

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

A GLASS OF SALTS WILL END KIDNEY-BACKACHE

Says Drugs Excite Kidneys and Recommends Only Salts, Particularly If Bladder Bothers You.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

Preparedness. The bride went into the kitchen of their new home and returned shortly carrying a rolling pin and a flatiron which she laid beside her twin bed. "What in the world are you doing?" asked the astonished groom. "You aren't afraid I'll beat you, are you?" "I am not afraid of anything," answered his bride. "I have not the least suspicion that you will ever be anything but sweet and kind to me. But I am a firm advocate of preparedness."—Paterson Press-Guardian.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR. To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. U. S. ASKS CODE FOR SUBMARINES

Submits Draft of Rules to Belligerents.

JUST AND FAIR FORMULA

Safety Of Noncombatants and Crew Of Merchant Ships Sought—May Intern Armed Liners—Cliché American Principles.

Washington.—A suggestion that all belligerent countries subscribe to a declaration of principles governing attacks on merchant vessels and forbidding the arming of such vessels has been made by the United States in an effort to establish in international law a general policy disposing of many of the vexatious problems arising from the development of submarine warfare.

Identical notes have gone forward asking the various countries at war to say specifically whether they are willing to join in such an agreement. The declaration of principles would provide:

"That noncombatants may expect protection under the rules of international law and the principles of humanity when traveling on merchant ships; that warning must be given before a merchantman is attacked; that belligerent-owned merchant ships must obey warnings to stop; that merchantmen shall not be fired on except in case of resistance or flight; that no merchantman shall be sunk except where it is impossible to supply a prize crew or until passengers and crew are placed in safety; that merchantmen shall not be permitted to mount arms."

Favorable responses from the belligerents would be looked on as clinching the principles of submarine warfare for which the United States has contended through its extended negotiations with Germany and Austria and at the same time disposing of a troublesome question recently accentuated by the arrival at New York of three armed Italian merchant vessels. Germany and Austria already have agreed in effect to the proposals regarding attacks on commercial ships, and Great Britain and her allies always have been understood to be in accord with the American viewpoint on that subject.

Officials pointed out that should any of the belligerents fail to agree with the proposals, the United States would have no difficulty in enforcing the principle so far as concerned vessels entering American ports. The note itself voices a warning that this Government is considering adoption of a policy under which all armed merchantmen that enter ports of the United States in the future shall be considered war vessels, subject to the established regulations governing internment.

In its note the United States calls attention to the fact that it has changed its policy toward mounting guns on merchantmen since submarines began to play such a large part in naval warfare. Officials made it clear that this change had not resulted from suggestions from any foreign government, but solely from the changed conditions.

"It was merely from a humanitarian standpoint," said one high official in discussing the note, "and in order that there might be some arrangement to save innocent lives." Whatever attitude the belligerents adopt in their replies, it was added, the United States expects to stand on the principles it has enunciated as sound international law.

CONSPIRATORS

WILL CONTINUE BLOCKADE POLICY

Allies Will Not Try to Make It Complete.

FRENCH NAVY TO CO-OPERATE

No Right To Embarrass Neutrals Whose Good Will, He Declares, Is Essential To the Allies' Victory.

London.—The result of the anxious awaited debate in the House of Commons on the blockade question is that the British government adheres to its existing policy.

A resolution introduced by Arthur Shirley Benn, Unionist member for Plymouth that the entire oceanic traffic with Germany should be prevented by a blockade, was talked out and the subject dropped, thus leaving the position exactly as before the debate, except that Parliament seemed more converted to the government policy.

Interesting figures published by the War Department partly demolished the elaborate structure raised by the newspapers, and Sir Edward Grey's effective speech appeared to finish the work thus begun.

After the Foreign Secretary had spoken Commander Bellairs said he had anticipated that nine-tenths of the House would be against Sir Edward Grey, but since his speech he had to admit nine-tenths were with him. In fact, after the Foreign Secretary sat down, the House gradually emptied, and at one time during the debate only a half a dozen members were present.

At the opening of the debate the galleries also were filled, notable visitors being the American Ambassador, the Swedish and Danish Ministers, Lord Fisher and Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to the King.

Hereafter French warships will assist British vessels in blockade duties in both the English Channel and the North Sea, participating in the examination of mails and cargoes.

In future France will be consulted on all questions concerning the blockade. Joint Anglo-French replies will be made to any protests on the subject.

WAR "ONLY BEGINNING."

Allies Will Show Superiority in Spring, Says Lloyd-George.

London.—"I think that for us the war is only beginning," said David Lloyd-George, Minister of Munitions, in an interview with the London correspondent of the Milan Secolo, "but I am absolutely confident of victory, because, although we all have made mistakes in the past, England and her Allies are now taking counsel together and will be stronger, because they are united. By next spring we shall have for the first time more munitions than the enemy and our superiority in men is unquestioned. Besides this Germany's financial position is growing worse daily."

BERLIN OFFER IS REJECTED

Proposals in Lusitania Case Unsatisfactory.

NEW NOTE BY LANSING

Will Make Clear To German Foreign Office Terms United States Insists Upon—Has Said Last Word.

Washington.—The United States rejected the German Government's proposals for settlement of the Lusitania case. Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, was summoned to the State Department by Secretary of State Lansing and advised of this decision.

Immediately thereafter Secretary Lansing began preparation of a communication to Berlin that will flatly set forth the terms of agreement insisted upon by the United States.

Count von Bernstorff will be called to the State Department to confer with Secretary Lansing before the final terms of the communication are decided upon. The German Ambassador will then cable the communication to Berlin, accompanying the communication with a request to his government for favorable consideration.

The Lusitania question will hang in the balance until a reply is received from the German Government.

It was stated in the most authoritative quarters that the question of whether the Lusitania case is to be settled rests entirely with Berlin. The United States has said the last word.

Rejection of the German Government's proposals for settlement of the Lusitania case was announced after President Wilson and his Cabinet had given the most careful consideration to them at a session lasting more than two hours.

The point of disagreement arose over the language used by Germany in meeting the demand made in the Lusitania note of July 21 that the Imperial Government "disavow the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania."

The United States wants an explicit and not an implied admission of the illegality of the Lusitania attack.

The United States also wants more than an offer from Germany to pay indemnity. It wants an administration admission of its legal obligation to pay indemnity for American lives lost.

Failure of the Lusitania negotiations at a time when hopes were highest was a distinct disappointment in official and diplomatic quarters.

Secretary of State Lansing presented an unusually grave demeanor when he made an announcement concerning the Lusitania after his conference with Count von Bernstorff. The Ambassador's bearing also was grave as he left the department.

WANTS MAIL LET ALONE.

U. S. Sharp In Protest Against British Interference.

Washington.—The text of the American protest to Great Britain against interference with neutral mails, reveals, that diplomatic and consular pouches have been treated in a manner which the United States considers "excessively inquisitorial."

The note describes the practices of British officials as "unwarranted interference," and in urgently requesting a prompt reply points out that "a strong feeling is being aroused" in this country by the loss of valuable letters, while foreign banks are refusing to cash American drafts because they have no assurances that drafts are secure in the mails.

The United States declares that parcel post articles are entitled to the exceptions of neutral trade, and denies the right of Great Britain to take neutral mail ships into British jurisdiction for purposes of search and then submit them to local censorship regulations. It also denies that the British Government has any authority over neutral sealed mails on ships which merely touch at British ports.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuff from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have shallow akins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from any store that handles drugs which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.
