

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS.

J. Q. A. Kennedy Drops Dead in Yard at Home Sunday Morning.—Peter D. Phillips of Colyer Expires in His Auto While on Trip.

The announcement of the sudden death of J. Q. A. Kennedy at his home west of Centre Hall, on Sunday morning, came as a shock to his many friends and acquaintances. Mr. Kennedy had partaken of a hearty breakfast after which he walked from his home to the chicken house carrying a pail of water. On his return he was suddenly seized with an apoplectic stroke and fell prone to the ground, face downward. In this position his wife found him at 8:45 o'clock.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at his late home by Rev. J. J. Glenn, Presbyterian minister, of Carlisle. At the grave in the Centre Hall cemetery the Masonic order had full charge of the last rites, Mr. Kennedy having been a member of Old Fort Lodge No. 537.

John Quincy Adams Kennedy was a son of Henry and Mary Jane Kennedy and was born in Callensburg, Clarion county, October 14, 1850, therefore had he lived he would have celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary today (Thursday). In 1878 he came to Centre Hall and started in the jewelry and watch repairing business. In 1890 he moved to Johnstown and ten years later returned to this place where he again engaged in this line of work and remained here ever since. For some years, however, he has done very little work as a jeweler, having lived partially retired. He was an excellent mechanic and a well versed man. He was twice married, his surviving wife whom he married in 1883, having been Ada Lingle. To this union two daughters survive; namely, Mrs. Ed. L. Bartholomew of Altoona, and Miss Mary, at home. One daughter—Mrs. Emma Coover of Johnstown—survives to the former marriage. The only surviving members of his parents' family are a sister, Mrs. Sarah Everhart, of Franklinville, and a half-sister, Mrs. David Connell, of Los Angeles, California.

Peter D. Phillips.

Peter D. Phillips, the well known paper hanger and painter, of Colyer, died on Sunday afternoon while seated in his automobile on his way home from a day's visit to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Fultz, at Milroy. Mr. Phillips, in company with his wife, his son Frank, and daughter, Miss Margaret, were in the vicinity of the mountain bridge in the Seven Mountains when the car was stopped to fill the radiator tank with water. Mr. Phillips performed this work himself, and five minutes later was dead. He had been a sufferer with droopy and heart trouble for several years and was able to do but little work in his line during the past summer.

Funeral services will be held this (Thursday) morning at his late residence and burial made in the cemetery at Tusseyville, Rev. B. B. Jones of the Reformed church officiating.

Mr. Phillips was born near Spring Mills on the now Henry Lingle place, May 13, 1851, consequently was in his sixty-fifth year. For the past eighteen years he has lived in Potter township, in the vicinity of Colyer, where he owned a neat home. He was a skilled workman in his trade, a man of high moral character and was a member of the Reformed church. Quiet and unassuming in manner, he held the respect of a large number of friends who will learn of his death with regret. Surviving him are his wife, who before marriage was Sarah Mulberger, and six children; namely, Mrs. W. A. Klinefelter, of Boalsburg; Miss Ella, Mrs. Fred Fultz, of Milroy; Frank and Miss Margaret, at home. Also one brother, John Phillips, of Kansas City, Kansas.

LOCALS

Mrs. Mattie Krape of Sunbury is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Geary.

W. O. Gramley's sale of live stock, held at Spring Mills on Tuesday, resulted in the selling of all of the ninety head of stock at good figure. Up until Wednesday Mr. Gramley was unable to give any definite figures on the sale.

The Semi-annual Sunday school convention of the eleventh district will be held in the Methodist church, Spring Mills, Friday, October 22. There will be two sessions, afternoon and evening. All Sunday-schools are urged to elect delegates.

Clyde Carney, the prisoner who escaped from the Western Penitentiary at Rockview early Thursday morning, has not yet been apprehended, according to information received from the officials at the institution Wednesday afternoon. Carney is a young American.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Smith of this place, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wieland and daughter, Mildred, of Linden Hall made a trip in Mr. Smith's King car on Sunday to Bloomsburg where they visited their daughter, Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Edwina Wieland, who are students in the institution at that place. They covered over two hundred miles on the trip without the semblance of a mishap to the car.

DEATHS.

John Fry, oldest member of the family of Cap. and Mrs. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mill, died on the old Fry homestead early Tuesday morning of a complication of diseases, aged fifty years within one month. He is the first of the ten children of Mr. and Mrs. Fry to be called by death. Funeral services will be held on Friday morning at his late home and burial in the new cemetery at Pine Grove Mills, Rev. Dr. A. T. Atkins of Selinsgrove, and Rev. W. H. Traub of State College, officiating.

Deceased was an active worker in the Lutheran church all his life and held the office of deacon and trustee for a number of years. He was a loyal Odd Fellow and was present at the banquet following the installation of officers at the meeting last Saturday evening. His health for the past year had been so poor that he was compelled to give up farming. He was well known throughout Penna Valley and especially in Potter township where he worked on the Rhonemede farm when Hor. L. Rhone occupied the place. Honest and industrious at all times and possessing an unblemished character, he leaves behind a large number of friends who sincerely mourn his loss. Surviving him is his wife, nee Anna Fortney. No children were born to their union, but his parents and the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Charles Dale, State College; Mrs. John Kimport, Boalsburg; Dr. Hugh Fry, Columbia, Tenn.; W. H. Fry, Tacoma, Wash.; C. M. Fry, Mrs. Lizzie Malory, Altoona; Mrs. W. H. Goss, Tyrone; Mack Fry, Fred Fry, Pine Grove Mills.

