

CAR MAKES WILD DASH—MAN AND WIFE HURT IN JUMPING

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yearick of Madisonburg sustain severe injuries—May Prove Fatal to Mrs. Yearick.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yearick of Madisonburg were severely injured when they jumped from an automobile which appeared to have gotten beyond the control of the driver in making the descent down the mountain near Madisonburg, Monday afternoon. As a result Mr. Yearick had two ribs broken, his head cut and his face badly lacerated. Mrs. Yearick sustained a broken jaw, a broken nose, a broken ankle and other injuries and was rendered unconscious. She is in a critical condition and her friends fear for her recovery.

The accident happened on the return home from the funeral of Adam Yearick, in Nittany, on Monday afternoon. The car was driven by Charles A. Duck and when the descent from the mountain top began the car gained considerable speed. When Mr. Duck suddenly applied the brake, the apparatus broke and the car rushed down the mountain road with a great burst of speed. Mr. Duck assured them that he would reach the foot of the hill in safety but Mr. Yearick thought the risk too great and sprang from the car. Mr. Yearick followed her husband and was hurled with great force onto the mountain road. After reaching level road the car was brought to a stop. Jacob Royer was seated on the front seat with Mr. Duck and he remained in the car during its wild run.

On Wednesday noon Mr. Yearick was reported as improving while Mrs. Yearick, who is fifty-eight years of age, was in a very serious condition and growing weaker.

Miss Florence Rhone, just returned from Kansas, gave her impressions of the workings of woman suffrage in that state, and Clement Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, spoke in a reminiscent way, dwelling particularly upon the old settlers in Penna Valley and the great improvements in modes of farming, traveling, warring. Many of the picnickers remained for supper, and then returned to their homes delighted with the outcome of the day.
