COURAGE ESSENTIAL TO HEALTH.

"The lack of which of course tends to bring us trouble, says Thomas on the Health."

Every doctor is continually finding patients who have some serious ailment which has been neglected until the possibilities of cure are greatly reduced or entirely hopeless.

Want of courage and not lack of knowledge that there is something radically wrong with them has, in the majority of instances, kept these patients from seeking a physician's aid.

This is one of many instances that might be cited to show how essential courage is to health. It is want of moral courage, in many instances, which leads a man who is perfectly aware that alcoholic stimulants are breaking him down physically and often mentally, to continue to drink.

Then again every physician meets in his practice men and women who get in a blue funk over the most trivial ailment. Often enough these people worry themselves until they arrive at a state of mental and physical depression which makes them ready prey for disease.

Unquestionably there are many dangers to health which we must meet every day of our lives. It is well to know of these things in order that we may form the habit of avoiding as many of them as possible but to be ever fearful, thinking of and cringing from danger will not aid us to avoid it. The brave man is he who knows his enemy's strength, is watchful, vigilant, but not fearful.

"Cowards die many times before their deaths; The Valiant never taste of death but once."

The Davenny Festival Quintet

THE Davenny Festival Quintet, which is soon to be heard on the Lyceum course here, is one of the finest singing organizations on the platform. The quintet has an exceptional personnel, being composed of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Edson Davenny, Mr. John Seifert, Miss Edith Lattimer and Miss Elsie Pritchard, accompanist. Each one of these talented musicians had won a secure position in the musical world before associating in this great company, and the combination of talent is most extraordinary.

Mr. Davenny, baritone, and Mrs. Davenny, soprano, have a well established reputation as joint recitallists and have appeared with such artists as Christine Miller, Alice Nielsen and Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Mr. Seifert, tenor, has studied extensively in musical art centers of Europe and has frequently appeared with the Russian Symphony Orchestra and the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Lattimer, contralto, and Miss Pritchard, accompanist and piano soloist, are artists of ability and experience.

The Davenny Quintet is an organization thoroughly qualified to give adequate rendition to the very best in the line of concert music, and they will delight all hearers. They were a conspicuous success on one of the biggest Chautauqu circuits of the country during the past summer.
