In his address at Centre Hall, Mr. Pinchot, Washington party candidate for United States Senator, made the same statement as was made at Condersport on Saturday evening, which was that "if it should appear that my retirement will help to oust Penrose, I will get off the ticket." It is being pointed out to him with considerable earnestness by the Philadelphia Public Ledger that Mr. Pinchot now has a great opportunity to prove his devotion to his recently adopted state by joining hands with his fellow-citizens who are determined to rid it of the blight of Penroseism.

LOCALS

Miss May V. Rhone of Harrisburg spent a few days last week at Grange Park headquarters.
Hand picked and drop apples wanted by the Centre Hall Evaporating Company, at Centre Hall.
Mrs. D. Edmond Crowell of Tyrone is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ishler.
Capt. W. H. Fry of Pine Grove Mills is attending the sessions of the Pennsylvania Veterinary Association which meets in Allentown this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Brainard Taylor of Millinburg, spent a few days last week at the home of Dr. W. H. Schuyler and Mrs. T. W. Simkins, who are cousins of the Taylors.
Mrs. Calvin Weaver of Wolfs Store and sister, Miss Ruth Houck, of Orbisonia, Huntingdon county, were callers at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. A. Dodson one day last week.

Save your calves. Instead of receiving a few dollars for them a few weeks after birth, rear them on Ryde's cream calf meal. Costs half what milk does, with even better results.—E. D. Foreman.

Ralph C. Homan, William and George Swartz left on Wednesday for Selingsgrove where they will attend the university. The former starts his first year, but the Swartzs enter upon their sophomore year.

Miss Velma Simkins, after spending the greater part of the summer with her parents at the Presbyterian Manse, returned to Philadelphia Wednesday, where she conducts a studio, giving the greater part of her time to illustrating books.

Mrs. J. Fred Kuriz and Mrs. R. B. Huling of Lewisburg were guests of Miss Grace Smith for a day, last week. The former is the wife of the editor of the Journal, and the latter the wife of the passenger agent at the Lewisburg station on the Pennsy.

Grange Park real estate was well distributed over Centre and adjoining counties. The candidates took their good share, but did so without complaint, for they came here to speak to the tillers of the soil, yet perhaps had no intention of carrying away so much of the clay matter.

An automobile party from Philipsburg who enjoyed one of the big days last week in Centre Hall were, Mrs. Florence Faulkner, Miss Mae Faulkner, Mrs. Joseph Barnes, Elizabeth Barnes, Mrs. L. Ray Morgan and son Louis Morgan, and Boyd Hamlin. A big Peerless car afforded ample accommodation for the party.

Child Strangles on Bean.

A very sad death occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Rechau who reside about two miles west of Madisonburg, Monday morning, when their bright little son Lester, of eighteen months, met death by strangulation. The child was seated on the floor playing with a number of pod beans when he, in childish manner, placed one in his mouth and in an instant it was lodged in his throat. Before the mother realized the serious nature of the child's trouble, the little tot had already reached life's end. The funeral services will be held this (Thursday) morning and interment will be made at St. Paul's, Rev. Bingman, of the United Evangelical church, officiating.

Elias Wert, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Brush Valley, died at his home near Yearlick's church, three miles west of Madisonburg, Friday, of old age. He was over eighty-six years of age. Funeral services were held at his late home Tuesday and interment was made in the cemetery connected with Yearlick's church, Rev. J. W. Rumberger, of the Evangelical Association, Madisonburg, and Rev. Dusler, officiating. Besides his wife, Mr. Wert is survived by three sons, namely, James Harvey and John, all of Brush Valley; also, the following brothers and sisters: William Wert, Brush Valley; Mrs. Amanda Weaver, Aaronsburg; Mrs. William Glen, Woodward; Mrs. Caroline Swartz, Millheim.

Mr. Wert was a farmer all his life until incapacitated by old age. He formerly lived in Penna. Valley, but removed to Brush Valley over twenty-six years ago. For sixty years he was a member of the Evangelical church and a strong supporter of its cause.

Mrs. R. H. Stuart died at her home in Island, Clinton county, Monday at six p. m., from the effects of a paralytic stroke which she received Friday previous. She never regained consciousness in the intervening period. She was sixty-seven years of age. Funeral services will be held Friday and interment will take place at Jersey Shore. She was a full cousin to Mrs. J. T. Potter, whose death occurred in Centre Hall a few weeks ago.

