Missionary Convention in Session.

The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Central Pennsylvania Synod is in session in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Bellefonte, closing this (Thursday) evening after a three-day convention. Two foreign missionaries are on the program—Miss Jessie Brewer, of Guntur, India, Wednesday evening, and Miss Gertrude Simpson, of Monrovia, Liberia, Africa, who delivered an address last evening. Mrs. Harry E. Fye and daughter Grace are delegates from Centre Hall. Mrs. A. E. Kerlin and Mrs. S. W. Smith are also attending the meetings.

Late Wheat Seeding.

October first is here and there is yet much wheat to be sown in both Penns and Nittany Valleys. This work is usually performed prior to September 20th, but the excrude dry weather prevented early plowing and subsequent preparation of the soil. Of course, October sowing has some times resulted in good crops in past years, but there is a great risk.

Mrs. Henney's Millinery Opening.

A great fall event with the ladies in this valley is the opening at Mrs. Lucy Henney's millinery store, which this season will be Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6th and 7th. Mrs. Henney is now in the city and is making selections for her vast trade. There are many smart things in millinery that will be procured by her and put on the local market for the first time. Her large experience in the business enables her to make the best selections suited to the trade.

There will be goods at the opening suited to all—children, young ladies, those of middle age, and those more mature in years.

Do not forget the days of the opening—Tuesday, October 6th, and Wednesday, October 7th.

PLAN TO ASSIST FARMER.

The State Grange is Urged to Aid in the Distribution of Products of the Farm—A National Marketing Committee—Co-operation Needed.

A recent session of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange, held at Harrisburg, David Lubin, American delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, discussed a system of national co-operation in marketing farm products. It was on this subject that the distinguished gentleman was booked to speak at Centre Hall during the week of the Grange Encampment and Fair.

Mr. Lubin said that the farmers needed assistance in finding markets for products as well as marketing them and urged Pennsylvania grangers to take hold of the movement to establish in this country scientific distribution of farm produce.

A national marketing committee was recently organized in Washington with United States Senator Fletcher president, and William T. Cressy, master of the state grange, as vice president. It also has an executive committee composed of men selected from different parts of the country who have given the subject attention. The work of the committee will be both national and international in scope.

Among those present were the members of the state grange executive committee: William Armstrong of Luzerne county; I. Frank Chandler of Chester county; State Master Cressy and George T. Hampton, the representative of several state granges at Washington.

Sheriff Brungart Sold Farm.

Former Sheriff Cyrus Brungart sold his farm south-east of Tusseyville to George Horner of near Linden Hall. The price reported paid is $5500 for the farm proper and $200 for some mountain land. The farm contains one hundred acres.

Mr. Horner for ten or more years was tenant on the Bortorf farm, and will be succeeded there by one of his sons Roy Shaffer, who for a few years has tilled the farm just sold, will follow H. I. Foust on the James C. Goodhart farm at Centre Hill. Mr. Foust, it is reported, will retire from the farm.

By the way, it might be stated that Mr. Horner is abundantly able to cultivate a much larger farm than that which he bought. He is the father of eighteen children, twelve of whom are living, and among these are a number of bustling young men.

William E. Tobias

William E. Tobias, Democratic candidate for Congress in this twenty-first district, is a native of Clearfield county, born in 1867, son of Samuel and Eliza Erhard Tobias; was the second of a family of nine children and began the struggle of life at an early age assisting in the support and education of the large family. He attended school winters and worked on the farm summers. At the age of sixteen he began teaching in the country schools and continued four successive terms, when he entered Lock Haven State Normal and graduated in 1889. He successfully filled the position of principal of the West Clearfield and Coalport schools, at same time fitting himself for college, entering Allegheny College at Meadville, in 1893, graduating with honors in 1897. While in college he won the Chautauquation prize and also the inter-society oratorical contest.

After graduating at Allegheny Prof. Tobias filled the position of principal of the Penfield schools 1897-1901; then principal of the Mahaffey school 1901-1905, when he was elected County Superintendent of Schools and was re-elected in 1908 and again in 1911.

As an educator Prof. Tobias was always successful, giving the best possible service and ever raising the standard of education in every community in which he taught.

During the nine years of his superintendency of the schools of Clearfield county Prof. Tobias gave his best endeavors, his earnest effort and constant attention to the schools. That his work was appreciated by pupils, teachers and taxpayers is evidenced by the fact that he was solicited on all sides to continue in the position and would have been re-elected for another term had he consented to permit the use of his name as a candidate.

No teacher in the State stands higher with the friends of the schools than William E. Tobias of Clearfield, who is known to every prominent educator in Pennsylvania as one of the foremost

L. O. O. F. Orphanage Laying in Supplies.

Many Old Fellows' families, as well as numerous others throughout the thirty-eight counties of the Central Pennsylvania district, are busy sending jars of preserved fruit and vegetables to the orphanage, east of Sunbury, and all of the empty jars available are being sent out in barrels to the different lodges and homes for filling. In this way the winter supply of preserves is laid in.

