Miss Catharine Shaffer and her friend Miss Inez Rower, both of Altoona, are guests at the home of the former's grandmother, Mrs. S. D. Burris, west of Centre Hall. Mrs. Charles Burris and little daughter Catharine of Millroy are also guests at the same place.

John F. Muellin of Pittsburgh was an arrival Saturday and for a few days visited among friends and relatives. His son, Donald, was recently elected president of the Bankers' Chapter, an organization of young bank clerks at Pittsburgh, and was honored by being sent to the Panama-Pacific exposition at Los Angeles, California, for a month, all expenses paid by the bank organization.

James S. Stahl is able to be on his feet again, with the aid of a walking stick, the first in a period of two weeks, when he became the victim of the antics of one of the mules of Daniel Bohn while assisting in making hay on the G. H. Emerick farm. In descending from a load of hay Mr. Stahl used the back of the animal as a means of reaching the ground. Six times the long-eared animal behaved but on the seventh attempt she reared her posterior section and sent Mr. Stahl skyward so that when he struck the ground it was with such force as to cause him to sustain severe injuries within and without.

GRAND RECEPTION FOR THE BELL.
The reception for the Woman's Liberty Bell on Saturday was an event long to be remembered. About seventy children, dressed in white and wearing yellow sashes over their shoulders, marched to the east of town under the direction of Mr. James Stuar, to welcome the Woman's Liberty Bell party. The children lined themselves in a double column in front of the auto carrying the bell and its distinguished guests, followed by quite a number of automobiles and citizens singing an adaptation of the popular air "It's a long long way to Tipperary":

"It's a long way to suffrage,
It's a long way to go,
It's a long way to Woman's freedom,
But they're getting there, you know;
Good bye liquor traffic,
Welcome all things fine;
It takes a long time for them to see it,
But our men will vote right there."

They proceeded to the central square, where there were flags swinging to the breeze, and where the decorations were very elaborate, yellow being the predominant color. At this particular place there was a yellow banner of welcome suspended. It was here where Mrs. Fitzgerald of Boston was introduced to the quite large assemblage, making one of the most notable and convincing addresses ever heard in this section. Near the conclusion of the address the children reformed their lines and towed the liberty bell to the outskirts of the town, the band of singers accompanying them. Thus Saturday was a red letter day in the history of the town.

Brush Valley.
Rain, rain, nothing but rain.
Farmers are busy cutting oats.
Some work is being done on the Brush Mountain road.

The festival at Madisonburg was well attended on Saturday evening.

The newly married couple will go to housekeeping at Millheim September 1st, where the doctor is engaged in the drug business. He is a graduate in pharmacy and is well qualified to meet all requirements for a first class druggist.

The Lutheran F. F. picnic Saturday at Pine Hall was well attended and all had a good time. A sumptuous dinner was served in the woods for all. Addresses were made by Rev. Stover, Traub and Holmes and recitations by little ones. The Lutherans and Reformers crossed bats in a ball game that ended in favor of the former, 6 to 4. Many took supper in the grove that was well lighted with electric lights. A festival followed.

You don't want to miss the Citizen's Picnic to be held under the auspices of the Citizen's Cornet Band, in the grove adjoining town, August 28th. It will be in the style of a basket picnic. There will be a ball game between State College and Boalsburg. An interesting program has been prepared and nothing will be left undone to amuse the crowd. A rest room for ladies and children will be provided. Special trains and special rates over the Bellefonte Central R. P. will be announced later.

Things Are Going Better.
Evidence that the increasing prosperity of the country has more than war basis continues to grow. A report from the secretary of the Foreign Trade Commission in Pittsburgh shows that by no means is all of the one billion dollar order received in that city due to the war. Great quantities of the material orders are for domestic uses.

With increasing domestic business and an increase in rates, the railroads are showing marvelous improvements. The Pennsylvania System's revenues now exceed one million dollars a month, an increase of more than half a million for June over the same month a year ago. Of seven railroads whose reports for June are compiled all show increases over the corresponding month a year ago, the increase for the New York Central being more than a million dollars.

Abundant crops combined with all this insures for America a tremendous season despite the jar which the European war has given economic conditions throughout the world.

Gardener Has Found Really Ingenious Use for Automobile That Has Had Its Day.
"Where do all the old cars go?" is a question that is asked continually, and there are very few persons who can even approximate the answer with any degree of satisfaction either to themselves or to others. But it is certain where at least one of them has gone for it has been turned into a lawn mower. The reason for its fall from aristocratic to plebeian work is because its owner has a really tremendous lawn to keep in trim; he is head gardener for a large golf club and as every one knows putting greens must be kept "just so." There was an antiquated two-cylinder automobile on the premises that long had ceased to be of any practical value for pleasure purposes and the gardener conceived the bright idea of making it "die in the harness," so to speak. So with the help of some steel strips and some chains he attached no less than three lawn mowers to it—originally they were drawn by horses. The steering gear is intact except that the place of the front wheels is taken by a heavy roller; two rollers take the place of the driving wheels.—Scientific American.

Beautiful Bird of Paradise.
Women of fashion who wear the bird of paradise plumes do not realize how beautiful the bird is that surrenders to them its pride and glory. Its total length is about eight inches; its body, wings and tail are of a rich coffee color, which deepens on the breast to a blackish violet or purple brown.

The whole top of the head and neck is of a delicate straw color, the feathers being short enough to look like velvet. The lower part of the throat is covered with emerald green feathers which reach to the eye, and velvety plumes of a still deeper green extend in a band across the forehead and chin as far as the eye, which is bright yellow. From each side of the body beneath the wings springs a dense tuft of long and delicate plumes, sometimes two feet in length, of the most intense golden orange color and extremely glossy, but changing toward the tips into a pale brown.
