JOHN-TON WITTEBROWS.
J. Kennedy Johnston, who last week came out in a statement that he would run independent for the office of judge, has reconsidered the matter, giving two reasons for withdrawing from the race, namely:
First.—That he does not have the means to finance the campaign himself and those who desire him to be a candidate will not furnish enough money to warrant his making the attempt.
Second.—The lack of unity of the church people that are backing him, in refusing to rally to his support in a manner in which he expected.

Now really, the Reporter had almost made up its mind not to say a word about the improvements on the diamond by the municipality, but it couldn't refrain. A stranger passing along just now might be led to thinking that we are ahead of the times and already had woman suffrage or at least woman control.

See to it, Mr. Voter, that the "South Side Dutch" get your vote on November 2nd. They are made of the right stuff and never proved a failure in public office. If you have home pride, select for your support: Foreman, for Prothonotary; Smith, for Register; Harter, for Treasurer; Brungart, for Auditor. Everyone of them is thoroughly capable to fill the place.

Prothonotary B. D. Foreman, during his term of office, passed out more—much more—free information to parties desiring it than is customary with public officers. He has always been ready to give aid in looking into the public records to men of all classes and political complexion. He will do so again, if re-elected, and that is why the people of Centre county ought to give him a second term.

No wonder the building up of the road on the diamond was long delayed. The preparations of plans that resulted in placing the smaller hammer-cracked stones for the first course, a coarser layer for the second, and a top dressing of ground took time to work out. The slogan in this town ought to be, "get a dollar's worth for a dollar expended," instead of continuing the haphazard methods long followed.

Rose, composed an auto party that left for Montgomery county, Friday morning, in Mr. Swabb's Ford car. They reached Red Hill that evening where they spent some time before going to Schwenksville, Philadelphia and Chester. They expect to return the latter part of this week.

First Attraction on Lecture Course.
Next Monday night the 1915-1916 season of the Centre Hall Lecture Course will open with the appearance of Dr. G. Whitefield Ray, F. R. G. F. Dr. Ray is known to scientific men as the "Livingstone of South America." He has spent years of exploration among the savage Indians and his lecture, "Through Five Republics on Horseback," is replete with the most interesting accounts of the manners and customs of strange peoples he has found in his wide travels. As he narrates the incidents in his explorations he dons the feathers, wields the club of the witch doctor and in the native tongue imitates the weird chants of the savages of Central South America. He also speaks of the marriage customs, domestic life, peculiar dress, burial rites of these strange people.
Dr. Ray's lectures are recognized by scientists as among the best relating to travel and he himself is considered an authority on interior South America. He has lectured in all the countries on the globe, carrying with him a collection of Indian curios and relics that cost a king's ransom to collect.
A lecture that instructs and teaches is that of Dr. Ray's. Don't fail to hear him on Monday evening, October 18th, in Grange Hall. Admission, 25 cents; children, 10 cents.

Some Big Crops in North Dakota.
Lot R. Evans of Petrel, North Dakota, and well known in Centre county, reports some big crops raised in that section. One farmer reports 100 bushels of oats to the acre and another 87. A field of Marquis wheat yielded 54 bushels per acre; 20 acres of barley yielded 920 bushels, and a 17-acre field of speltz produced 1770 bushels.
Mr. Evans doesn't say anything about his own crops and those of his sons living close by, but as they are first class farmers and have large land holdings, they no doubt have crops showing large yields also.

COULDN'T FIND A PIANO AS GOOD AS THE WEAVER.

"I have just closed the sale of a Weaver Style 57 Piano. I have had competition in this sale with every piano dealer in this town. After the man saw the Weaver and I showed him the inside and explained the way it is built, he went around to look at the others offered for sale in Bridgeport. He couldn't find anything as good as this Weaver Piano."
Yours very truly,
H. S. PIQUETTE,
Bridgeport, Conn.

There are 12 dealers in Bridgeport and practically every piano of standing is sold by them. The genuine merit of the Weaver Piano is evident to all critical persons. The Weaver Piano is made right here in Pennsylvania by the old established Weaver Organ & Piano Co., of York.
