Geo. H. Richards, for Sheriff.

A business man and citizen of Philipsburg, known and certified by the people among whom he lives as an honest man, square in all his dealings with his fellow citizens. His location is fortunate, for it gives the extreme west end of the county a representative on the ticket and one worth to represent any constituency. While that end of the county has had candidates on one or the other of the tickets it has had no candidate for Sheriff since 1875 when Levi Munson was chosen sheriff. There is no question about his competency to fill the office.

He has been a member of the council of his home town for many years and in that position has served on every important committee of the council at one time or another, in the discharge of his duties as a councilman and to the satisfaction of his constituents.

It is a fact that no officer to be elected on the county ticket this fall has so important and far reaching duties as that of the Sheriff. He not only executes writs of great importance, but his responsibility in the handling of large sums of money is very great. Besides that he is the conservator of the peace of the community.

Mr. Richards is strongly backed by those who know him best, and they commend him with confidence to the voters of the county assuring them that he is in every way worthy of their support.

The ticket presented by the Democrats of the county is, with the exception of George H. Richard, the candidate for Sheriff, and James E. Harter, the candidate for Treasurer, the same ticket presented to the voters of the county four years ago and which they at that time triumphantly elected.

Richards and Harter, the new men, being men of fine character, good business men and moral worth, and the men who have been re-nominated all having been faithful, prompt and honest in the discharge of their official duties, there exists no good reason why the people of the county should not elect the whole ticket put up by the voters of the Democratic party.

For many years the south side has been claiming more recognition on the Democratic ticket. It is now well represented, and it is now the duty of the south side voter to go to the polls and see that their neighbors are elected.

It is not enough to think well of your candidates, you must attend the election and vote for them.

Deaths of Centre Countians.

Henry H. Montgomery, a life-long resident of Bellefonte, and a Civil war veteran, died of neuralgia of the heart, aged seventy-four years.

Martin Kearns, Jr., died in Bellefonte, aged sixty-eight years.

Mrs. William Long died in Howard after a long illness.

Mrs. Minnie M. Mingle died in State College, aged thirty-seven years.

The death of A. Zacharias Gettig occurred at his home at Bradford on Wednesday, October 13th. Deceased was a native of Centre county, having been born in Miles township some sixty years ago. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Yearick, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Yearick, late of Marion township, and a number of children. He also leaves one brother, Postmaster S. B. Gettig, of Madisonburg, and two sisters: Mrs. Susan Allen, of Mill Hill, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wolfe, of Orlando, Oklahoma.

FOREST FIRE PREVENTION IN CENTRE COUNTY.

Roads Being Cut In Preparation for Fall Forest Fire Season.—Individuals and Clubs Giving Aid in the Work of Fire Prevention.

About 250 miles of roads, trails and fire lanes are being opened up on the State's 79,000 acres of Forest Reserves in Centre county in preparation for the fall forest fire season which will soon be here. Roads are cut open from 15 to 20 feet in width and trails and fire lanes average 8 to 15 feet in width. To provide ready means of access and to serve as fire breaks, these roads and trails must be cut open at least once a year. The sprout growth resulting is usually very dense and vigorous, as the growth of chestnut, chestnut oak, maple and most other hardwood species generally is. The average height of the sprouts along these roads after one year is from three to four feet and some chestnut sprouts have been noted ten feet in height in a single season. When it is impossible to cut open these roads each year, generally because of lack of sufficient funds for the purpose, it is often difficult to see where the old road had been cut. To serve for protective purposes in fighting forest fire, all roads, trails and fire lanes should be opened up each year.

Co-operation in the matter of prevention of forest fire, which each year destroy thousands of dollars worth of timber and property, is absolutely essential if Pennsylvania is to take the place it once occupied among the timber producing states. More timber means more industries, more labor and more prosperity. Every individual who goes into the woods this fall for any purpose can help in this work by being very careful with matches, cigars, cigarettes, pipe ashes and the camp fire. Be sure that these are extinguished thoroughly. Thoughtlessness and carelessness cause four-fifths of the forest fires. There should be no more reason for forest fires than there are for fires in dwellings and houses.

Besides the work which the State is doing to prevent forest fire, many individuals and clubs are aiding in the work. The hunting clubs are particularly desirous that there should be no forest fires, because of the destruction and driving out of the game. A member of a Centre county club has offered and paid one dollar extra to each of the four men to arrive first at a forest fire. Many members, too, have given the use of their automobiles to take men to the fire quickly. This is absolutely important. The sooner a fire is reached, the smaller it is and the more quickly it can be controlled and extinguished. Whenever anyone discovers a fire anywhere in the forests or woods, he should immediately report it to the nearest fire warden, firester or other person in authority. Every hour lost at the beginning of a fire means more labor and expense to put it out and more and greater damage to timber, the young growth and the community in general. Forest fires in Pennsylvania must be stopped if you desire Game, Fish, Forests and Prosperity for the future.

WALTER D. LUDWIG,
Boalsburg, Pa., Oct. 9, 1915.

No one claims that the Democratic board of county commissioners paid the large debt left by the Republican board out of their own pockets, but they did manage the affairs of the county on less money so that a large surplus from the taxes was available to pay the notes the Republican commissioners gave to raise funds to pay off ill-advised bargains.

The Careless Hunter Again.

Oliver Way, a prominent young farmer of Stormstown, was shot by a careless hunter Tuesday of last week as he was crossing the Munoy Mountain with a team, says the State College Times. Way had stopped for a few minutes to wind his horses and just as he slackened the reins he was struck in the face and throat with shot, several of the shot going clear through his throat, causing painful and perhaps fatal injuries. He was taken in charge by a passing farmer who rendered all the assistance possible. Way was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital Wednesday, where he lies in a critical condition.

Penn State Facing a Crisis.

Lack of funds at Pennsylvania State College, caused chiefly by the cut of Governor Brumbaugh in the biennial appropriation asked by the school for the next two years, has placed the institution in such straitened circumstances that drastic action has been determined upon by former students of the school. A call has been sent to Harrisburg as well as every section of this state and most of the states of the union to alumni, asking them to meet at the college Friday evening, November 5th.

EVERYBODY knows there are good eggs and bad eggs, fresh eggs and stale eggs. You tell the difference by taste and smell—and price.

But how about kerosene? There is good and bad kerosene just the same as eggs. How can you tell the difference? Certainly not by taste or smell. No, nor by price, for you can buy the best kerosene sold at no greater cost than the common kind if you will ask your grocer for

ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL

Rayolight burns longest and brightest and produces the greatest heat. A scientific process of refining prevents it from charring wicks or causing smoke and soot. Neither will it create unpleasant odors when burning. It is the most economical kerosene you can buy.

Insist on having Rayolight. Your grocer can get it for you just as easy as any other kind.

How'd you set about getting rid of a dab of paint on the window pane? The easiest thing in the world—rub it off with Atlantic Rayolight Oil. Never thought of that, eh? But do you know another use? If you do think one up, hold it for a few days and maybe you can exchange it for something your heart desires. You'll see something about it in these advertisements.
