Horse sale at Millheim, Monday. See ad.

Miss Elizabeth Fredericks of Spring Mills spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. Cook Hubler.

The residence of Mrs. Susanna Spangler, on Church street, is being painted by F. E. Arney.

Harry M. Hoy, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, who for several years has been living with George Sheasley, near Penn Hall, has been granted a pension of $30 a month.

The real estate of the late Mary E. Burkholder, advertised to be sold at public sale on October 3, is again advertised, in a continued sale, for November 14th. See advertisement elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Haffer of Chambersburg are spending this week among the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grifer, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dashem.

Miss M. Eloise Schuyler, who is engaged in post-graduate study in Philadelphia, has been awarded a University Scholarship in history by the University of Pennsylvania. This scholarship gives her free tuition for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Guthrie and son Merrill of Summerville, Somerset county, and Miss Mertie Cobb, a trained nurse, of Boston, Mass., were entertained for a few days beginning of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew.

Sell your milk, Mr. Farmer, and raise your calves on Security calf food. It is a simple, nourishing food that takes the place of milk, at one-fourth the cost of milk. Your calf will grow just as big and fat and you will have more money from the sale of your milk.—Sold by Weber, Centre Hall.

At the recent sessions of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, Rev. W. H. Schuyler was chosen a commissioner to the Synod of Pennsylvania, which meets in Erie, Tuesday, October 20th. The synod is a delegated body co-terminous with the state. The presbytery sends six ministers and an equal number of laymen.

Howard W. Siggins, one of the foresters on the Poe division, with headquarters at Potters Mills, was in town on Saturday evening. He and his chief camp in the mountains during the week, and find plenty of work to keep them busy. He was a class mate of J. C. Barnes, who will locate in Centre Hall, and naturally is pleased to be in the same locality with his school chum.

CENTRE OAK

We are having nice rains; this will start the late sown grain; in fact, everything needed the rain.

F. A. Foreman of State College spent a few days in this section with his children, Guy and Esther. Always glad to see him.

Mrs. George Long is with her father, Jacob Long, at Madisonburg. Mr. Long had the misfortune to fall and break his hip bone but is getting along nicely.

The Evangelical church at the Swamp is undergoing improvements. It is being painted and papered. After completion this will be a grand church.

Among those that spent last Thursday at the Frankenberger home were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hettinger and children, Paul and Martha, Altoona, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Hettinger and daughter Ethel, Spring Mills, Mrs. W. S. Musser and daughter Marion, also Miss Kathryn Hettinger of Columbia, Mrs. Lucy Wesley of Grand Rapids, Michigan. All enjoyed the sport of gathering chestnuts. Marion and the chestnut burrs had sharp needles.

Saturday evening a birthday surprise party was given for Mrs. A. E. Schreckengast in honor of her forty-fourth birthday. She received many presents and the evening was spent in social chat and plays, and, of course, Miss Ruth, the daughter, had prepared lots of refreshments for the occasion. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Weagley visited at the home of Mr. Weagley's sister, Mrs. Frank Schultz, of Rebersburg, over Sunday.

On Saturday evening Clarence Musser and two other boys started to Millheim with Musser's horse, and when they got down below Jacob Meyer's the horse fell dead in the road. The horse had the heaves for some time.

HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE.

REPUBLICANS ARE REVOLTING

Turn to Palmer and McCormick to Rebuke Penroseism and Rescue Their Party.

DIMMICK LEADERS ACTIVE

Rev. R. M. Little, of Philadelphia, Noted Charity Worker, Tells Why Republicans Must Repudiate Penrose and Brumbaugh.

Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 5. Rev. R. M. Little, a prominent Philadelphia Republican, secretary of the Society for Organizing Charities, and the manager of the campaign of J. Benjamin Dimmick for nomination for United States Senator in the May Republican primary, in a speech at Lebanon, disclosed the fact that Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, deliberately declined to oppose Penrose and Penroseism when urged to do so by his best friends.

The report of Rev. Little's interview with Dr. Brumbaugh before the primary election, showing that the Doctor even then was tied to the Penrose bandwagon, created a great sensation in this Republican stronghold, and has started a stampede of independent Republicans away from the whole Penrose ticket.