The new barn is now ready for use. The two large silos, just erected, are being filled; the barn is filled almost to overflowing with the new crops and a second crop of clover is being harvested. The live stock, which will be increased after the facilities at the new barn are improved, will be housed in the big structure within a few days.

The school has opened and is being attended regularly. There are a half dozen teachers. The new band, under the direction of leader, William (Alhoun, of Northumberland), is progressing nicely and shows promise of becoming one of the best boys' bands in the state.

This is October 1st—the month of chestnuts and Halloween parties.

teachers and county superintendents in the great galaxy of successful men and women in the common school work of the Keystone Commonwealth.

Politically William E. Tobias is a life long Democrat coming from pure Democratic stock on both sides. In the community where he was born and raised Democratic majorities were the rule of the day, the township in which he grew up never being known down to the present to give other than a Democratic majority at every general election. He is not only a Democrat by birth and environment but by education as well. He early took active interest in political research and was able as a boy to explain and defend the political faith of his people. As a man he kept close up to all progressive endeavors of his party and was with Bryan from the day he became famous in the Chicago convention of 1896. All progressive efforts of the Democratic party have had Mr. Tobias as an ardent, eloquent, tireless, champion and no follower of Woodrow Wilson was more earnestly in duetious in his behalf before and ever since the Baltimore convention.

This district could not better honor itself than by the election of Mr. Tobias to stand by the administration of Woodrow Wilson in the popular branch of the Federal Congress. He would prove a hardworking, honest, efficient member, always on the job and at all times obedient to the commands of his only master—the people.

The Democrat who believes in Woodrow Wilson cannot honestly do other than support William E. Tobias vigorously. The Republican who desires to repudiate Penrose and Penroseism has no other opportunity than to vote for Tobias. The independent voter cannot go elsewhere with any hope of success crowning his efforts.

Vote for William E. Tobias and you will not have the slightest reason to regret your action.

Cuts Corn by Moonlight.

The beautiful moonlight nights of last week appealed strongly enough to Samuel Horner of near Tusseyville to remain in his father's cornfield until near morning, cutting over a hundred shocks in that time. Young Horner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Horner, and while at the supper table laying plans for the next day's work, which was that all hands cut off corn, Samuel conceived an idea which he cleverly guarded. Without a word to anyone he set out for the cornfield with an axe—two hundred shocks of corn. He got them all cut, and a few more, time flying swiftly; so swiftly, in fact, that he supposed he could still slip off to bed and get up with the rest of the fairies. His foud dreams were blasted upon setting his foot on the threshold of his home to see his father lighting the fire for breakfast. It was necessary to make explanation for his presence at that time and inquiring as to the time was told by his father that it four o'clock—getting up time on the average farm.

Messrs. E. M. Huyett, P. H. Luse, L. L. Smith, D. W. Bradford, J. H. M'Cool, Cleveland Brungart and S. W. Smith attended the horse sale at Millheim on Monday.

TEN DRY STATES.

Sixteen and One-Half Million Now Subject to State-Wide Prohibitionary Laws.

Virginia's adoption of State-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants brings the number of such Commonwealths up to ten. The others are Maine, Kansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee and West Virginia.

In Virginia, as elsewhere, the issue was decided by the vote of the country districts, but of the seventeen cities having a population of more than 5,000, only four, Alexandria, Norfolk, Danville and Richmond, voted in opposition to the amendment. Of the 91,000,000 of people in the continental United States at the late census, approximately 16,500,000 are now subject to State-wide prohibitionary laws.

While sentiment hostile to the liquor traffic has been politically mainly in the South, it exists powerfully in many Northern States. At the South prohibition has religious and racial inspiration, and in some cases has been carried by the whites solely for the purpose of depriving negroes of strong drink. At the North it is urged now chiefly in resentment against the dominance and corruption of saloons in political management.

Probably there are more saloons in New York or Chicago than ever existed in half a dozen Southern States. The influence that they have exerted in public affairs in all large Northern cities has been and still is prodigious. If the movement should gain further headway in this section, it will be directed as sharply against the brewery-financed saloon in politics as against the beverages which it dispense.

Help Protect the Woodlands.

The Pennsylvania Department of Forestry, through its foresters, is preparing to avoid the usual fall forest fires by an active campaign carried on by the distribution of literature and use of stickers. Forester Ludwig of Boalsburg is working in the interests of the forests and woodlands in his territory and it behooves everyone who has any consideration for posterity to co-operate with the foresters in conserving the timber on the mountain lands and not permit what little is standing to be destroyed through carelessness.

A circular sent to this office by Mr. Ludwig contains among other things, these suggestions:

Never toss away burning matches, cigars, cigarettes or pipe ashes.

Never start a fire in the woods among leaves, dry wood, or against a log, or against any tree, whether it be dead or alive.

Never start a fire in the moss or peat of a dry bog. It may smoulder for days, and at last break out in open flame.

Never leave a fire until it is surely out.

