TYROL THE BEAUTIFUL

CHARMING SPOT IS TOO OFTEN NEGLECTED BY AMERICANS.

Mountains and Valleys in Delightful Tangled Jumble—Has Every Sort of Climate Found in the Rest of Europe

Austrian Tyrol, which is today in the public eye because of the strained relations between Italy and Austria is one of Europe's healthiest provinces. In the northern parts the air drifts pure and cool from the haunts of the glacier and pungent with fir and pine; and in the south it is soft with Mediterranean sunshine and fragrant with orange and lemon.

Though Tyrol is a land all-deserving of the artist, the sportsman, the vacationist, and the mentally or physically ailing; though it is a country where nature has been overlaid with beauty, and where there are more than 350 registered health resorts, it, nevertheless, has been comparatively neglected, more especially by Americans.

Austrian Tyrol forms a considerable part of the forbidding and difficult boundary that runs between Italy and Austria. It is a barrier more effective than the Vosges barrier between Germany and France or the Carpathian barrier between Hungary and Galicia.

Austrian Tyrol is 10,295 square miles of Alpine mountains, etc., with a wonderful and intricate series of valleys. While there are few lakes in Tyrol than in Switzerland and while the highest Tyrolean summit, 12,790 feet above the sea level falls far behind the monarchs of the Swiss Alps, yet the Austrian crown land yields nothing in charm by comparison with its neighbor.

Among the rock-strewn gullies of Tyrol Dante found the materials for his picture of the entrance to Hell. The main chain of the Alps crosses this region from east to west, and around it on all sides is a wild chaos of rock masses.

Tyrol, though small, has more sorts of climate within its borders than any other part of Europe. There are parts of the crown land where the winters are those of northeast Siberia and the summers are those of Franz Joseph land. There are other parts, more southern, where an Andalusian languor is hardly refreshed by recurring winter.

Tyrol is primarily a pasture land. There is a little farming within the sheltered valleys, and some lumbering but, for the most part, the population depends for support upon its flocks and herds.

Moreover, there is a goat's milk cheese prepared by the peasants of Tyrol that equals in its mellow, fragrant beauty any product made of milk whether from Erie, Neuchâtel or Roquefort.

The population of the crown land numbers about 900,000, of whom more than half are German-speaking. There is a large Italian-speaking population in the valleys of the south.

Generals Honor Artist. The French painter Hoffbauer, who abandoned a commission to paint Richmond war pictures to join the French army at the outbreak of the war, was recently summoned from the trenches near Soissons to local headquarters. Though only a private he was received respectfully by five generals, who explained that he was among the painters selected to make battle pictures along the front for the future glory of France.

Hoffbauer made a brief trip to Paris for materials and then went to Reims whence he is to visit interesting points.

When he expressed surprise at the honor accorded him by the generals, one of them replied: "Even in war time France still is the motherland of art."

The Franco-American sculptor, Francois M. L. Torretti, who is well known in New York, where he has a studio, and his wife, who is also a sculptor, have recently been permitted to visit the ambulance directed by Dr. Alexis Carrel at Compiègne to make a series of anatomical drawings of the seriously wounded for presentation to the medical museums for the benefit of future research.

For Acid-Proofing Concrete Pipe. Patent rights have recently been awarded in Germany on a process for rendering concrete pipes acid-proof. The method consists of coating the interior of the tubing with asphalt, a thing which has previously been attempted but not with satisfactory results for the reason that the material could not be made to adhere permanently. In the new process a certain quantity of asphalt is mixed with the concrete before the pipe is molded. When the cast has been made and the tube dried, the interior is sand-blasted so that the particles of asphalt imbedded in the concrete are laid bare. When hot asphalt is subsequently coated over the inner wall of the pipe it immediately combines with the asphalt particles in the concrete, which serve to securely anchor it in place. There has been much demand for tubing of this kind in industries in which large quantities of materials containing acids must be conveyed through pipe lines.—Popular Mechanics.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters: CAMDEN, N. J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N. J.

From Hanover, Penn. HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. RICKRODE, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E.