Mr. Little said in part: "I have always been a Republican, and Senator Penrose calls himself a Republican, but if Penrose is a typical Republican, I, with many thousands of others, can no longer wish to be called Republicans."

"Our opposition to Dr. Brumbaugh is based not only upon his association with Senator Penrose, but also upon the evasive manner in which he has addressed us in response to all our efforts to find out where he stands. Several of us who were interested in seeing a clean Republican ticket nominated, knowing that Dr. Brumbaugh had been in conference with Senator Penrose, Senator Oliver, State Senator Vane, Mayor Armstrong, of Pittsburgh, and several other organization leaders, wished Dr. Brumbaugh to tell us frankly where he stood."

"In apprising him of the fact that we knew of his conference with the above named Republican leaders, he admitted the fact and seemed a little non-plussed at our knowledge of the conference and some of its details, but endeavored to smooth the matter over."

"Dr. Rufus Miller, a friend of Dr. Brumbaugh, was with me, and while speaking directly to Dr. Brumbaugh about the necessity of the Republican party being rehabilitated in Pennsylvania and in the nation, urged upon Dr. Brumbaugh his great opportunity. As Dr. Miller presented his various points, he turned and asked me if these were not the points with which he wished to arrange an agreement."

"I replied 'Yes, that as we believed in the rehabilitation of the Republican party under a new leadership this involved the retirement of Senator Penrose.' I looked directly in the face of Dr. Brumbaugh when I made this statement. He looked directly at me and replied, 'No, I am not willing to say that.' To this I replied, 'Then we cannot agree if you do not believe in the necessity of Senator Penrose's retirement.'"

"When it was perfectly plain that Dr. Brumbaugh did not believe that the rehabilitation of the Republican party involved the retirement of Senator Penrose, it was clear to us that we need not seek in him a candidate who would do his best to further such a house-cleaning."

HENRY C. NILES OUT FOR DEMOCRACY

Former Lincoln Party Chairman Urges Support of Palmer and McCormick.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 6. Henry C. Niles, of York, one of the best known Independents in the state, who led the fusion fight for the Lincoln ticket in 1906, in a ringing speech here tonight, declared flatly for the Democratic state ticket and urged independent Republicans to unite in support of Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer for United States Senator and Vance C. McCormick for Governor.

Mr. Niles particularly addressed his remarks to those progressive Republicans and Roosevelt men who had made possible the political revolution of 1912, which ended in the election of Woodrow Wilson, and he paid a notable tribute to the Wilson administration, declaring that its policy of peace and progress deserved the support of independent men of all parties.

He said in part: "As an independent voter, I will vote for Palmer for Senator and for McCormick for Governor, because I believe their election will be for the best interest of the state and nation. The defeat of Penrose and Penroseism depends upon the independent voter, as has every great reform."

"One of the perils of the republic is the party man, who always makes his cross in the party square. Washington foresaw this and warned his country against party spirit as of equal danger with foreign foe."

"The last in this illustrious presidential line of party bolters is Theodore Roosevelt. His conversion was somewhat late, but his eyes were opened four years ago to the villainy of the Republican bosses, and abundantly he has atoned for his former evil associations."

"Making possible the election of Wilson was the best and greatest achievement of Roosevelt's career. Wilson has brought about the most desirable reforms which Roosevelt strove for, but failed to accomplish as a leader of the boss-ridden Republican party."

"And now the influence of the Roosevelt progressives is to contribute to the emancipation of Pennsylvania. With high motive, Dean Lewis has retired from the field, and he and his great leader, with their independent Republican followers, are supporting Vance McCormick, the independent Democrat, for Governor. To the honor of making Woodrow Wilson president, Roosevelt and his independent progressives are to add the glory of making Vance McCormick Governor of Pennsylvania."

"If Senator Penrose had his way, our country would today be knee-deep in an endless war with Mexico, instead of being the one peaceful spot on earth."

"Our president, as the appointed leader of constitutional self-government, should speak for peace, tolerance and liberty, by the unanimous authority of the republic. Our petty domestic differences ought to be forgotten for the time, in view of this race tragedy. Only members of senate and house pledged to support the president loyally and unhesitatingly in his efforts for present neutrality and for ultimate peace, are entitled to election."
