of his former parishioners in the Penns Valley charge. Rev. McInay is pastor of a large flock at New Bloomfield and the church edifice, which is comparatively new, is a beautiful structure.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Runkle and daughters, Sarah and Mary, of Newport, have been at the Centre Hall hotel during the past week. Rev. Runkle is a native of Potter township and has a host of friends in Centre Hall and surrounding county. He is pastor of a Reformed church in the Perry county town, and as such is meeting with marked success.

Mrs. Lillian Alexander entertained the following people at her home last Thursday: Mrs. Frank McCoy and daughter Miss Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Allison, Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy, Miss Kate Shugart, of Bellefonte, William Allison, Frank Allison, of Spring Mills, and Edward Allison of Potters Mills. Miss Anna McCoy is still with Mrs. Alexander.

E. S. Ripka, F. P. Geary, and their families, of Centre Hall, and W. H. Smith, J. H. Rishel, and their families, of Spring Mills, on Monday will leave for Camp Thomas, near Glen Iron, where they will enjoy a week along the rippling waters of Penns Creek. The male sex will indulge in their favorite pastime, fishing, while the ladies keep the house in order and prepare for enlarged appetites.

For the convenience of those in the rural districts, David K. Keiser, cashier of Penns Valley Bank, conceived the idea of opening the bank for a general line of business on Saturday evenings. It was first an experiment, but the business was at once of such a volume that it was decided to continue the practice each Saturday night. This move on the part of the institution relieved the merchants of the necessity of cashing checks, which, by the way, had become a burden to them.

The reunion of the Lutherans comprising the Penns Valley charge will be held today (Thursday) on Grange Park. Dr. W. E. Fischer and Rev. J. M. Reaick have announced that they will be present on this occasion. Both of them are former pastors. Rev. Bieber will be absent only because of his engagement on the field during the last two Sundays in this month, on which days he will conduct the regular Harvest Home services. See schedule under regular heading.

FRUITTOWN.

Fred Brown is all smiles the past week and says it is a girl. Both mother and baby are getting along fine.

Rev. A. J. Horner returned to his home in Youngville after visiting for some time among his friends here and elsewhere.

Mrs. S. H. Sheffer and daughter Lovedy of Franklin arrived in Centre county last week where they will spend some time visiting relatives and friends.

Last Saturday afternoon a heavy electrical storm accompanied by hail, passed over this community, doing quite a bit of damage to the corn fields and also to the fruit trees.

The reunion that was held last Thursday on the H. A. McClellan farm, was a grand success. It was an ideal day and a large crowd of people attended. Everybody enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. J. A. Gettig and family of Braddock, also Mrs. W. J. Copenhagen and family of Tyrone, all of whom were visiting at the home of T. J. Fleisher for some time, returned to their home one day last week.

Last Tuesday D. C. Fohringer moved his family and household goods from his home in Reedville to the Edward Horner home at this place which he recently purchased. Mr. Fohringer is employed by John Bitner, in paper hanging and painting.

PENN HALL.

James Shook, who has been on the sick list, is able to be around again.

Miss Ethel Hettlinger is spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. Burkholder, at Bellefonte.

Miss Mary Bartges, who was at Millheim having sewing done, returned home on Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Geesey of Aronsburg took dinner at the home of Charles Bartges on Sunday.

Samuel Hosterman, who is working at Elizabethtown, visited his home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Musser went to Woodward on Saturday to attend the festival, and returned home on Sunday.

Charles Smith and family of Sunbury, and Mr. James McCool and children of Farmers Mills visited at the home of their parents over Sunday.

Adam Keller's children who were confined to the house for some time with the measles, are able to be out again.

Mrs. Daniel Shook, daughter Edna and her niece Florence Lingle of near Coburn, spent Sunday at the home of George Shook.

Charles Shook, who is working for his brother Phillip Shook near Madisonburg, visited his home over Sunday.

The festival that was held here on Saturday evening was well attended and took in quite a sum of money.

The Millheim band furnished the music. Misses Mayme Herring and Katie Garrett, who have been spending a few weeks here visiting friends and relatives, returned to their home in Altoona last Friday. Mrs. Elizabeth Herring accompanied them to this city and will spend a few weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Ralph Shook broke the small bone in one of his arms in a rather peculiar way. He was washing his Kilt car, and stepping backwards landed in a bucket of water, and falling to the ground struck his arm in such a way as to do the injury named. The fracture was just above the wrist.

Brush Valley.

On Saturday evening the Madisonburg orchestra gave an interesting entertainment at that place.

Dallas Duck and family of Mackeville spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Duck, of this place.

Don't forget the festival at Madisonburg on Saturday evening, August 15.

Cyphus Rishel of Madisonburg was obliged to take his bed on account of inflammatory rheumatism.

Quite a number of people from here attended the festival at Penn Hall on Saturday evening.

Rev. Pratt of Altoona preached a temperance sermon in the United Evangelical church on Sunday.

Mrs. Joannah Grenoble, who had a severe attack of heart trouble, is again able to be around.

The Rachau reunion will be held in Detrick's grove on Saturday, August 15th.

Someone has torn the list of the registration assessor of the Murray school house door. Mr. Hoy, the registration assessor, has sent the fragments to the county commissioner and says he will use the full extent of the law on the party who committed the deed, if found out.

For the benefit of the public in general the sign boards throughout this valley ought to be replaced where they are missing, and those dim and illegible for one reason or another should also be repainted and repaired. A sign board serves strangers to a much greater extent than is appreciated by the people acquainted with the country, and for this reason the law on the subject should be fully complied with.

Tusseyville

Mr. and Mrs. Cal. Rossman spent Wednesday at this place among relatives.

Miss Susan Reaick, from Williamsburg, spent Friday at the William Bitner home.

Will Roseman and daughter from Sieglerville spent Sunday among relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wert from Aronsburg are visiting here among relatives for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horner from Lipden Hall spent a few days with Mrs. Horner's mother, Mrs. Cora Birchfield.

Mrs. Edward Wolf and little son of Altoona are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Spangler.

Rev. John M. Price assisted R. V. Foss with the communion service Sunday morning held in the Evangelical church.

Mrs. J. B. Spangler and Mrs. David Fortney and daughter Mary spent last Thursday at Boalsburg to call on Miss Laura Keller, who has been very ill the last few months.

Earl Frazier and two sisters Harriet and Ida spent Wednesday at this place. Miss Ida remained for the McClellan-Fleisher reunion. She returned home Thursday evening.

Mrs. M. F. Rossman and the Misses Esther and Elizabeth Bitner accompanied Lois, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geary, to her home in Altoona last Tuesday. The ladies will visit among relatives and friends for a week.

Deaths of Centre Countians.

James Crotty, a former well known resident of Axe Mann, in Lewistown. He was sixty-one years of age.

Mrs. Annie Mates, wife of Thomas Mates, in Phillipsburg, after a lingering illness with cancer. Her age was sixty-two years.

Mrs. Mary L. Buckhout, at her home in State College, Tuesday of last week. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She was sixty-seven years old.

Mrs. Lou's Shawley, in Bellefonte, at the age of seventy years.

Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Smith, son Paul and baby Kathryn of Sunbury spent from Saturday till Monday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith at Penn Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. McCool and children of near Farmers Mills spent Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith.
