LOCALS

Miss Mabel Allison of Spring Mills was a pleasant caller at this office, Thursday.

Miss Matilda Fortney, of Altoona, was the guest of Prof. and Mrs. W. O. Heckman, in this place, over Sunday.

The Spring Mills lecture course for the season of 1915-16 came to a close Tuesday night with a concert number.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shirk and Mrs. Lawrence E. Runkle motored to Millheim Monday and spent the day with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Heckman.

Alfred Crawford, who last week closed his term of school teaching at Pine Stump, will enter the Lock Haven State Normal School on Monday and take the spring term of instruction.

The store room in the Runkle hotel building, vacated by D. A. Boozer, is undergoing improvements and when completed will serve as a first-class restaurant and bakery for C. W. Pennington, who will vacate the Bartholomew store room.

Oscar C. Homan moves today (Thursday) from the Emanuel Eungard farm, near Pehna Cave, to the William Grove farm, about three and one-half miles west of Coburn. The new location is of larger acreage and will consequently mean more work.

Lawrence E. Runkle, the carpenter, has decided to launch out for himself in the building and contracting business and publishes his card in this issue. Mr. Runkle is a skilled and painstaking workman and whatever building he undertakes is sure to give complete satisfaction.

A flock of twenty-five to thirty wild geese passed over town Tuesday morning. The birds were flying low and could easily have been reached with a shot gun. The V formation was missing and they undoubtedly settled on one of the ponds that may now be found in any low place in the fields.

James C. Goodhart is well pleased over his $1700 stock sale. Everything offered was sold, and a day or two later several head of stock not put up at the sale were sold. He has remaining a goodly number of horses and cattle, sheep and hogs to supply his farm. Cows brought almost $100, and young cattle also sold well. The stock was all in good condition.

Rev. D. A. Souder, of Pittsburgh, gave a highly interesting illustrated lecture in the Reformed church, Sunday evening. The lantern slides depicted the work done by the Reformed church for the Hungarian immigrants, through all the stages beginning with the time they set foot on American soil. At the present time there are fourteen Hungarian churches established in this country by the Reformed denomination.

J. C. Lee, of Spring Mills, agent for the Saxon and Chalmers automobiles, is opening the 1916 sales season with a rush. Two carloads of Saxon cars and a like number of Chalmers cars have already been unloaded and five of the former make of car have already been sold and are waiting for better road conditions for delivery. The purchasers are C. A. Miller, of Colyer; M. Hurwitz, Prof. D. O. Etter, W. D. Custard, of State College, who are all booked for 6-cylinder touring cars, and M. Kalin, of Lock Haven, who purchased a roadster.

The members of Progress Grange, on Friday night, held their annual social gathering in Grange Areadia. The attendance included a large percentage of the members of the local order, and those present entered into a truly social spirit. A period was devoted to the literary, and later two long tables on the first floor groined so pleasantly that by unanimous consent the burden was relieved. For the literary feature the audience was indebted to Stanley Brooks, Lottie Keller, Margaret Luse, Mrs. John Dauberman, Mrs. W. F. Keller and Mrs. D. W. Bradford.

Pennsylvania Farms For Sale.

Pennsylvania farms ranging in size from a few acres to several hundred and valued from $2.50 to $100 an acre are offered for sale and listed in "Pennsylvania Farms For Sale," the latest bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture.

The bulletin is known as No. 273 and has been carefully prepared by the Bureau of Statistics. It contains the full descriptions of 308 farms in Pennsylvania which are purchasable at the present time and includes properties in fifty-seven of the sixty-seven counties.

Farms of all sizes and to suit all classes of prospective purchasers are offered through this bulletin, the aim of the Department of Agriculture being to find purchasers for these farms and thus advance the cause of agriculture of the State.

There are choice farms in nearly every county with the highest number offered for sale as follows: Erie, 22; Mercer, 16; Columbia, 13; Indiana, 12; Warren, 12; Huntingdon, 11; Susquehanna, 11; Bradford, 10; Bucks, 10; Berks, 9; Butler, 9; Clearfield, 9; Wyoming, 9; Armstrong, 8; Venango, 8; Montgomery, 7; Chester, 6; Crawford, 6; and Westmoreland, 6.

The bulletin can be secured upon request to the Department of Agriculture at Harrisburg.

Millheim's Star Pitcher Signs Up.

Paul Musser, Millheim's star baseball twirler, who has seen service in the big leagues and who for the past few seasons has been a member of the Des Moines (Iowa) baseball club, in the Western League, received his 1916 contract last week, and on Monday left his home town to begin another season on the mound. Last year he was the star pitcher on the team and his salary has been increased several times.
