

DEATHS.

Mrs. Lulu Martin, wife of H. C. Martin, died at the Homeopathic Hospital, Centre Avenue, Pittsburgh, Thursday of last week, following an operation for abscesses in the head. Services were held at her home in Wilkinsburg, Saturday, by Rev. Dr. Lewis Robb and the body shipped to the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Will Mayes, at Howard, where funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and interment made at Jacksonville, Rev. W. F. Carson of the Reformed church officiating.

She was born in Nittany Valley and was the daughter of William and Sue Irwin. Fourteen years ago she removed to Wilkinsburg where her husband is employed in the Westinghouse Electric Company. For about three years she had been ailing with head trouble and for about eleven weeks previous to her death was seriously ill. She bore her affliction with remarkable Christian fortitude to the very end. She was a member of Trinity Reformed church, Wilkinsburg, and a woman young in years.

Surviving her are her husband and two children, namely, James and Eleanor, at home. These sisters and brothers also survive: Mrs. Elmer Robb, Lemont; G. A. Irwin, Ebensburg; Mrs. J. B. Musser, Mill Hall; Mrs. J. Will Mayes, Howard; Mrs. F. L. Allen, Pittsburgh; Miss Sue Irwin, Wilkinsburg.

Mrs. Mattie Kreamer, wife of Samuel Kreamer, died at her home on the farm known as the Henry Homan farm, near Oak Hill, Friday night, after a lingering illness with a complication of diseases extending over a period of several years. Funeral services were held on Monday morning in the M. E. church at Buffalo Run and interment made there. Rev. C. C. Shuey of Bellefonte officiating. The funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives, there being about fifteen automobiles in the cortege. Deceased was aged fifty years and six months. No children survive, but she leaves these sisters and brothers: Mrs. Ellen Stover, Oak Hill; Mrs. Charles Reamy, Tusseyville; Mrs. William Bodie, Buffalo Run; William Kock, Illinois. Mrs. Joseph Lutz of Centre Hall is a cousin.

Mrs. Nancy Foust died at her home in Tyrone on Saturday of a complication of diseases, aged forty-six years. Burial was made at Tyrone on Monday. She was the wife of George Foust, formerly of Pine Grove Mills, to whom she was married twenty-five years ago. Five children mourn the departure of a loving mother.

Mrs. Lydia M. Dieon, of Julian, died Thursday night at the Lock Haven hospital. She is survived by her husband. The remains were shipped to Julian Friday morning.

Classes to meet at State College. The West Susquehanna Class of the Reformed church will meet at State College, from Monday until Thursday of next week.

LOCALS

A welcome rain set in on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. D. S. Kurtz is visiting friends in Allentown and also her daughter at Northampton.

A valuable horse belonging to John A. Heckman, farmer west of Centre Hall, died the other night. The animal had been at work and when brought to the barn drank a bit of water and then went to her stall. It then showed signs of great pain, and nothing could be done to relieve it.

Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Romig of Liverpool arrived in Centre Hall Wednesday morning, having made the trip in their car. While in town they are being entertained at the Bartholomew home, Mrs. Romig being a sister of the elder Bartholomew. Rev. Romig is pastor of a Lutheran charge in the town named.

Merchant George Meiss of Colyer had a peculiar experience the other day with a cow tethered along the highway. "Bossy" was picking grass on the opposite side of the road from her fastenings, and when the team Mr. Meiss was driving got their forelegs over the rope she concluded to utilize the slack to reach better grazing. This action on her part brought the rope to an elevation of several feet, and interfered with the stride of the horses. There was considerable high-stepping by the horses, when the rope broke and relieved the situation.

Elected Teachers.

The Centre Hall school board at a special meeting held on Monday evening elected teachers for the under grades of the borough schools, Prof. William Heckman having previously been elected principal of the high school. The teachers elected were Elmer Miller, grammar; D. Ross Bushman, intermediate; Miss Helen Bartholomew, primary. The salaries remain the same as heretofore, $50.00 per month for the under teachers and $85 for the principal. The length of the school term also continues at eight months, and the school tax was again fixed at the former rate of two mills for building and six mills for school purposes.

The present school board is made up of Messrs. H. G. Strohmeier, John G. Dauberman, John H. Puff, Dr. H. F. Bitner, F. P. Geary.

NEWS OF 1881.

Notes Taken From Files of The Centre Reporter of Thirty-four Years Ago.

July 21st—Mr. Shultz, tenant on John Hoffer's farm adjoining Centre Hall, has put out ten acres of tobacco to experiment with and if it proves a success we believe it is Mr. Hoffer's intention to devote a still larger portion of his farm to raising tobacco. Up to this time the tobacco set out under Mr. Shultz's superintendance is remarkably promising.

Carl Peterson, who for many years has had his home with Sheriff Spangler, died after an illness of several weeks, at an advanced age of between 85 and 90 years, and was buried at Centre Hall on Saturday. Mr. Peterson was a German from the Rhine and highly intelligent. He served under the first Napoleon in his campaigns and we believe was at Waterloo.

Rev. A. D. Rowe, late Lutheran Missionary to India, delivered a lecture at Aaronsburg on Sunday morning.

July 23rd—The one-half interest in the Centre Hall hotel property, belonged to the estate of Henry Witmer, was purchased by David Meyer, the present landlord, for $2,500. The other half is still owned by Sheriff Spangler.

Of the seven cities of Asia, perhaps Sardis has the most interesting and romantic history, and yet, with all its wealth, its famous rulers, its wise counselors, its victorious armies, it was the greatest failure of them all. The richest man in the world, Croesus, was king of Sardis; the wisest man, Solon, was her guest, and yet, through overconfidence and lack of watchfulness, time and again it was surprised, conquered and all but destroyed, until at last the disintegrating rock and soil from its own citadel, loosened by the winter rains, and hurled down by destructive earthquakes, buried the city 30 feet deep from the sight of man. It became a dead city, and it was buried by the forces of nature.—The Christian Era.