Mrs. Marior, wife of Rev. Ralph M. Illingsworth, at one time pastor of the M. E. Church in this place, died at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. M. Snyder, near Pine Grove Mills, Saturday afternoon, of typhoid fever. She was the only child and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. and Celia Archy Snyder and was born where she died on New Year's day, 1872. December 20, 1894, she was united in marriage to Rev. Ralph M. Illingsworth, who survives her with two sons and one daughter. She was a member of the Presbyterian church from girlhood and a faithful worker in all its branches. She was esteemed by a large circle of friends here and elsewhere who deplore her sudden death. Funeral services were held at the Snyder home Tuesday morning, and interment made in the new cemetery at Pine Grove Mills, Rev. Samuel Martin of State College officiating. Funeral private.

Jacob P. Bame, a life-long resident of Aaronsburg, died at his home Sunday morning of dropsy. He was in his sixty-ninth year. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in the Lutheran church and interment made in Millheim, Rev. D. M. Geesey officiating. Mr. Bame was a carpet weaver by trade and followed his occupation up until almost the very last. He was twice married, both wives having preceded him to the grave. Nine children survive to the first union and one son, William, at home, survives to the second wife.

T. C. Rumberger of Phillipsburg dropped dead Sunday afternoon in the lane on the farm occupied by Wilbur Tibbenr, his nephew, in Buffalo Run, where he, in company with his wife and several friends, had gone to spend the day. A paralytic stroke caused his death. He was buried at Phillipsburg Wednesday afternoon. His wife and six children survive. He was a Civil War veteran and was aged seventy-six years.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney and daughter Margaret, were an auto party who enjoyed a run to Milton, Williamsport and Lock Haven, one day last week.

A box of extra fine Havana perfects received in the mail yesterday morning came as a reward to L. L. Smith for his having returned to its owner, John Childs, a drummer, a lost traveling bag which Mr. Smith picked up on the road at Pleasant Gap.

Mr. George Bitner of Green Castle and Miss Molly Shelly of Mercersburg are spending a week or more among relatives in Penna Valley. The ladies are cousins of Elmer Royer of Earlstown and Mrs. Frank Grerer, and are at present at the home of the former.

A coincidence in the death of three men within a radius of a few miles, on Sunday, is that all dropped dead, according to information received from the officials at the institution Wednesday afternoon. Carney is a young American.

The 2000 mark in hunters' licenses was passed on Wednesday, more than that number having been issued by Treasurer J. P. Miller up until Wednesday afternoon. Tuesday was a busy day when more than 250 hunters applied for the red tag. The number of licenses issued this year is already greatly in excess of the number issued last year and is due to the open season on wild turkeys.

Merchant and Mrs. C. F. Emery and four children made a run in their Regal car to Millinburg and Middleburg on Sunday, visiting a sister of Mrs. Emery at the former place and a brother of Mr. Emery at the latter place. Thomas Foss was at the wheel.

The famous Tyrone band with Miss Dorothy Wilson, soloist, will appear at the Bellefonte Opera House, Friday evening, October 22nd. This band is known as one of the best musical organizations in Central Pennsylvania and their performances always delight their hearers. Prices of admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Heckman and daughter, Miss Catharine, and Miss Marion Trent, of Johnstown, stepped for a short time at the home of Mrs. Heckman's father, Merchant H. W. Kremer, Friday evening. The party were on their way to Lamar to attend a reunion of the Heckman families and were traveling in their Cadillac car.

Two large window shades were placed in the twelve-foot plate glass windows in the Reporter building, by F. V. Goodhart, last week. The one shade is used by the postoffice and has the following inscription in gilt text letters: "U. S. Postoffice, Centre Hall" and the other adorns the handsome window of the printing office, bearing in bold gothic the legend, "The Centre Reporter."

Dr. C. F. Smith and Mrs. F. M. Sharp of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Miss Sarah Dennis of Clintondale were guests over Sunday at the old home of the former at Centre Hill. They also spent several hours at the home of the writer. Sunday evening Miss Dennis, who is in her fifteenth year, sang at a session of the Luther League. She has a delightful soprano voice and strikes F in clear tone. She will give music special attention on fleshing her other studies.

Guy W. Jacobs of York spent Friday at the home of his mother in this place, enroute to Ohio where he spent a day before returning to Fort Worth, Texas, at which place he had supervision of the erection of a large ice-making plant. Mr. Jacobs was called back to Fort Worth owing to the failure of the machine to make clear ice, which Mr. Jacobs says is not the fault of the plant but of the water found in that state. Certain elements found in the water, which in that country is derived from artesian wells, are impossible of dissolution even with specially designed machinery, consequently the ice instead of being clear takes on a snow white appearance. Such problems as these are what make an engineer's bed anything but one of roses.

Friday evening about a dozen members of Old Fort Lodge, No. 537, F. & A. M., some of whom were accompanied by their families, motored to State College where they were the guests of the Acacia Club, a student Masonic fraternity, at a banquet and smoker. A most enjoyable social event it was to those present and it is planned to have a representation of the club present at Centre Hall next Monday night, the regular meeting night of the local Masonic order. Those present from this place were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bozay, I. M. Arny and family, the late J. Q. A. Kennedy, W. C. Bozay, Charles Flink, Prof. W. A. Kriss, Dr. H. H. Longwell, and Dr. G. W. Hosterman.
