

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1915

LOCALS

Theodore Brown of Lewistown is at the home of his brother, Edward Brown, and will remain for some time.

Surveyors for state road passed through Tusseyville last week and staked off the highway to State College.

Dr. E. A. Kent, on the Pottet homestead, is suffering from paralysis of the throat. Mr. Kent is seventy five years of age.

George Nearhood purchased the Charles Norris property in State College recently and last week moved his family into it.

C. B. Hess has retired from the mercantile business at Baileyville after a long term of years. He is seventy-five years of age.

There'll be no circus and pink lemonade for the small boy, accompanied by his pa, this year, on account of the foot-and-mouth disease.

Miss Elsie Reasick spent Sunday at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Reasick. Miss Reasick is teaching a public school near Milroy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stahl and little son of Altoona are spending a few days at the home of Mr. Stahl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl.

Mrs. Joshua Armstrong and children, Harry and Grace, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Funkle.

S. H. Knepley, who for a year or more has been in New York state, among relatives, returned to Centre Hall last week and will remain here permanently.

G. L. Goodhart is the commissioner from the Sinking Creek Presbyterian church to the Presbytery called to meet at Winburke, Clearfield county, on Monday. He went to the Clearfield town Monday.

When Roy M. Garbrick left his team stand in front of Kreamer's store while he made a purchase, on Tuesday, the animals started on a run up town and turned down the Brush Valley road where they were stopped by Equire Brungert and John Rosman. No damage was done.

The famous male quartet of the Pennsylvania State College has started on its second annual trans-continental tour. Through the courtesy of the Santa Fe railroad, the collegians spent their Easter vacation, along with the musical director, Clarence C. Robinson, on the Pacific coast.

J. A. Wagner, one of the rural mail carriers out of Spring Mills, slightly damaged his new Saxon car last week when the waste in his tool box took fire. He was fixing a puncture and lighted a match to locate an article in the tool box. The seat of the car was the only part damaged.

C. E. Royer of Spring Mills was in town Friday meeting a number of Sunday-school workers for the purpose of preparing a program for the district Sunday-school convention, of which he is president. The convention will be held on the 30th of April in the Evangelical church at Egg Hill.

Among other signs of spring mentioned in an exchange is the fact that the behind-the-stove league have abandoned their quarters and come out as the whittler's brigade, a few shavings having been found out doors. Another sign is that the butter was soft enough to spread nicely last Saturday at the noon meal.

Two of the former liquor sellers of Perry county, who had to shut up their bars when the county went "dry" by recent order of the district court, have taken appeals to the superior court. In order that the no-license end of the cases may be properly presented in the higher court, the Perry County Times, published by William C. Lebo, is calling for a public subscription of fund.

New Law in Game Hunting.

Governor Brumbaugh signed the Crow bill authorizing the state game commission to prohibit the shooting of elk, deer, squirrels, wild turkeys, ruffed grouse, quail and pheasants in any county upon petition of 200 citizens of such county. A public hearing would be held on the question of the necessity for such closing. The closed season period shall be at the commission's discretion. Penalties for violation shall be: For elk taken or wounded, $300; a deer, $200; a squirrel or a bird, $25.

"State" Ready for 800 Freshmen.

With the completion of five new buildings at the Pennsylvania State College during the last year, it is expected that the State Institution will be able to accommodate 800 freshmen next fall. More than 240 applicants were rejected in September because of inadequate facilities for proper instruction. Cramped quarters in all departments necessitated immediate extension, and new buildings were erected for the schools of agriculture, liberal arts, engineering, and for the women's building. Other buildings are now under construction for the department of chemistry, and the school of mines. They are rapidly approaching completion.

Diehl-Dunlap Nuptials.

The following article appeared in the Millinburg Telegraph of April 9th, and treats of a marriage in which the bride is a Penna Valley young lady, and very popular among a host of friends.

"A very quiet but prettily arranged wedding was solemnized on Thursday evening of last week at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. Ralph Smith, at Millmont, when S. William Diehl, of Millinburg, and Miss Blanche E. Dunlap of Spring Mills were joined in holy wedlock, in the presence of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dunlap, and a few other friends.

Coming from Spring Mills by auto the happy party stopped enroute at Millmont at nine o'clock said evening, where the happy marriage was performed, as stated. Thence they came on to the pretty residence of the groom, Mr. Diehl, at Millinburg, where an informal reception was held. This home was recently remodeled, refurnished and fitted out complete with all modern conveniences, including beautiful furniture of all kinds, in fact every thing complete in a most fine and inviting manner for convenient and most pleasing housekeeping, that now graces one of the most prettily furnished homes of Millinburg.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dunlap, a beautiful and talented young lady, one of Spring Mills' leading young ladies. The groom is one of Millinburg's leading young business men, whose straight forward business methods and hustling ability have made a great success in his business."
