FAST TRIP THROUGH BRITAIN

Itinerary Enables Tourist, if He Wishes, to "Do" the Islands in the Course of Seven Days.

How to "do" the British Isles in a week is the latest scheme for hustlers. A dash around London, a flying descent on one or two cathedral cities, a race through Scotland and a glance at Killarney—this what is open to those who want to see the country in a hurry. Tourist agents say that the idea is catching on with Americans. Indeed it was an American who first suggested it.

Assuming that the tourist begins his trip on Monday, he devotes that day to the show places of London, winding up with a theater in the evening. On Thursday he goes to Windsor and Hampton Court and on his return to London has time to go to a music hall. On Wednesday he leaves London for Peterborough, sees the cathedral and gets to York at three o'clock.

At York the tourist has plenty of time to visit the Minster and other historic buildings before catching the 6:15 train to Hamburg. He coaches through the Trossachs and takes steamer through Loch Katrine and Loch Lomond. Then the train to Glasgow.

After dinner the hustler takes the night train out of Glasgow by way of Androssan to Belfast, reaches Dublin in the afternoon and takes the night train to Killarney.

WENT DEEPLY INTO DETAILS

Identification That Undoubtedly Was Complete, but Could by No Means Be Called Complimentary.

Stephen Haegen, manager of a Harlem bank, at a dinner recently told the following anecdote: Many years ago, while spending a vacation in a city in the upper part of the state, he visited some friends in a bank. While there he saw a severe-looking woman move up to the teller's window and request that a small check be cashed. She asked the man in the cage to call up the person from whom she had received the check and he would identify her.

The teller called up the man and asked him to describe the woman. He did so in the following manner: "She looked like the crankiest person in the world. She was dressed in the fashion of about five years ago. I think she is an old cat. She wore a blue straw hat, but then it may be green, and I think she paints. She wore two fake diamond rings. Good-by, old man."

Tree-Bark Blankets.

They have trees for blankets in Ecuador, and they like them, too. They are fond of the firm touch of the bark against them as they sleep.

We would probably think they were "zero in covering," and we would doubtless wake up in a much stiffened condition if we slept under a wood covering.

But the native Indians are most enthusiastic, according to J. Jameson, a traveler and lecturer, who has recently returned from those parts.

The blankets are made from the bark of a tree which is cut particularly thin. It is pounded and moistened and then pounded some more and put out into the sun to dry. And a most desirable and economical blanket it is, lasting anywhere from two to five years.

"His Goose is Cooked."

The expression, "his goose is cooked," appears in various forms, and means that his cause is ruined. It has some reference to the common but erroneous opinion that "goose" is synonymous with "fool." The idea has crept into more than one language and "will not down." It is generally understood that "cooking his goose" is a phrase which originated when the king of Sweden, on approaching a hostile town, excited the contempt of the inhabitants by the smallness of his army. To express this they hung out a goose for him to shoot at, whereupon the king set fire to the town to "cook their goose."

Proved Truth of Answer.

On a visit to St. Louis, Archbishop Ryan, a noted Philadelphia prelate, rode in a carriage to the parochial residence with Bishop Glennon, who is rather diminutive in size and of slight build, especially in the stomachic regions, while Archbishop Ryan is tall and very robust. As they alighted from the carriage, Archbishop Ryan said to his companion: "Bishop Glennon, I once was asked to explain the difference between a bishop and an archbishop. I answered" (and the archbishop extended his arms in a semicircle from his own healthy body, at the same time glancing rather sharply at Bishop Glennon), "The difference is all in the arch."

Ad Astra Per Reparte.

"All right," said Chollie, as he gathered himself together after her father had thrown him out of the house. "I'll have you indicted for this."

"Assault and battery, I presume?" grinned the old gentleman.

"Not on your life," said Chollie. "Under the Sherman act your daughter and I were about to swap vows, and that kick of yours was distinctly in restraint of trade!"

And the old man was so pleased that he relented and the next day the engagement was announced.—Harper's Weekly.
