

DEATHS.

John H. Taylor, a well known figure in Centre and Mifflin counties, died at his home near Colyer, Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, following an apoplectic stroke sustained Sunday previous.

Deceased was a son of Jesse Taylor and was born in the "Loop" more than fifty years ago. He had always resided there and made a good living for his family by means of his trips to Mifflin county where he disposed of large quantities of dressed pork.

No funeral arrangements are known at this writing, but it is certain that interment will be made in the cemetery connected with the Zion Church, near Colyer, where his wife is buried.

John Shultz, a life-long and highly respected citizen of Brush Valley, died very suddenly on Friday afternoon at four o'clock at his home at Spring Bank. For more than a year Mr. Shultz had been in feeble health but recently showed marked signs of improvement so that no serious results were anticipated.

Interment was made at Rebersburg, Tuesday, services being conducted by Rev. Kessler of the United Evangelical church, of which deceased was a member. His age was sixty-four years.

After a lingering illness of ten years or more with a complication of diseases, Mrs. Catherine Armstrong, widow of James Armstrong, died at her home at Potters Mills, Wednesday morning. She was about seventy-seven years of age. Surviving her are two sons—John and Bunker Armstrong—both at home, and one brother, James Carson, of Bellefonte. No funeral arrangements have yet been made but burial will be made in the Sprucetown cemetery.

WILL REPEAT PLAY.

"Uncle Ephraim's Summer Boarders" will be repeated by the W. C. T. U. on Saturday evening in Grange Hall. One-half of the proceeds which will be derived from the play will be turned over to Progress Grange and be used in installing electric lights in Grange Arcades. The cause is a worthy one and your support should be given.

LOCALS.

Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew and daughter Margaret made a trip to Bellefonte, Wednesday.

Calvin Oman of Glen Iron spent Sunday at the home of his cousin, Mrs. George W. Potter, near Old Fort.

John Gatis, who for the past two months has been seriously ill at his home here, is showing marked improvement.

The little son born to Mr. and Mrs. John Horner, of Linden Hall, Sunday, 20 ult., died the same week, burial being made last Saturday.

Miss Orpha Gramley of Spring Mills, was the guest of Miss Helen Bartholomew, Tuesday afternoon, and attended the lecture in the Grange hall in the evening.

Palm E. Dreese of Middleburg, Snyder county, was in town Wednesday, to make preparation for the moving of his family to this place, occupying the property formerly owned by Jacob From and now in possession of Miss Sara McClenshan.

P. A. Auman and S. C. Decker, both of Georges Valley, were callers on Wednesday. The former to advertise a large farm stock for sale and the latter to become a Reporter subscriber. Mr. Auman will have a clean up sale, and will move onto the Barger property near by the farm he now lives on.

A good audience greeted Dr. Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, New York, in Grange hall, Tuesday evening. Dr. Holt's great subject, "The Federation of the World," was handled in masterful style and the plans he and other great international peace advocates have in view seem the most logical way to bring about world peace. If there were any in the audience who failed to grasp the speaker's thoughts, no charge can be brought against the peace advocate, for his ideas were presented in such a forcible and clear manner that all who read were greatly aided in better understanding the purpose and methods of the Hague, around which his address circled.

HON. H. C. QUIGLEY ON BENCH.

a piece of babbitt. The defense alleged that the fight was brought about by Mr. Shilling and that he, Shilling, had thrown some dishes at the defendant. The defendant further alleged that what he did was in self-defence. Court convened on Tuesday morning at 9:30. In the case of Commonwealth vs. Harry L. Quick, verdict not guilty and the costs divided between the prosecutor and the defendant, each to pay one-half.

Commonwealth vs. Frank Columbine, indicted for extortion and threats on a District Attorney's bill. The Commonwealth alleging that he was present with another person who wrote a threatening letter, with a black band on it, and other marks addressed to W. B. Thompson, a liveryman of Howard, and that the same was placed upon the barn door of Mr. Thompson, demanding the payment of moneys to Columbine and some other bills within three days, on or about the thirtieth day of January, 1914. That some time during the early year, 1915, Mr. Columbine had joined the church and admitted to Mr. Thompson that the letter was written by a person named in the postoffice at Howard and placed upon Thompson's barn. On the thirtieth day of July, 1915, one of the State Police went to Howard, saw Mr. Columbine and brought him to Bellefonte to the District Attorney's office, where he confessed the matter, and the same was written out and signed by Mr. Columbine.

The defendant alleging that he was scared and denied making any confession to his knowledge, but admitted signing a paper, but that he did not know what was in it, that he was so scared, being threatened by the State Policeman with incarceration in the county jail, and further that he had not been properly cautioned by either the policeman or the District Attorney. Verdict on Tuesday afternoon of guilty; immediate action, by counsel for the defendant, was made for a new trial.