Thomas George Erhard died at Paris, Kansas, aged almost eighty years. He was born in Miles township, and went west in 1854. He is survived by four sons, one of whom, Allen, when a young man lived with his uncle, William Erhard, at Old Fort. The other sons are George, Samuel and Jacob. Allen lives in Sumner county, Kansas, and is engaged in farming.

Will Drill for Oil.

Probably by the latter part of this week work will have begun in erecting a derrick on the Jacob Gephart farm, a mile west of Rebersburg, and tenanted by E. K. Greninger, to be used in drilling for oil. The Centre and Clinton County Oil Company are the prospectors and they hope to rush the erection of the derrick so that drilling may be commenced as early as possible.

Thomas Farm Sold.

The Thomas farm, west of Potters Mills, occupied by Ashbridge Thomas, was sold to J. E. Bubb & Son for $2500. The Bubb's are lumbermen, and will cut the timber and saw it into bill stuff. The farm was purchased several years ago by Mr. Thomas from Samuel Slack, who had lived there for many years. Mr. Thomas will not vacate the place until next spring.

Dates for Farmers' Institute.

The dates for Farmers' Institutes in Centre county are as follows: Centre Hall, Monday and Tuesday, December 14 and 15; Unionville, Wednesday and Thursday, December 16 and 17; Philipsburg, Friday and Saturday, December 18 and 19.

Field-Krumrine.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Krumrine, at State College, and in the presence of over one hundred invited guests, Boyse A. Field of Youngstown, Ohio, and Miss Julia A. Krumrine were united in marriage Thursday evening at six o'clock, by Rev. Horn of the Reformed church, State College. After partaking of a wedding supper the couple left for California and next Sunday they will set sail for Australia where the groom has a position. He is a graduate of the electric department of Penn State, class 1913, which institution also graduated his bride.

Brush Valley.

Miss Tevols Keller of Penn Hall, will work for Lloyd Miller this winter. Many people from this section are attending the Lewisburg fair this week.

This week we are having the equinox, then look out for the equinoctial storms that shake the apples. Norman Duck of Millinburg, who had an exhibit of Gullius buggles at Grange Park, is spending several days under the parental roof.

Elias Wert passed into the great beyond on Friday. He was aged eighty-three years. Interment was made in Beth sta cemetery on Tuesday, Rev. Abe Dorstler officiating.

On account of the drought we are having, many people are compelled to haul their drinking water and drive their cattle a distance to water, while pasture is so short many people feed their cattle out of the barn.

Monday morning Lester, the eighteen-month-old child of Scott Rechau, got a bean in his wind pipe and choked to death. Interment will be made in the Yearlick United Evangelical cemetery this Thursday morning.

BOALSBURG ITEMS.

What People Are Doing in Harris Township's Principal Burg, as Reported by the Reporter's Faithful Correspondent.

A number of women of Boalsburg and vicinity collected some articles of clothing for the war sufferers in Belgium. They were sent to Washington to the Belgium Legation and will be shipped from there to the foreign shore. Miss Cecile De Lagarde will see that the articles are properly distributed. She with her nephew, Pierre Boal, sailed from New York on Monday. T. D. Boal was to New York to see them off. The following is a list of the clothing: 38 coats, 4 shawls, 1 lady's cape, 3 sweaters, 3 men's suits, 2 boys' suits, 4 pair of trousers, 4 vests, 2 ladies' suits, 10 ladies' skirts, 1 petticoat, 9 dresses, 1 kimono, 5 waists, 1 apron, 5 articles ladies' headwear, neckties, pins and veil, 3 hats, 2 caps, 2 pairs stockings, 4 pair shoes, 3 pairs of blankets, 2 pieces of flannel, 12 hanks of yarn, 17 pieces of winter under wear, 6 pieces of gauze underwear.

The clothing will be shipped as soon as possible. Miss Cecile De Lagarde of Boalsburg who proposed the donation, sailed for France on September 21st. She will on her arrival, undertake with assistance, the distribution of the clothing. She will commence her horrid work as soon as possible. In 1908 she went to Spain to be with her sister, Mrs. Theodore Davis Boal, who was taken ill at Saragozza at the time of the celebration of a great victory of many years ago. Mr. Boal was sent with other representatives from the United States. It was at this time that Miss De Lagarde took a thorough course of Red Cross Nursing.
