Mr. and Mrs. William Breen and family of eight children, of Pittsburgh, arrived at the home of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, near Centre Hall, last week. Mr. Breen returned in a few days but the remainder of the family will remain for a week or more.

The room above the post office, in the Reporter building, for the past two years occupied by the local W. C. T. U., is being converted into an exchange for the Bell Telephone Company. The plumbing and carpenter work will be completed in a short time. The W. C. T. U. headquarters is being moved into the Kreamer store building, into the room vacated by the Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Henry Stoner of State College had her left arm broken, between the elbow and wrist, on Sunday evening of last week while on her way home from Bellefonte, in company with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baird. The party was traveling in the Baird car and at a point above Peru the car skidded in the mud and worked its way into a ditch and struck a wire fence. Mr. Stoner thrust her arm out of the car and when the top struck the fence the bone in her fore arm was broken. The auto was slightly damaged.

Frank Yearick of Madisonburg, who, together with his wife, figured in the auto accident several weeks ago, which proved fatal to Mr. Yearick, wishes to correct the erroneous idea that he and Mr. Yearick jumped from the car. Mr. Yearick, in speaking to the Reporter, says that the great speed which the car gained in its wild dash down the mountain road, together with the position of the car at the particular time of the accident, resulted in his being pitched over the side. Mr. Yearick, too, was thrown from the auto's moment later, he said.

THOSE PICKLEWEIGHTS.

Famous Family of Plectrists to Enlarge Its Sphere of Operations. Who has not chuckled over the unending complications in the household of the Pickleweights?—Eloch, the plaintive; Maria, the masterful; Ihabed, the Injun strategist; Dill, the rotund and voracious; and Helen, the gallant defender of her brother's innocence and helplessness? For years the tribulations of this interesting family have delighted readers of the Philadelphia North American, and the characters created by cartoonist Bradford have become familiar to thousands. In fact, the Pickleweights have grown to be such an institution that more space and special treatment are required to chronicle their explosive history. Next Sunday, July 18, therefore, they make their appearance in the Sunday North American.

occupying a full page, in color. Henceforth, it is understood, they are to be known to fame as "The Peaceful Pickleweights." Bradford announces that they have moved to the country, in the hope that tranquil scenes, far removed from the turmoil of the city, will allay the hostilities that have divided them. The first page in the series shows them installed in their new home. Unfortunately, the occasion is marred by some deplorable accidents; but it is the universal hope that the family has entered upon a career of peace.

This is only one feature of The North American's new comic section, which, it is declared, will be the best in the country. With the Pickleweights will appear each Sunday the original Katzenjammer Kids, whose antics have convinced uncounted readers: "Just Boys," a page of homely humor that will delight every one who has known childhood, and a fourth page, on the most indigent of young parents and "Their Only Child."

This new comic section will add immensely to the fascination of the Sunday North American, and should prove a source of never-ending delight to all who enjoy rollicking fun. Order from your newsdealer today.

Famous Gospel Singer and Evangelist Endorses the Weaver Piano.

"After very careful examination, and repeated trials of your pianos, I desire to say that I find them equal to the very best. The construction and workmanship can not be excelled. The tone is sweet and has that resonant quality that is so desirable. The singing quality is also very fine. In fact, your instruments are all that could be desired."

Sincerely yours, Rev. J. J. Lowe.

In traveling about as an Evangelistic Singer, Rev. Lowe comes in contact with all makes of pianos. As many churches use Weaver Pianos, he has tried them under all conditions. His words are, therefore, authoritative.

WHY DO WEAVER PIANOS PLEASE?

Because the Weaver Organ & Piano Co., of York, Pa., have been building pianos and organs for 45 years and have never manufactured any instruments except a good one. Their whole ambition has been to conduct a business that would grow a little higher in the respect of the public each year. Their present position as manufacturers of the Weaver—the highest standard of Piano quality so far attained—is due to that ambition.

You wouldn't be surprised that Weaver Pianos last a lifetime if you knew the men, methods and materials on which their reputation is based. Weaver Pianos are used and endorsed by many of the world's leading musicians, including Alice Nielsen, Maud Homer, Victor Herbert, Frank La Forge, Frank Croton and many others. The Weaver Co. also make and sell the Charming Toned York Piano and the celebrated Weaver Organ.

These Instruments are everywhere conceded to be
