LOCALS

Miss Anna Ross of Boalsburg spent a few days last week with her friend, Miss Margaret Jacobs.

A concrete walk is being laid to the front of Harry Miller's home, owned by S. E. Weber of Boalsburg.

Mrs. S. A. Boyer of Millinburg was the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. F. Emery, from Friday until Monday.

James Lingle, a student at Sellersgrove, spent a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lycurgus Lingle.

Ed. Laird made an auto trip to Lock Haven, Sunday, and was accompanied by Muser Coldron, Roy Puff and William Zettle.

Mrs. E. L. Gingerich and daughter, Miss B. I. Gingerich, of Linden Hall, favored this office with their presence, Thursday afternoon.

Drover J. W. Mitterling shipped the first carload of cattle to the east, on Wednesday, since last October, during all of which time the foot-and-mouth disease quarantine was in operation.

J. C. Condo of Penn Hall was appointed registration assessor of the east precinct of Gregg township to fill the vacancy caused by the removal from the district of N. W. Zorby.

Dr. H. F. Bitner will today (Thursday) leave for Lancaster to attend an annual meeting of the Theological Seminary of the Reformed church of the United States, to which he has been elected as a trustee.

Swengel Smith, son of Register J. Frank Smith, took a prominent part in the Bellefonte high school play "Strongheart," which was given recently in the opera house at that place.

The annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church will be held in the Reformed church in Centre Hall, Thursday and Friday of next week.

"It is twenty-one years since we left Penns Valley, but we still enjoy reading the Reporter," writes P. B. Meyer, from Kenbridge, Virginia, in remitting for his subscription. Mr. Meyer is in the lumber business in Virginia.

One of the features for Old Home week for which Bellefonte is striving is to have the Liberty Bell stop at Bellefonte for a short stay on its way across the continent, in July. Its value as a drawing card would be unquestioned.

William I. Griffith of Lock Haven, and F. S. Ulrich of Millheim, have formed a partnership to be known as Griffith & Ulrich and will conduct a 5 and 10-cent store in the corner room of the Gramley block, in Millheim. The new room will be soon ready for occupancy.

Charles C. Beck, the Reporter's correspondent from West Brushvalley, favored this office with a call, Monday. Mr. Beck successfully taught the Beaver Dam school, in Gregg township, last winter, and will likely be returned when the election of teachers occurs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice and son Clifford, the former's mother, Mrs. Catharine Rice, all of Reedsville, and Mrs. E. B. Thompson of Altoona were an automobile party who on Sunday made a trip to State College. On their return they called at the writer's home.

The student volunteer fire organization at State College last week received a fire-fighting apparatus in the shape of a hose cart and chemical wagon. The tank has a capacity of forty-five gallons and can develop 1000 pounds pressure, making it possible to throw a stream to a height of fifty feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Vonada arrived from St. Cloud, Minnesota, on Tuesday and are at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, above town. They have decided not to return to the far west but may make their future home in old "Pennny" if Mr. Vonada finds a good position in the barber trade, at which he is an adept.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harter spent a week in Altoona where they were guests of the former's grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Royer. The trip served the purpose of a honeymoon trip which was delayed because Mr. Harter was employed as a teacher in Potter township's public schools. They were married last winter.

The Washington excursionists witnessed the after scene of a big freight wreck on the Pennsy on their return home, Sunday evening. The wreck occurred in the afternoon, about fifty miles north of Baltimore. Fifteen freight cars left the track and several, loaded with wheat, went over an embankment and into a creek where they were literally reduced to kindling wood. The track for a distance of a quarter mile was entirely destroyed, rails being twisted and ties torn from the roadbed and ground to pieces. The loss to the railroad company will approximate $50,000. The excursion train was delayed for an hour while a wreck train cleared the track of the debris. No lives were lost.

Good Entertainment by Y. P. B's.
 Tusseyville has a Y. P. B.—which stands for Young People's Branch—organization which is a live wire in every sense of the word. Saturday evening they held an entertainment in the Union church which evoked much praise from the large number present. Singing, recitations and dialogues made up the principal part of the program, while Revs. Jones, Foss and Kurtz assisted in making the exercises complete. The object was to stimulate interest in the growth of this worthy cause and the fruits of the effort have already been realized by the addition of new members to both the branch and main organization—the W. C. T. U. A very liberal offering was received. Miss Elizabeth Bitner is president of the Y. P. B.'s and is an efficient head.

Dixon's Health Talks.
 For the vast majority of plants sun is an absolute necessity. They cannot grow and thrive without it. It is of almost equal importance to human beings though comparatively few people recognize the fact. When we walk into a house where the sun streams through the windows and brightens everything, instinctively we say, "what a cheerful place!" The stimulating effects of sun-shine are difficult to estimate but they are nevertheless a potent factor in maintaining our physical and mental health. It has been said that suicides are more prevalent following a period of rainy and depressing weather and figures have been advanced to show that they are more common among people who have rooms with a northern exposure lacking sunlight. We all know how one's spirits are depressed by a succession of rainy days but we lack a full appreciation of the value of sunlight in our homes. The germs of tuberculosis for example will not survive for any length of time if exposed to the sun's rays. It is a mistake to so protect our windows with shutters or curtains as to make it impossible to secure the maximum of sunlight. This is especially true in the fall and winter when the days are short, but at all seasons of the year sunlight is invigorating and stimulating and almost as much a necessity as fresh air. The planting of trees so close to houses that they shut off the sun's rays is a mistake from a health standpoint. Sun baths are beneficial in stimulating the functions of the skin, sometimes to a degree which enables it to resist minor ailments.

