

LOCALS

J. W. Brown and Mr. Taylor of Millroy were in Centre Hall on business on Saturday.

Miss Marion Barnes left on Monday for New York City where she will spend the winter.

Farmer Samuel Durs, at Earlytown, is preparing to erect a lime stack which will yield 2000 bushels of lime.

One of the best musical numbers ever booked by the Centre Hall Lecture Course is the Davenny Festival Quintet which will appear in Grange Arcadia Saturday evening, October 30th.

Mrs. C. P. Long, Mrs. Austin Long, Miss Miriam Long, Mr. Robert Musser, and Dean Braucht, all of Spring Mills, were an auto party to Centre Hall Saturday and made a brief stop at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith and four children, and Miss Anna Straub, of Bellefonte, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. Smith's sister and brother, Mrs. Charles Pennington and T. L. Smith.

Boyo E. Potter of near Centre Hall, accompanied his wife to McAlavey's Fort, Huntingdon county, where she is visiting her father, Frank Rudy. While in that section Mr. Potter spent a bit of time hunting and succeeded in killing a wild turkey, a young gobbler.

Squire Cyrus Brungart and G. H. Emerick made a trip to Pittsburgh and its environs, last week, in the former's new Allen car. On their return, Saturday, they were accompanied by Mrs. Brungart, who had spent a week or more with her daughters in the Pittsburgh district.

Mr. Rose Stover, who for the past month has been making her home with Mrs. Eliza Alexander in Centre Hall, on Monday forenoon had the misfortune to break one of the bones in the right arm at a point above the wrist. Mr. Stover had been washing windows, and on descending a step ladder fell from the second step.

The Hagens, the crack carpenters from Spring Mills, are erecting a fraternity house and a private dwelling house at State College. The latter structure is for Mr. F. H. Glenn, daughter of F. A. Foreman, and is located by the side of the Foreman property. The Hagens force consists of Messrs. John F. and Harvey D. Hagen, and three sons of the former.

William Bower of near Tusseyville brought to this office on Saturday two apples which appeared as though they had been recently picked and were ready to be put away for the winter, but the truth of the matter is that they were last year's fruit. Deep red in color and firm in flesh, they retained their original flavor despite their more than three hundred and sixty-five days.

Oscar Schmoeyer, the clever Dutchman who came into print because of his working a number of business men in this and adjoining counties, last summer, has finally come to grief in his arrest at Pottsville last week. He is the same fellow who in July hired a horse and buggy of G. E. Mensch, the Millheim liveryman, failing to return. Mr. Mensch procured his property after Schmoeyer's apprehension last week. The wholesale horse thief admits to sixty-three thefts of horses in his time.

William Keller, the rural mail carrier, was granted a two weeks' vacation by Uncle Sam, and on Friday he, accompanied by his wife and father-in-law, Alfred Durs, left in Mr. Keller's car, for a trip westward to Pittsburgh, stopping enroute with Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Goodhart at Johnstown, also with Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Deltzel, at Pleasant Unity, the ladies in each case being sisters of Mrs. Keller. They will be gone for two weeks. During Mr. Keller's absence the rural delivery service is being kept at standard under the care of Christ Keller.

Messrs. D. R. Foreman, Francis Speer, W. H. Noll, and J. Frank Smith, four good and true Democrats who are seeking re-election to their respective offices, took advantage of a Saturday night to meet a large number of voters in Centre Hall. They came over the mountain in the car of W. Harrison Walker, Esq., and before returning had clasped the hands of a large number of the Penns Valley farmers who are more than satisfied with the splendid records these officials have made during their four years in office and who are ready to put them back for another term.

Monday night Old Fort Lodge, No. 537, F. & A. M., tendered a reception of an informal character to a number of members of the Asacia club, a student Masonic body at State College, who a few weeks ago entertained in grand style a number of the members of the local lodge at State College. A few visitors from lower Penns and Brush Valleys were present, among whom were the following: W. S. Shelton, Lloyd Stover, of Millheim; C. M. Smith, Mr. Kerstetter, of Coburn; Millie Moyer, of Rebersburg; Byron Hazel, of Madisonburg; Dr. E. B. Braucht, of Spring Mills; also F. M. Torrence, James Smith and Mr. Jackson, of State College.

FOR TREASURER

James E. Harter

Mr. Harter is, like all the rest of the candidates on the Democratic ticket, a man to be proud of. He belongs to a family which for generations has been Democratic in its politics, honest in its dealings with its fellow men. Born in Penn to township, educated in the public schools, and at the Spring Mills academy, for a time he was engaged in the general mercantile business which he conducted with success for about seventeen years. He then sold out his store and for some years has been engaged in farming with much success. He is an excellent business man, in every way qualified to carefully, economically, and honestly manage and control the finances of the county. Courteous and obliging in manner, it will be a pleasure to transact business with him as a county official. Mr. Harter is and has been a member of the Lutheran church for years and is a clean, sober, upright man of the very best of character. His face bears no evidence that he is given to the use of intoxicating drinks. If the voters of Centre county want a clean, sober man for County Treasurer they have him in Mr. Harter.

For District Attorney

D. Paul Fortney, young, energetic, capable, and who was elected to this office four years ago and who for this length of time has undoubtedly performed the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the Court and the people, should not only willingly but cheerfully be accorded another term. It is due him.

