LOCALS

J. S. Rowe returned from West Virginia, Saturday, where he had been for the past several weeks.

John H. Runkle, east of Centre Hall, has been confined to his home all winter, suffering with rheumatism and neuritis.

The ladies of the Rebekah Lodge, L. O. O. F., made over fifty dollars at their Dutch Supper, in Grange Arcadia, Saturday evening.

Charles E. Mothersbaugh of Boalsburg made a trip to Centre Hall on business, Thursday, and favored this office with a short call.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Coldron delightfully entertained a few of their friends at their home Monday evening. Choice refreshments were served.

Ethel Stoner, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoner, of Tusseyville, sustained a fracture of the femur bone in her left leg, last Wednesday, when she slipped while she was coasting near her home upset, throwing her off. Dr. L. E. Kidder of Boalsburg reduced the fracture.

William Grossman of near Tusseyville has decided to quit farming, for the present at least, and has set Thursday, March 23rd, as the day for holding his sale which will be a clean-up of everything on the place. Herbert Grove of Earlstown will become the tenant on the Grossman farm after April 1st.

C. G. Spicher, of Wilkensburg, favors the "Pay-Up Week" principle and as it applies to the payment of his home paper he thinks the addition of "extension" to the phrase makes it even better. His remittance extended his subscription to February, 1916, the most advanced figure on the Reporter's subscription list.

J. L. Decker, east of Centre Hall, has an advertisement in this issue calling attention to the Edison Diamond Amberole, a musical instrument of the highest type. Mr. Decker has been successful in selling a number of these machines, but feels that increased sales will come only as a result of advertising. Be sure to read his ad.

Messrs. Cleve Eungard and George Bright, of Spring Mills, were among those who attended the threshermen's convention at Harrisburg last week. These men have placed their order for an oil tractor and a lime stone pulverizer outfit of the portable type and expect to pulverize lime stone for the farmers of Penns and Brush Valleys.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Eye, west of town, was the scene of a most enjoyable social gathering on Wednesday evening of last week when a sled load of young friends of their daughter, Miss Grace, were entertained in royal style. After indulging in various games a light luncheon was served. The following were present: Hazel Ripka, Miriam Huyett, Helen Krebe, Catharine Bradford, Sarah Zettle, Grace Fye, Ruth Parsons, Adeline McClenahan, Luella, Dorothy, Gertrude and Pearl Ruble, Lena Breon, Lynn Bitner, Shannon Booser, Ralph Henney, Bruce Cole, Isaiah Emery, William Sweetwood, Theodore Breon, Harold Keller, Fred Lucas, Ernest Frank, Jefferson Slick, Harry Grose, Newton Crawford, Byers Ripka; also Mrs. Emery Ripka and Daniel Bohm.

The fight made by the M. E. church of Nescopeck, of which the Rev. U. W. Molloy is pastor, for a boozeless town, bore fruit when the Nescopeck case was heard by the court last Tuesday. While it was certain that a license would have been refused because of the sentiment prevailing against the granting, yet it remained for a point of legality scored by the "drys" to make doubly sure of victory. The temperance forces showed that ten of the sixteen persons who were the petitioners had not paid any taxes for two or more years, and because of that were not "qualified electors." That proved the "end of the chapter" for the day, when the court said that if the applicant, through his attorney, could show the court where in the application is legal within the next ten days it would be considered.

Snyder-Stahl.
At the Lutheran parsonage in Bellefonte, Monday morning, Robert Snyder of State College, and Miss Jennie Sarah Stahl of Centre Hall, were united in the bonds of holy wedlock by the Rev. W. M. B. Glanding. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Lutheran church was used. The only witnesses were the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl, the groom's brother, Roy Snyder, and the Rev. Glanding family. Following the ceremony the bride and groom took dinner at the Brockerhoff House in Bellefonte. The bride and groom then left for Altoona where they spent a few days with the bride's brothers, C. K. and A. C. Stahl. Continuing on their honeymoon trip they will visit relatives and friends in Huntingdon and other points. They expect to arrive at State College the latter part of this week and there begin house-keeping.

Murderers Die in Electric Chair.
The two Delaware county murderers—Roland S. Pennington and George H. March—were put to death in the electric chair at the new penitentiary at Rockview, Monday morning. The cases of these two men attracted much attention throughout the state because of the many rehearsals before the Board of Pardons and other legal steps to prevent justice from taking its course. Pennington was the first of the two men to go. He was led to the chair at 7:15 o'clock, and at 7:30 the current was turned on. Four contacts were made before he was pronounced dead. George H. March was next led to the chair. It was 7:34 when the current was turned on for the first contact. He also was given four contacts. The two men were attended by the Rev. C. M. Miller, captain of the penitentiary, and the Rev. Ezra H. Yocum, pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church. The crime for which March and Pennington died was regarded as the most brutal in the annals of Delaware county.

Linden Hall
A little son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Horner on Sunday morning. Among those on the sick list are Mrs. J. H. Ross, Mrs. Charles Johnson and John Houser. Miss Bertha Campbell is spending this week with her aunts, Misses Phoebe and Mary Potter. Mrs. Patterson left on Tuesday to attend the funeral which will be held today (Thursday) from his home. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osman and daughter came up from Harrisburg Tuesday to spend some time at the home of the former's father. Quite a number of guests from Oak Hill and Boalsburg gathered at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ross last Friday evening where they were royally entertained.