Spraying Demonstrations.
 The second week of spraying demonstrations by the representatives of the Bureau of Zoology of the Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, have been announced by State Zoologist H. A. Surface. At these demonstrations the spray material is made that is most useful and economical in preventing damage by the Codling moth, and other insects and diseases, and the first spraying for the pests of the fruit is shown in detail. The demonstrator will be present rain or shine, and will commence his talk and practical demonstration promptly at 1 o'clock on the day mentioned. All persons are invited to attend these meetings. The schedule for Centre county, in which T. C. Foster is demonstrator, is as follows:
 Tuesday, May 18th, A. J. Gephart, Millheim.
 Wednesday, May 19th, Newton C. Neidigh, State College.
 Thursday, May 20th, Miss Elizabeth D. Green, Bellefonte.

WAR COST IS UNBELIEVABLE.

Great Britain's Cost Heavier, Reaching Ten Million Per Day.

Recently published figures showing the cost of the war thus far to Great Britain are as staggering to the average mind as the other statistics growing out of this matchless military calamity. These expenditures represent only a small portion of the far-reaching cost involved.

Great Britain is after all only one of the warring nations. She has made extensive loans to her allies, approximating $1,000 million dollars, which makes her present outlay in dollars perhaps larger than any one of her confederates, but withal the war is costing England about 10 million dollars a day. The first eight months cost her 1355 millions. The estimated cost for another half year is 3950 millions and for a full year 6680 millions, making her total national debt stand now at 5825 millions.

It is virtually impossible for the average mind to grasp such totals, and when to them is added the cost to Germany, Austria, France, Serbia, Russia and Turkey, the inconceivable has long since passed and a conception of the boundaries of limitless space becomes easy by comparison.

Statisticians have determined that the cost of the war will reach 46 billions, a figure that shocks the mind. But should those figures be accurate, they would still represent inadequately the tremendous losses caused by the war. All these figures refer to dollars, material things. The other side of the picture cannot be counted that way. Tears and heartbreaks, widowhood and orphanhood, distress and desolation, insanity and incurable wounds cannot be entered on the ledger's page. The instincts of brotherhood, the principles of peace, the strivings for betterment have been set back beyond the power of appraising their value in dollars and cents. These are some of the costs of war which the budgetmakers cannot include.

Out of all this mess and chaos of the game of Mars must come to Americans the thought that peace in these United States cannot be prized too highly. From it all must spring the patriotic impulse to unite for that consummation. Calmness of mind, poise, as President Wilson says, best assures that result and in all the trying times that burdenbearer has, the sympathy and co-operation of his country must be and is behind him.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The Devastating Forest Fires.
 Commissioner of Forestry Robert S. Conklin says: "Five minutes work at a fire at its beginning is worth days of labor put in after the fire has once obtained a great headway." He might have added that it is the conviction of many citizens that a very large majority of the annual or semi-annual fires that sweep over the forest lands of the state are kindled by the carelessness of men who could extinguish the flame in its incipiency if they cared to do so. It is hinted that the forest fire in Pennsylvania is strikingly coincident with the opening of the trout season and that most of the damage wrought is chargeable to the carelessness of the fisherman. An increase in the number of fire wardens sufficient to really cover the state would surely be a matter of great economy. It would be difficult to estimate the value of the property destroyed every year by these fires, almost all of which could be prevented by a little care.

COMPLETE LINE EFFECTIVE SELLING ARGUMENT.

Supplying The Needs of the Boying Public is Important Factor, says S. C. Brungart, the Local Agent.

The buyer of an automobile today wants in his car, beauty, power, comfort and economy. Yet before he commits himself that he is in the market for an automobile he appropriates, so to speak, a certain sum of money with which to purchase the car. Then he lets it be known through his friends that he wishes to buy, and the next thing he knows, his morning mail contains a large assortment of circulars and folders, each giving a glowing account of their respective products. He looks them all over and decides to investigate the ones that fit his pocket book and his needs, and invariably it is the dealer having one complete line that gets the first and best consideration.

The automobile public have a right to demand that the moderate priced car embody all of the standard features embodied in the higher priced cars.

The Regal Motor Car Company of Detroit, which I represent, have analyzed the public's needs and are manufacturing three designs of automobiles. The light "Four" at $650 attracts the class of buyer that wants a staunch, high class moderately priced car. The standard "Four" at a little higher price embodies every feature that a man could expect to find in a four cylinder automobile. Besides these two models, they have recently added to their line a De Luxe "Eight" which is the perfection in motor car design and construction.

So I am prepared to furnish almost any priced car desired.

H. E. Homan and John Coldron, last week, went to State College, and as a result the latter will repaper the interior of the dwelling house in that place owned by the former.

Censures Not to Pay for Primaries.

The senate last week defeated, 17 to 24 the bill providing for the payment by the counties of the expenses of holding primary elections. This bill was introduced by Senator Froul, of Delaware, and had the approval of the governor. The object of the bill was to save the state an expenditure of $800,000.