In his official capacity he has prosecuted all manner of pleas on the part of the Commonwealth openly and before all the public. In a large number of cases he succeeded in having persons, charged with the commission of crime, under the Act of April 15, 1907, waive the finding of a grand jury and agreeing to enter a plea of guilty before the Judge of the court during the time between sessions of the court. Proceeding in this manner saves to the people a great bill of cost. In all cases so disposed of it would have been necessary to bring to court from one to seven or eight, or more, witnesses. The waiving of the finding of a bill of indictment by a grand jury and the entry of a plea of guilty avoided all this cost.

Some of the defendants so charged with a crime were insistent upon their innocence and did not come down until the District Attorney lay before them the evidence he would produce against them if they persisted in their statements of innocence. With much skill and tact the evidence was gathered, the criminal confronted therewith, with the result that the crime was confirmed, and the cost of a trial saved to the public.

Criminal cases that are disposed of in this way never get to the eye of the public. The District Attorney is nevertheless entitled to full credit for the work he has done in the interest of and for the benefit of the public.

D. H. Foreman, for Prothonotary

This candidate is so well known to the public, to be a clean, sober man, a member of the Reformed church, genial and courteous to all persons having business transactions with him. He is a most capable and efficient Prothonotary. It has been the custom in Centre county for years, where a man has been faithful in the discharge of his official duty during the first term, to accord him a re-election. Mr. Foreman is entitled to a re-election because he has been one of the best prothonotaries in the history of the county. He is a gentleman of most worthy type and whose genial, courteous and accommodating ways have won for him many friends who will be glad to aid in his re-election. Mr. Foreman is, moreover, an entirely sober man, a very necessary element in a man who is to handle and keep unmixed the records of his office.

J. Frank Smith, for Register

J. Frank Smith is as genial and companionable a gentleman as you can meet anywhere or at any time. He is not only a good official, kind, accommodating, and considerate of all who have any business or social intercourse with him, but no man on either ticket is so useful and active a church worker. When necessary he can run a whole service himself, and do it well, to the great gratification of all who may be present. Of course, Smith, like all the rest of the ticket, is a sober, upright, straight going man, with a pure private life and public life, and should of course, be re-elected.

When it comes to Recorder, Mr. Speer so far outdistances Mr. Brown as a courteous and obliging officer that no one ought to hesitate to give his support for a second term.

The sneak thief was again busy in the vicinity of Smulton a few weeks ago. He stole all of farmer Hiram Wert's lard and quite recently took a lot of sugar and lima beans. These thieves have been heard on Mr. Wert's larder within the past year; quite a lot of meat and other articles have been stolen from him in that time.

The other accident occurred at Millintown, the victim being Jonsa Hertzler, aged fifty years. He was shot in the abdomen by a fellow hunter. His condition is serious.

What they think of Judge Orvis in Bellefonte: Bellefonte usually gives a Republican majority of two hundred and fifty; Judge Orvis carried it by fifty majority.

FOR AUDITOR

S. H. Hoy

Remember, you south-side voters, if you want to see familiar faces in the court house offices after the first of 1916, vote for the candidates for court office in Brush and Penna Valleys. Everyone of them is a first-class fellow, and you will be mighty glad to greet them when you have business in the Prothonotary's, in the Register, in the Treasurer's and in the Auditor's office. Go to it, you south-side man. Home pride ought to count for much.

Eliminating politics, has anybody the heart to say that Quigley is qualified for the office of President Judge? If anybody is saying it, nobody believes it.

On the other hand, does anyone deny that Orvis is one of the best qualified Judges in Pennsylvania? No, everyone admits of his superior qualifications.

George H. Richards, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, ought to have the united support of his party for that office. He will make an ideal sheriff, and will be thoroughly capable of conducting the business of the office in a manner creditable to the county.

Chestnut, which are now on sale at the different stores, are unusually wormy, and the only way to account for the defect is that probably they were gathered on Sunday.

Complaints are being made of rowdyism, rough talk, and cursing around on the streets on Sunday. It seems to the writer that in view of God's goodness in permitting us to have peace and happiness at a time when the rest of the world is embroiled in a bloody war, we should show our appreciation by at least keeping the Sabbath day holy.

Board of Education Can't Find a Better Piano Than the Weaver.

When we decided to install a piano in the Graded School we determined to secure the best and so began a careful investigation of the merit and claim of merit of the various makes on the market. We found the Weaver Piano here in Hartwell so satisfactory in every way that they made a profound impression on us.

After concluding there is no better piano than the Weaver, we placed our order for a style 27 Upright Grand. The piano has now arrived and is in the school. A careful test by our teacher of music and by leading musicians shows we were not mistaken, for it has received nothing but praise. We are positive we have secured as fine an instrument as it is possible to build.

Wishing you success with this splendid instrument, we are, Sincerely yours, BOARD OF EDUCATION OF HARTWELL, GA.

By W. J. Halley, President; R. C. Thornton, Vice President; S. H. Burns, Secretary.

This Board of Education, made up of seven of the leading citizens of Hartwell, Ga., made a thorough investigation. They are discriminating men and decided to pay the price for the Weaver only after being thoroughly convinced that it is superior to the many lower priced pianos.

Let us show you how much better it is.
