

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. Rescu, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Going It Too Hard

We are inclined nowadays to "go it too hard;" to overwork, worry, eat and drink too much, and to neglect our rest and sleep. This fills the blood with uric acid. The kidneys weaken and then it's a siege of backache, dizzy, nervous spells, rheumatic pains and distressing urinary disorders. Don't wait for worse troubles. Strengthen the kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

A Pennsylvania Case

John Sloes, 96 Europa St., Allentown, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "I could hardly stoop on account of the dull pains through my kidneys and I got weak and nervous. My kidneys acted irregularly and the least cold in a day the trouble worse. I lost weight and almost gave up despondently. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me after everything else failed. I haven't had a sign of kidney trouble since."

GERMANY'S ANSWER

Extract from Wilson's note of May 13:
The United States "confidently expects that the Imperial German Government will disavow the acts of which the United States Government complains."

Extract from Bernstorff's note of October 5:
"The Imperial German Government regrets and disavows the act."
Extract from Wilson's note of May 13:
The United States expects that the German Government "will make reparation so far as reparation is possible for injuries which are without measure."

Extract from Bernstorff's note of October 5:
"My government is prepared to pay an indemnity for American lives which to its deepest regret have been lost on the Arabic."
Extract from Wilson's note of May 13:
The United States expects that Germany "will take steps to prevent the recurrence of anything so obviously subversive of the principles of warfare for which the Imperial German Government have in the past so wisely and so firmly contended."

Extract from Bernstorff's note of October 5:
"The orders issued by His Majesty, the Emperor, have been made so stringent that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question."
Peace with honor, through patience, perseverance and reason! What would war secure that has not been gained by Wilson diplomacy?

A MISFIT CABINET

What a crowd of ignorant theorists Wilson has got together in his cabinet!

There's McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury. The only practical thing he has ever done was to originate and manage the building of the $100,000,000 tunnels under the Hudson River, New York. Obviously any school boy could perform that trifle any morning before breakfast. Imagine the absurdity of doing it in the open as a business enterprise, without letting Wall Street gamble with the money!

Then consider Redfield, Secretary of Commerce. All that he has done is to build up a great manufacturing enterprise, employing thousands of men, selling in every market of the world, paying good wages, possessing a famously efficient organization, and actually willing to have the tariff reduced on its own products. How could an experience like that possibly qualify Redfield for handling business problems?

Houston is another example. Born and bred a farmer, for years a scientific experimenter in agricultural matters, a student and teacher of modern agricultural methods—who would expect him to know anything about his job as Secretary of Agriculture?

Then there's Wilson, Secretary of Labor. Breaker-boy and miner, official of the International Mine Workers' Union, chairman of the Labor Committee in Congress—what possible experience has he had to give him an insight into the views and aspirations and problems of the working men of the country?

What's the use of discussing Lansing, Lane and Garrison and the rest? Don't you see what a bunch of misfits they are? No wonder the country is going to the demitition bow-wow.

The purpose of a protective tariff is to shut out imports—because they might compete with American products. The higher the tariff, the less the imports. The less the imports, the less the revenue. If we had a Republican high protective tariff, without an income tax, how much deeper in the hole would the government treasury be today? Submitted for the consideration of Republicans and others who are worrying about alleged treasury deficits.

Harry Mackey, Governor Brumbaugh's recent appointee as chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, and Vore's handyman in Philadelphia, has just given another indication of his high political ideals by trying to deceive the voters into voting the gang ticket, by pre-empting the title "Frankland," which is deceptively similar to the title "Franklin," under which the reformers will make their fight.

Civil service reform is a virtue when Democrats are in office, but an awful bore and a negligible quantity when Republicans get in. We refer to the appointments made by Governor Brumbaugh in the State government, and the frank promises of the Republican candidate for Mayor of Philadelphia, Governor Brumbaugh appoints to State offices requiring special fitness and training, ward bosses and county bosses selected for him by Senator Penrose and the local machines. Tom Smith, candidate for Mayor, openly says that Republican office-seekers will be placed in every job in City Hall. Yet there is a civil service law in force in Philadelphia, and every man now holding a job in City Hall is there because he has passed a competitive examination upon his qualifications and experience. Consistency, thou art a jewel!

His Extreme Tactfulness.

"You have been observing our little boy all the evening, Mrs. Gloom," said Popjoy. "Now, can you tell us what he is very likely to become when he grows up?" "Yes, if you can stand the shock!" replied J. Fuller Gloom, who has a bright though evil mind.—Kansas City Star.

