DEATHS.

Mary Rosetta, wife of Joseph Myers, died very unexpectedly at their home in Axemann on Wednesday, January 20th. Mrs. Myers was the daughter of Mrs. Anna Wolf, wife of the late Oliver Wolf, and was born at Wolf's Store, Miles township, May 8, 1872, making her age at the time of her death forty-two years, eight months and twelve days. She was baptized in infancy by Rev. Landis and at an early age united with the Lutheran church, which faith she kept until the day of her death. She was united in holy matrimony May 7, 1899 to Joseph Myers of Boalsburg. This union was blessed with four children: Pearl, who has preceded her to the spirit world; Ethel, Rebecca and John, who are at home. She leaves to survive her and mourn their loss, a husband, three children, her mother and twin brothers. Funeral services were conducted in the Lutheran church at Boalsburg on Saturday afternoon by Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, assisted by Rev. S. C. Stover, and the body was laid away in the cemetery at that place, in the presence of many sympathizing friends.

James W. Raymond, twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Raymond of Muncy, died in Dr. Klum's private hospital, at Williamsport, Monday morning, following an operation on the appendix which was performed a week previous. Funeral services were held at the home of his parents and the body was shipped to Centre Hall, arriving Wednesday morning. Burial was made direct from the train, Rev. D. S. Kurtz of the Lutheran church performing a simple ceremony at the grave. Surviving him are his parents and two sisters, namely, Mrs. Lynn Karstetter and Mrs. Gaines Johnson of Glen Iron. The youth's mother is a sister of George Gingerich, and his parents some years ago lived near Centre Hall and later at Coburn.

Jesse Long died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sterling Miller, near Rebersburg, Wednesday of last week, at the age of seventy years. Death was due to old age. Funeral services were held Monday morning at his late home and interment followed at Rebersburg, Rev. A. G. Stauffer of the Reformed church officiating. Surviving him are three children: Mrs. Sterling Miller, Mrs. Wallace Walker, C. E. Long, proprietor of the Rebersburg hotel, all of Miles township. One brother, Samuel Long, of Ohio, who at the time of his brother's death was paying him a visit, survives.

Deceased was a civil war veteran, having served as a member of the 148th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. Before incapacitated by old age he was a farmer, in which occupation he was engaged all his life.

Mrs. John Etters died at her home near Lemont early Sunday morning, following an illness of several months with Bright's disease, aged seventy-two years and six months. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the United Evangelical church at Lemont, and interment was made at Boalsburg, Rev. F. H. Foss officiating. Three children survive, namely, Clayton Etters, Oak Hall; J. C. Etters, College township; Mrs. George Balston, near Linden Hall. Two sisters also survive: Mrs. Mollie Rockey, Tyler'sville, and Sarah Wilson, Potters Mills.

Religious Campaign for "Penn State."

Dr. John R. Mott, a leader in Christian Association work, and classed as "one of the world's three most influential men" by ex-president Roosevelt, is coming to the Pennsylvania State College in the first week in February to take charge of the annual religious campaign there. In addition to Dr. Mott, more than 100 Christian workers from the leading colleges and universities in this country will be there to assist in what is expected to be the greatest spiritual awakening ever experienced at Penn State.

During the campaign period, February 2 to 7, students, activities will cease. Religious work will have the right of way. It is said Dr. Mott desires to have the Penn State Association serve as a model to all other American colleges. Already there are more than 1,500 members at State College.

The Postoffice Department has granted permission to remove the postoffice at Centre Hall from its present site to the Reporter building, into the portion now occupied by the T. L. Smith hardware store. Mr. Smith will occupy the Roseman building where the postoffice now is.