Never start to burn brush or stumps in a clearing in a dry time, or on a windy day, and never leave a fire burning in a clearing. Stay with it until the fire is completely out.

A locomotive which throws out sparks, or drops live coals along the track, may start a bad fire. Take the number of the locomotive which does these things and send it to the Division Superintendent. He will probably thank you for the information.

Just one match, one smoke, one live coal, one spark, one careless foot—and then less water and no trees.

Deaths of Centre Countians.

Joseph Schull, a native of Centre county, died in Binghamton, N. Y., aged seventy-three years. He was stricken with paralysis.

Mrs. Ellis C. Brennan died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Garman, at State College, Wednesday of last week, as the result of a stroke of paralysis sustained a few days previous. She was aged eighty-three years.

Lyman H. Fowler, a well known Civil war veteran, died at his home in Milesburg, of a complication of diseases, aged seventy-six years.

Mrs. Eliza Lutz, wife of James Lutz, died in the Bellefonte hospital Wednesday night of last week, after and illness of a number of years with a complication of diseases. She was about fifty years of age.

Lyman Emerick, a well known business man of Walker township, died of tuberculosis of the bowels, aged fifty years.

Dr. Ellen, wife of Robert Brennan, died Wednesday of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella Garman, in State College. She was eighty-five years of age.

Mary E., wife of Henry Norris, was found dead in bed early Wednesday morning of last week, at her home in Fillmore. Death was due to paralysis. She was aged seventy-three years.

You can't stand well with your friends by treading on their toes.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

"Know thyself" is a good motto, but don't be ashamed of the friendship.

Mrs. Henney's millinery opening—Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6th and 7th.

The Centre Hall Evaporating Company started operations last week at their plant near the station.

Messrs. William Boezer, J. H. Knorr and Edward E. Bailey are serving as jurors at the first week of September court.

T. L. Smith, beginning of this week installed a hot air furnace in the residence of Dr. H. H. Longwell, in Centre Hall.

Dr. G. W. Hosterman is on a short vacation at the home of his son, Sumner V. Hosterman, Esq., in Lancaster, and other points.

Philip Saul of Axe Mann was in town for a part of a day recently. He states his youngest son, Sylvester, has joined Uncle Sam's navy.

You will remember October first because it is your privilege to pay tax on that day, and when you pay tax you realize just how rich you are.

Four weeks of the school term will have been completed by the end of this week. To the studious scholar they have been four weeks profitably spent.

The Homan property on Hoffer street advertised for rent in last week's issue of this paper, has been leased to J. C. Barnes, who will have charge of the state's holdings on Nittany Mountain.

Ryde's Cream Calf Meal will greatly aid you in raising calves when the milk supply is short or missing. It is a complete food and contains all the nutrition of milk.—R. D. Foreman, Centre Hall.

Be very careful when you cross Nittany Mountain, that is if you are afraid of bob cats, for Byron Garis reports having seen one of those animals on the top of the mountain early the other morning.

While with most farmers potatoes will be but half a crop this year, John DeLaney, on the Earlstown road, should not worry, for off a two and a half acre patch he lifted a little over four hundred bushels.

William Crist of Sunbury spent a few days last week at the home of his uncle and aunt, Merchant and Mrs. C. F. Emery. The last, who is seventeen years of age, made the trip here and return on his bicycle, the distance one way being sixty miles.

Besides administering justice, 'Squire Cyrus Brungart can also handle hatchet and saw. His ability along this line takes form in the corn crib he constructed for John C. Koesman last week. Mr. Koesman has also improved the appearance of his barn on his lot by a coat of red paint.

Mrs. Lucy Henney will have her fall millinery opening Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6th and 7th. You are invited to call at her store on those days and any time thereafter to look over her varied assortment of goods. The prices are far below those for the same class of goods in the larger towns.

Two farmers, neighbors, and living on the Brush Valley road, are the most recent purchasers of automobiles. Clyde Dutrow and Jacob Sharer will hereafter come to town in five-passenger Buick cars, purchased through the Dr. Kidder agency, Boalsburg. Mr. Sharer made his initial run to the Lewisburg fair last Thursday, after having been in possession of the machine one day. He experienced no more trouble with the "critter" than he would have had with the most docile beast in his stable.

Prof. H. A. Dodson purposes organizing a basket ball team to be made up of members of the high school. The ball has already been ordered and instead of playing on a floor indoors the school ground will be used for a playing field owing to the fact that no building can be procured. This will be the first attempt at basket ball in Centre Hall, a game quite popular elsewhere. No challenging of foreign teams will be made this year, the contests to be confined to matches between scholars in the local schools.

Thursday was anything but a favorable day for the Lewisburg fair, an overcast sky hiding the sun from view all day. Centre Hall and vicinity was fairly well represented, however, the following being among the number: Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot, W. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, G. H. Emerick, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery and daughter Margaret, Samuel Durst and son Ray, Lycurgus Lingie, Mrs. S. S. Kreamer, Mrs. Rebecca Scholl, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Brungart, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer and family.