THE ISSUES

WATCHFUL WAITING.

(An Editorial by William H. Taft)

"Our Mexican neighbor on the south has been disturbed by two revolutions and these have necessarily brought a strain upon our relations because of the losses sustained by American citizens, both in property and life, due to the lawlessness which could not be prevented under conditions of civil war. The pressure for intervention at times has been great, and grounds upon which, it is said, we might have intervened have been urged upon us, but this Administration has been conscious that one hostile step in intervention and the passing of the border by one regiment of troops would mean war with Mexico, the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, the loss of thousands of lives in the tranquilization of that country, with all the subsequent problems that would arise as to its disposition after we found ourselves in complete armed possession."

"In order to avoid the plain consequences, it seemed the course of patriotism and of wisdom to subject ourselves and our citizens to some degree of suffering and inconvenience and to pass over with a strong protest and a claim for damages even those injuries inflicted on our peaceful citizens in our own territory along the border, by flying bullets in engagements between the governmental and the revolutionary forces on the Mexican side. It is easy to arouse popular indignation over an instance of this character. It is easy to take advantage of it for the purpose of justifying aggressive action, and it is easy to cultivate political support and popularity by a warlike and truculent policy, but with the familiarity that we have had in the carrying out of such a war in the Philippines and in Cuba, no one with a sense of responsibility to the American people would involve them in the almost unending burden and thankless task of enforcing peace upon these 15,000,000 of people fighting among themselves, when they would necessarily all turn against us at the first manifestation of our purpose to intervene. I am very sure that the course of self-restraint the Administration has pursued, in respect to Mexico, will vindicate itself in the pages of history."

Ex-President Taft wrote these words in accepting the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1912. It is a sane, fair, candid statement of the principles that guided him, and have since guided President Wilson, in the treatment of the Mexican problems. They apply as truly today as they applied then. They completely vindicate the Wilson policy, and refute its partisan critics.

QUESTION BOX

Space will hereafter be reserved in these columns for the publication of questions and answers concerning political affairs. Any reader is privileged to submit questions, mailing them to Democratic State Headquarters, 147 South Broad Street, Philadelphia.

The following conditions must be observed:

- (1) Every question must bear the full name and true address of sender. No names will be published unless with special permission.
- (2) Questions must pertain strictly to matters of fact or of policy. No consideration will be given to personalities or candidates, or to trivial or frivolous questions.
- (3) Questions should be so stated as to permit of a brief, concise answer.

Question: "Why is it that the Republican Party during the last forty years, when it had full power, did nothing to build up the merchant marine, about which it is shouting now?"

Answer: Give it up. Ask Penrose.

Question: "Why did the Democratic Party pass the Seamen's Bill, which the Republican papers are hammering?"

Answer: The bill was introduced by a Republican and passed both houses in its final shape by the votes of all parties, with only a few scattering votes against it. More later.

Question: To what extent did the Underwood tariff bill affect imports and exports during its first year of operation?"

Answer: In 1913, its first year, the exports of American goods were the highest in history, and in 1914 exports were next highest in history, despite the foreign war. Imports increased slightly, the increase amounting to about 2 per cent. of our consumption.

Now is the time for anti-Penrose, anti-gang, anti-farmer voters to show their colors by defeating the representatives of the Penrose machine who are on the Republican county tickets. A vote for the Democratic county ticket is a vote against machines. To destroy the Penrose machine, it is necessary to destroy the machine's county branch, which is the source of the State machine's strength and the source of its supplies.

The Philadelphia North American, which cannot be accused of prejudice in favor of the Wilson Administration, admits that prosperity has come to Philadelphia in gigantic waves, and what's more, it deliberately asserts that even those traces hit hardest by the European war, are having boom times. What becomes of the argument that the war is responsible for all our prosperity?

His Dear Young Friends,
"Ah—h'm—my dear young friends," said the statesman, who had kindling consented at the earnest solicitation of the superintendent to address a few helpful words to the Sabbath school, "looking back over my long career, I am convinced that the only way to win true success is to deal honorably with one's fellow men, to follow the dictates of conscience, to heed the teachings of the Golden Rule, and to walk in the straight and narrow way. But—ah!—would any little boy or girl like to ask me a question?"
"Well, say," spoke up one of the dear young friends, "ain't you kinda sorry you didn't find it out sooner?"—Kansas City Star.