BOALSBURG.
Miss Mary Corl of Pleasant Gap visited her brother, Charles Corl. Miss Blanche Rowe is visiting relatives in Altoona. Miss Bettie Kimport visited Mr. George Shugart. David Stuart of Bellevue is spending some time at the home of W. H. Stuart. Mrs. Samuel Weaver and children visited friends at Millheim over Sunday. Mrs. Henry Gingerich of Linden Hall spent Friday at the home of Mrs. Charles Segner. S. E. Weber and sister Miss Annie spent Wednesday in Centre Hall with their brother, J. H. Weber. Mrs. William Patterson attended the funeral of her brother, Philip Fortney, at Indianapolis. Miss Margaretta Goben spent Saturday and Sunday at the Ray D. Gilliland home, State College. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kidder and daughters and Jesse Borce of Neffs Mills spent a short time at the home of Dr. L. E. Kidder. Charles Fisher of Danville and William Fisher of Sunbury visited their mother, Mrs. E. A. Fisher, who has been sick for the last week.

Sheep losses by dogs in Centre county during 1915 cost the county $437.25, there being forty sheep killed and forty-four injured. During the same period the dog tax collected amounted to $1984.

FAIRBROOK

J. D. Neidigh shipped five carloads of $1.25 wheat the early part of the week, to the south.

Dr. J. C. Baumgardner was here the early part of the week and bought a carload of cows for the eastern market.

The band festival was a success socially and financially, the treasury being enriched by $130.00.

Mrs. Gertrude Decker of Bellefonte came up to spend Sunday with her father, G. W. O'Bryan, who passed over the border line Sunday morning.

H. C. Tussey purchased a carload of cattle and hogs which he shipped from Pennsylvania Furnace. This week he is buying horses at bottom prices.

Last Thursday evening forty Royal Neighbors came over from State College and were served to a delicious supper at the St. Elmo and in a body attended the band festival.

Friday evening State College High school scholars enjoyed a sled ride with W. K. Dale week and bought a four-in-hand team. All attended the festival and had a royal time.

Tuesday evening a sledding party, consisting of seventy-five persons, sailed at the Just Harpster home and entered the castle for a royal good time with plenty of "cats." The Gatesburg orchestra and string band furnished choice music and all merrily.

Washington Grange, P. of H., No. 157, held a lively meeting in Room 100 of the Horticultural hall, State College, Tuesday evening, when the third and fourth degrees were conferred on a class of twenty-two. After the regular order of business refreshments were served full and plenty.

Grange No. 157 is second to none in the State in Grange work. During the past six months its ranks have been swelled by 150 new members, and still they come.

W. G. O'Bryan, one of the most highly respected citizens in the valley, died Sunday morning after an illness of several weeks with heart trouble.

He was born at Pine Grove Mills, Pa., in 1867. He married Charlotte Lytle. To them three children were born, namely, Mrs. Gertrude Decker, of near Bellefonte; George, of Axman; and Fursell, on the old farm. His wife died in 1898 and two years later he married Mrs. Wilhelmina Livingston. By several years they resided at State College, later moving to their own home in this place. He was a successful farmer and stock grower. Politically he was a staunch Democrat, religiously a Presbyterian from his youth. Burial was made Wednesday morning in the Branch cemetery, Rev. W. K. Harshbarger officiating.

HARPSTER-PEARSONS.
Tuesday of last week Isaac Harpster and Miss Ruth Pearson surprised their friends by slipping across the mountains by several days. Harpster, Mason and Dixon live to Cumberland, Md., where they were married. They returned the following day to receive the usual parental blessing. The young couple will be at home to their friends after March 20th on the Harpster farm in Tadpole.

MILLER-MONG.
Saturday at high noon, at the Lutheran parsonage in Bellefonte, A. Miller and Miss Beatrice Mong were married by the Rev. W. M. B. Glanding. Both parties are well and favorably known residents of Pine Grove Mills.

The evening train brought the happy couple to the Mong home, east of town, where a wedding feast was served to which many guests were bidden. Congratulations.

AFORSBUZZ.
Miss Jennie Hall is visiting at Huntingdon, Smithfield and Bellefonte.

Z. D. Thomas has been under the doctor's care for more than a week.

John G. Meyer of Coburn spent a few days with his uncle, George Weaver.

Mrs. W. D. Donat will hold a reception this week for her Sunday-school class.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stover spent Sunday evening at Coburn to visit grandmother Luse, who is ill.

Mrs. George Winters of Rebersburg was entertained a few days by her sister, Mrs. Jennie Syler.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. D. Bowersox and baby, Tony, visited the former's parents for a few days.

Mrs. Nevin Meyer and little daughter from Boalsburg are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hatfield.

Mrs. Roy Stover and son Malvin, from Wolfs Store, spent a few days with the former's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Bowersox.

Prof. Barlet filled the pulpits in the Salem and St. Paul churches for Rev. D. W. Donat, on Saturday, because of the latter's illness.

Mrs. Clarence Mueser had a birthday party for her little daughter Susan at which twenty-six of the girl's school mates were present. After a few hours' good time ice cream, cake and fudge were served.

Mrs. Annie M. Eisenhour Aman, who was married Christmas week, will leave for Pittsburgh this week where she will be met by her husband, Roy Aman, and from there they will go to Youngstown, Ohio, where Mr. Aman is employed in the steel mill.

Rev. John A. Bright, who was born here seventy-one years ago, left Saturday afternoon after a few weeks' visit among relatives. He went to Millingburg and from there to Milton, where he joined his wife. In a few weeks they will start for Topeka, Kansas, their home, stopping enroute with their two sons, Omer and Iva. In the latter state Rev. M. L. Bright is one of the leading ministers in the city of Jewel.

Mary and Esther Bradford, twin granddaughters of Dr. D. W. Bowersox, are the happiest girls in town since having come into possession of a beautiful young driving horse, the gift of their grandfather on their birthday anniversary. The animal was purchased through Dr. Bowersox's son at York, who arrived with it at the Coburn station last week. Their joy was unbounded when they learned that the little horse was their very own, and since that time the automobile has lost its charms.
