

DEER SEASON AT ITS CLOSE.

From Nothing to Five Deer is the Result of Two Weeks' Hunt for Various Parties.—Bradford's Kill Two Bucks.

Yesterday (Wednesday) brought the 1915 deer season to a close. Most hunting parties left the woods on Saturday, not caring to spend two Sundays in the mountains.

From reports gathered it appears that far less bucks were slain on this side of the Seven Mountains than for several years past. True, one party killed five bucks and another four, but the great majority had to be satisfied with one lone deer, while some parties were bitterly disappointed in making no kills whatever.

While it is still impossible to give an official report of the actual number of bucks taken from the woods at this time, the following is as reliable as far as it is possible to make it so:

In the mountains about Boalsburg the best success was met by the Mc. does who shot five big bucks.

The Foster party of State College killed three bears and a wild cat.

The Riley and Raymond parties brought home nothing.

The Youngwood party, one deer.

The Washington county party, one deer.

Buffalo Run party, one deer.

The Coatsville party, one deer.

The Shingletown party, one deer.

In the Paddy Mountain district some big killings were made, no less than thirty-four deer and four bears falling to the hunters. The following were the lucky parties:

Snyder party, six deer and one bear.

Rote-Wingard, four deer, two bears.

Green Brier party, three deer.

Woodward Gun Club, four deer and a wild cat.

Woodward Volunteers, two deer.

Laurelton party, two deer.

The Millheim party killed a four-hundred pound bear and a buck.

Rebersturg party, three deer.

Catawissa party, two deer.

Northumberland party, two deer.

Look Haven party, one deer.

F. V. Vonada, one deer.

O. J. Auman, one deer.

W. C. Kerstetter, one deer.

J. R. Geartner, of Shamokin, one deer.

The Regulars of Pottery Mills killed three bucks, one of which, a five-prong, was chased within 200 yards of the village of Pottery Mills where he was downed by Frank McCoy.

The Decker party have two deer.

The Foust party have two.

The Sweetwoods killed only one deer.

The "Looners," from Colyer, were among the most successful in the hunt for deer on this side of the Seven Mountains, four nice bucks falling to their guns. They were killed by Edward Horner of Linden Hall, who got a six-prong deer; Lloyd Kerlin of New Cumberland, a spike; William Bobb of Colyer, a four-prong; William Thompson of Red Land, a five-prong. Besides the above the following were included in this party: Link Stine, Wesley Hilderbrand, William Bahr, James Neff, of Red Land; Gus Kerlin, Mr. Brown of New Cumberland; John Jordan, Fred Klinefelter, John Bubb, Bush Dippert, John Fohringer, Ralph Runkle, Edgar Miller of Colyer.

The Bradford party broke camp on Friday with two deer, which were shot by Station Agent W. F. Bradford and Guy Harshbarger.

The Mueser-Gilliland party, who were encamped on the east end of State Ridge, succeeded in killing three deer. W. O. Reaick of Milroy was a member of this party.

The Slack party, after ten days' hunt in Stone Creek, returned home empty handed.

The Shuey party killed three deer.

The Peimys crowd killed a beautiful six-prong deer.

CLOSE OF DECEMBER COURT.

Homicide Case from Snow Shoe Township Results in "Not Guilty" Verdict.

On Thursday morning the homicide case from Stob Hill, in Snow Shoe township, was heard at the December term of court. This case grew out of the killing of Nefro Slavish on October 31st, last, at Stob Hill, in Snow Shoe township. The defendants, Sophia Vozniak and Frank Vozniak, her husband, were arraigned and pled not guilty, and the selection of the jury was at once proceeded with. The Commonwealth was represented by District Attorney, D. P. Fortney and the defendants by W. G. Runkle and N. B. Spangler. Ten of the jurors were selected out of the panel when the same was exhausted, and the two remaining jurors were selected after calling ten talismans, the jury as selected being as follows:

David Rimmer, laborer, Spring John W. Kelsnyder, miller, Harris L. R. Lingle, farmer, Potter M. S. Vonada, laborer, Penn J. B. Ralston, laborer, State College John Miller, butcher, Phillipsburg Johnson Warner, farmer, Union W. E. Book, farmer, Haines Harry Bower, farmer, Haines J. O. Peters, farmer, Half Moon William Garman, clerk, talisman, Bellefonte George Morrison, retired, Unionville Boro.

After hearing the testimony from a number of witnesses, which consumed the greater part of the day, the court informed the parties that the evidence showed no elements of either first or second degree murder but would submit the case to the jury on the charge of voluntary manslaughter. The jury retired and rendered a verdict within twenty minutes of not guilty.

The grand jury made their final report stating that they had passed upon nine bills of indictment, finding seven true bills and two ignored. That the court house was in satisfactory condition excepting the cellar entrance which they recommended should be covered to prevent water from flooding the furnace floor and to make safer the outside stairway in icy weather; that they had visited the jail and recommended a new fire back in the kitchen range, a general clearing up of the jail yard, and the removal of a chicken yard from the jail yard, and that a new floor be put in the upper tier of cells at the front end of the building.
