

DEATHS.

Death came suddenly upon Mrs. Ellen B. Weiser, widow of the late Benjamin S. Weiser, at the home of her son, John H. Weiser, who farms the Michael Rossman farm, near Tusseyville, on Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Weiser was subject to neuralgic attacks of the heart and it was one of these attacks which proved fatal when she was seized on Monday afternoon. She lingered in an unconscious state until death relieved her of her sufferings at the time stated. The body will be conveyed to the home of her son, Edward S. Weiser, at Millheim, today (Thursday), at whose home funeral services will be held Friday morning, interment following in the Union cemetery, Rev. M. D. Geesey of the Lutheran church officiating.

Mr. Weiser was the daughter of Lucy and John Smith and was born at Howard, being at the time of her death sixty-six years, six months and twenty-one days old. She was married to Benjamin S. Weiser who preceded her to the beyond twenty-four years ago. It had been her custom in late years to divide her time among her children and for the past few months was with the son at whose home she died. Sunday previous to her death she attended Harvest Home services in the Union church at Tusseyville. Since early life she was a member of the Lutheran church, and was a kind and loving mother, whose life was full of good deeds and unselfish devotion. Surviving her are three sons and a daughter, namely, Charles, Pasadena, California; John H., Tusseyville; Edward S., Millheim; Mrs. Elmer Miller, Altoona. Two brothers and one sister also survive—Job and Christ Smith of Clinton county, Michigan, and Mrs. Mary Alkey, of Harticot. Benjamin Musser was born in Spring Mills, Centre county, Pa., Jan. 12, 1851, and moved to Orangeville, Ill., in 1856. He enlisted in the Union army in 1862 and served to the end of the war in Co. A, 46th Illinois volunteer regiment. His brother, John Musser, was captain of the company to which Benjamin belonged and two other brothers, James and Charles, were members of the company. At the battle of Shiloh Capt. Musser was shot through the leg. Benjamin helped carry his brother out of the battle and got him on a hospital ship, but it was three days before the services of a surgeon could be secured. The leg was amputated, but it was too late and Captain Musser died.

After the war Mr. Musser and his brothers Michael and James engaged in the mercantile business at Orangeville, Ill. In 1873 he was married to Miss Caroline Stout who survives him. In 1880 he and his brother, William Musser, came to Jewell and opened a private bank known as the Citizen's bank, which in 1889 was consolidated with the First National Bank.

Mr. Musser died at the home of his niece, Mrs. D. L. Ramsdel, daughter of George Musser, 3415 Broadway, Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, south, in Excelsior Springs, Missouri, and the remains were deposited in a crypt of the Crown Hill Mausoleum. In his will one half of the estate goes to his wife.