Commonwealth vs. B. P. Swartz, Prosecutor W. R. Thompson, indicted for extortion and threatening letters, on trial Tuesday evening.

PART OF DAUPHIN COUNTY GOES "DRY."

On the first day of March eighteen liquor licensed places in Dauphin county were closed up tight. Against all of these remonstrances had been filed and Judges Kunkle and McCarrell, while not yet having rendered a decision, will do so in favor of the temperance forces in a short time.

YEAGERTOWN MAN HAS ANCIENT BIBLE.

A rare and precious possession in the shape of an ancient Bible bearing the printer's mark of the date 1789, is owned by Charles Bottorf of Yeagertown. The antique came into the possession of Mr. Bottorf several years ago in a purchase made at a country sale. The original owner whose name appears upon the fly leaf, was Samuel Stiver, one of the early settlers of Centre county, who was remotely known to the Bottorf family. The man's name, despite the long span of years, is still plain and is written in a fine round hand.

The text of the book is in quaintly spelled script. The title page bears the following notation: The New Testament of Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Translated out of the original Greek and with the former translations, diligently composed and revised. Philadelphia, printed by Joseph Cruksbank, in Margaret street between Second and Third streets.

On going to the barn Saturday morning, E. E. Royer found one of his best horses dead with its neck broken.

Rev. W. K. Harnish will administer the Lord's Sacrament in the Presbyterian church at Pine Grove Mills, Sunday morning.

The N. E. Shope sale, last Saturday, was well attended and most of the goods offered sold well. A mated team of grays were knocked down at the $730 mark. The sale totaled almost $900.00.

W. P. Ard, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Randolph and son Fred, James Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lytle, were among those from a distance who attended the O'Bryan funeral, last Tuesday.

JUDY-KLINE.

Last week Scott Judy and Miss Irene Kline surprised their friends by slipping away to Cumberland, Maryland, where they were happily married, returning home the following day to receive the parental blessing. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kline and is a splendid young lady. The groom is an enterprising young farmer. Both parties are well and favorably known in the valley. For the present they will reside at the Kline home.

MRS. GEORGE BOREST DEAD.
Mrs. George Borest was found dead in bed by her daughter at the latter's home, Saturday morning. Mrs. Borest had retired the evening before, appearing as well as usual and the end came, no doubt, from a stroke of apoplexy.

She was aged sixty-seven years and spent most of her life in Spruce Creek Valley. Since the death of her husband sixteen years ago she lived with her children. A short time ago she entered the home of her son-in-law at Pennsylvania Furnace where her death occurred. She was a member of the M. E. church and a number of children and grandchildren mourn her passing away. Burial was made Monday afternoon, Rev. R. M. Campbell officiating. Interment was made in the Ross cemetery.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.
Wednesday, March 1st, John Henry Neldigh and wife, Sarah Ann Kusia-bor, celebrated their golden wedding at their home at Struble. Eight of their nine children, together with their grandchildren and neighbors greeted the couple and brought many presents. Dinner was served at one o'clock and consisted of the best the old farm and market could produce. The afternoon was spent in reminiscing, playing games and enjoying music. Their lives were spent in farming close to their birth places and they enjoy a comfortable home near their splendid farm. Four years of their early wedded life were spent in Michigan. They are prosperous, hale and hearty, and each seventy-one years young.

The Grand Jury in the February court, on Tuesday found eight true bills against Justices of the Peace Hay and Schenck, of Howard. It is alleged Schenck swindled the county out of several thousand dollars by means of false probates.

PRODUCE AT STORES

Does Reading send you to sleep?
If it does, don't blame the story, don't condemn the type or the printing, don't imagine you've weak eyes, for the fault is probably with your lamp. And it's a fault that is easily remedied—all that's needed is a Rayo Lamp. By its clear, steady, white light you can read on and on, get the full pleasure out of reading and without a trace of eye strain. But to get the most and best light from a Rayo Lamp, use ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL.
Combined they give the finest light money can buy, an economical light, too, ideal for reading, sewing or playing. Your dealer can show you a Rayo Lamp specially designed for parlor, sitting room or kitchen, from $1.50 up. And each of these rooms needs one—Rayo Lamps are easily cleaned and last a lifetime.
As for Atlantic Rayolight Oil, it is the one kerosene that burns in lamp, stove or heater without smoke or smell—gives a great volume of clear, white light, and an intense yet cheap heat.
And, do you know, thousands of clever housewives have told us they just can't get along without Atlantic Rayolight Oil for polishing furniture, washing windows, keeping lice off chickens, cleaning painted woodwork, etc., but mind you, for these purposes ordinary kerosene won't do them—they must have Atlantic Rayolight Oil. Ask for it by name—costs no more than the unknown kind. The dealer who displays this sign can always supply you. It's wise to get it by the barrel.
