D. L. Bartges and son, Thomas Bartges, took Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney in their car to the scene of the big fire on the Hoy place, near Bellefonte, Tuesday. It was Mrs. Delaney's father that suffered the severe loss.

Few 400-lb. hogs have been butchered so far this fall. F. E. Arney reports one which weighed 420; Benjamin Emerick killed one which dressed 396; Merchant C. F. Emery killed several, the heaviest of which dressed 328 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vonada, who lived for a year or more in Bellefonte, are now located in Saint Cloud, Minnesota, where Mr. Vonada is working at his trade as a barber. Mrs. Vonada will be better known as Miss Flora Walker of Centre Hall.

Blake Royer, formerly of Millheim but who now lives at Mill Hall, where he recently was unfortunate enough to have one of his legs amputated while working on a saw mill near that town, was in Millheim several days last week soliciting contributions with which to purchase an artificial limb, says the Journal.

Among the Reporter's callers on Tuesday was A. N. Finkle, farmer and lumberman, of Spring Mills, having come to town on account of a bit of "trouble" with his car. Mr. Finkle was so well pleased with the appearance of the alfalfa hay in the Reporter's barn that he decided to purchase three or more tons to test its qualities.

The latter part of last week reports reached here that the "foot and mouth" disease had broken out in the vicinity of Port Matilda, but later it was learned that the report was false. The Reporter made inquiry from leading citizens in that locality, and it is assured that there is no disease of any character among cattle, sheep, or swine in that section.

A fire at State College was extinguished before assuming large proportions, on Monday. The roof on the dwelling house of Mrs. James Johnsonbaugh, on McAllister street, was discovered to be on fire, but the quick response from the fire company resulted in having the blaze under control in a short time. The plastering in the upper story was damaged. A defective flue is given as the cause.

Among the hunters in the Seven Mountains during the past two weeks was Korman Spiecher of Philadelphia, who put the time in with local hunters from the south side of the valley. Mr. Spiecher is a mail carrier in Philadelphia, his route being in the Tioga district. Tramping in the mountains is considerable of a diversion from traveling over smooth pavements, but that is why the trip was so much enjoyed.

Big Barn Burned Tuesday.

The large barn on the old Harrison Kline place, owned by Samuel Hoy and located two miles east of Bellefonte, on the Jacksonville Road, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Two horses, nine shoats, 1200 bushels of wheat, and forty-five tons of hay were consumed. The barn was a structure 90x90 feet and contained five large mows. Several large sheds were also destroyed. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from the engine which was used in threshing the wheat crop at that time. The hay was baled in the morning and the threshing was well under way when the flames were first seen in the straw mow. The entire barn became a mass of flames so quickly that it was impossible to save all the stock. The threshing machine burned in the barn. Insurance to the amount of $2000 was carried on the barn and implement shed, but this is but a fraction of the loss on the buildings. On the grain, implements, and harness there was $1500 insurance, both policies being held in the Centre Co Mutual Company.

Irvin Bierly was tenant on the place. He is a son-in-law of the owner, and Mrs. Thomas Delaney of near Centre Hall is a daughter.

Hunter is Shot in Leg.

Allen Smith, a member of the Newport Hunting club which camped along the White Deer & Loganton railroad in the White Deer mountains, met with a painful and serious accident Wednesday morning of last week in the camp at Mile Run. The accident occurred while the men were cleaning their guns. One of the hunters was handling his rifle when the cartridge was discharged and the bullet ploughed its way entirely through the man's leg, shattering the bone and tearing a big hole.

DEATHS.

John Rishel, an aged and respected farmer of Spring township, died at his home on the Rishel homestead, on the old Boalsburg pike, leading from Axe Mann, Monday morning at 4:30 o'clock, following an illness of two months with hardening of the arteries and dropsy. He had attained the ripe age of eighty-three years. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at his late home and interment was made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte, Rev. G. E. Hawes and Rev. E. H. Yocum, officiating.

Mr. Rishel for sixty years followed farming as an occupation, living all that time on the place where he died. Only four years ago did his age stand in the way of his continuing farm labor and since that time his son, A. M. Rishel, conducted the farm, he and his family living in one part of the large farm house. Mr. Rishel was a progressive type of citizen and was well known throughout the county. He was a life-long member of the Methodist church at Bellefonte.

Surviving him are his wife and the following children, namely, A. M., Axe Mann; Dr. G. P., Philadelphia; Mrs. A. H. Stover, Juniata. Also the following half-brothers, namely, David Sweetwood, Symerton, Illinois, and Wesley Sweetwood, Erie.

Andrew B. Fink died suddenly in the waiting room of the Pennsylvania depot at Bellefonte, Monday morning, as a result of an attack of acute indigestion. Since the death of his wife a year ago he had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Joseph L. Runkle, in Bellefonte, and on Monday morning, after eating a hearty breakfast, left his home with the intention of spending a short time with relatives in Unionville. He was seated on a bench smoking while waiting for the train and suddenly fell over on his side and expired. He was sixty-six years of age. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the home of his daughter in Bellefonte and interment was made in the Union cemetery, Rev. G. E. Hawes, assisted by Rev. Hawkins of Curwensville, officiating. He is survived by three daughters, namely, Mrs. Newton Spangler, Mrs. Joseph L. Runkle, Bellefonte; Mrs. E. W. Clark, San Francisco, California.

Two weeks' illness with heart trouble resulted in the death of Mrs. Howard Weaver at her home in Rebersburg, Wednesday of last week. Her age was forty-two years. Funeral services were held at the Green Grove church, Saturday, and interment followed in the cemetery at that place, Rev. W. H. Brown of the United Evangelical church, officiating. The following children survive: Russell, Grace, Martha and Naomi, all at home; her husband and also her mother, Mrs. Lucy Ream, survive her, as do the following brothers: John Ream, Sunbury; William Ream, Spring Mills; Frank Ream, Boalsburg.

Orvis Budd Mueser, son of Mrs. Margaret Mueser, died at the home of his mother in Millheim, Sunday morning, after a short illness with pneumonia. He deceased was aged twenty-seven years and from birth was an invalid, his body never developing beyond that of a child. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning and interment followed in the Fairview cemetery, Rev. D. M. Geesey officiating. He is survived by his mother and the following brothers and sisters, namely, John S., Grove; Paul, Cloud, Julia, Mayme, of Millheim; and Byrd of Philadelphia.

Ralph J., the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheesley, of near Woodward, died Friday morning after an illness of a few days with diphtheria. Burial of the body was made the same day.
