

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHÉ JEFFERSON, 708 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

BILLY SUNDAY SWAYS CROWD

Big Tabernacle Jammed at Three Great Services.

DAY OF GREAT TRIUMPHS

Sermons Thrill Great Throng—Sunday Dwells on Punishment Of Those Who Neglect Call.

NEW RECORD FOR TRAIL-HITTING IN BALTIMORE.

Ten hundred and eighty-nine persons hit the trail at the tabernacle Sunday—313 in the forenoon, 448 in the afternoon and 328 at night—establishing a new high record for the Baltimore campaign. There were 81 at outside meetings. This brought the total for the day to 1,200. The grand total for the campaign is 18,550.

The total attendance at the tabernacle for the day was 54,000. In the forenoon the record congregation of 17,000 was present and at night 22,000 were packed into the building and fully 5,000 were turned away. The grand total of attendance is 1,127,200.

Baltimore.—Ten hundred and eighty-nine men and women, youths, young girls and little children hit the sawdust trail at the Billy Sunday tabernacle yesterday, setting a new high record for the Baltimore campaign.

It was a day of records, climaxed by the evening service. In the forenoon 17,000 people, a typical Palm Sunday church-going throng, constituted the largest of the morning services for the tabernacle; for the evening service the tabernacle was packed by 5:30 o'clock, 22,000 people being accommodated under the low roof—albeit, fully 7,000 had to stand—and a throng estimated at 5,000 could not gain admittance.

Sunday plunged into his sermon at 6:50 o'clock on the text, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" (Hebrews, ii, 3); he wound up at 8 o'clock with a graphic story of a drowning man, paused suddenly, stooped and hurried over the vast multitude in a pantomime a lifeline that seemed almost to swish as it clove the air—and the trail-hitting began.

Daughter of Mayor Leads. Remarkable, too, it was for the fact that more people professed their faith in Jesus Christ by traveling the sawdust path than during any other day of the Baltimore campaign. And among the 1,089 trail-hitters were two of Mayor Preston's daughters, one a debutante of this season, and the Mayor's son.

Then, too, that night crowd. Fully 22,000 humans were packed into the great structure and more than 5,000 were turned away. More than an hour before the service the captain of the firemen's squad ordered that not another person be allowed to enter the doors.

Remarkable for all these things, it was, indeed, a day long to be remembered in the Baltimore revival; one fit to be classed with the fervor of the never-to-be-forgotten opening day; with the awe, and wonder, and excitement of the first trail-hitting service; with the amazing power of those sermons on boozing—fit to be classed among these and possibly to take precedence over them all. For seldom has such a sense of religious devotion, of almost Pentecostal ecstacy, been witnessed in these latter days of practical things.

A Day Of Great Triumphs.

In the morning Sunday preached to a mixed class of humanity on Prayers and Tears and drew from out their number 313 down the glory path to where he stood, sweating and panting, waiting to take their hand and congratulate them on the mighty step they had taken. To men only in the afternoon he preached a strong, convincing and again a pathetic sermon on Death and the Judgment, and from the 15,000 weeping, gulping, red-eyed men beneath him he called forth 448 trail-hitters. And at the last service at night—a service which began more than an hour before schedule because of the large crowd which had gathered so early—he gathered 328 more into his conversion benches below the rostrum.

Stirred Their Emotions. Tears, many, warm and sincere sprang to the eyes of hundreds in the audience of 15,000 people at the morning service when Billy Sunday preached his emotion-stirring sermon, Gethsemane.

Billy had been pleading for tears—for tears for the unsaved. The burden of the agony in the Garden, and His sweat was, as it were, great drops of blood falling down to the ground, was the lack of an evidence of agony among Christians as they look on souls lost and souls about to be lost.

It was a sermon that gave him one of his best opportunities for persuasion—not for the stern command, the uncompromising denunciation of other sermons—but for the soft persuasion, which he knows how to use and when.

That it was effective, that it did impress his auditors, was shown not only by the tears brought to the eyes of so many, but by the number and the character of trail-hitters in which it resulted. Three hundred and thirteen men and women came down the aisle when the evangelist extended his invitation, and, not only was this one of the largest numbers of trail-hitters produced at one service, but it was also one of the most sincere looking body of converts that has occupied the glory benches in the Baltimore Tabernacle.

Baltimore and Jerusalem. In his plea for Christians to put themselves in that frame of mind in which they cannot look upon one whose soul is lost, or who is straying away from God without agony in their own soul, without tears in their eyes, Sunday referred to the Baltimore campaign. He likened Baltimore to Jerusalem, just before the condemnation and destruction of the Holy City by the Almighty. "God cried to Jerusalem," he said: "Oh, Jerusalem! If you had known in this your day! And the cry may well be heard in Baltimore now. Baltimore's day has been these last seven weeks. What will Baltimore do this last week?"

"If we meet the old city," he continued, "with an argument of tears these last days, the number that will press into the Kingdom of God will double; thousands will be saved, if the church of God will work and pray and weep these last few days."

He also took occasion during the sermon to denounce those church members who are not supporting the campaign. "The reason I insist that church be closed during the revival," he said, "is to cut off the man or woman who will keep warm 17 inches of space in a church pew, look devout, use it as an excuse to keep away from the Tabernacle—and then live like the devil. And, listen to me," he continued: "If I had to do it over again, I would not begin a revival in Baltimore until the promise had been made that every co-operating church would be closed."

The Baltimore churches are closed by districts—one district each Sunday. "Tired, But Happy, Lord." From the very outset of the afternoon service there was a cordial atmosphere of sympathy and good-fellowship manifest that radiated from the furthermost corner of the choir down the final exit at the bottom of the big tabernacle. Sunday sensed this as he stepped to the platform, and he fanned his flame from the moment he began until, almost exhausted, he had wig-wagged the hand of the very last convert. At the closing prayer, he told Jesus he "was tired but awful happy, Lord." And he looked the part.

It was a mixed audience, that great throng—the first mixed audience on a Sunday night in the Tabernacle since the opening of the campaign. And, after Billy had pushed and struggled his way through the throngs crowded in the aisle before the rostrum and the people spied him, a rousing cheer went up, Sunday's grin broadened; George, standing at the rail behind the press box, looked as if he were going to give way to his joy and jump the rail as an evidence of his ecstacy. Even Rodeheaver, the calm, self-possessed Roddy, had to give way to the spirit.

The Tabernacle filled, the doors closed, Billy wasted no time beginning. After John T. Stone had made the announcement with reference to next Sunday's free-will offering to Sunday's free-will offering to Sunday, similar to the announcement made at the other services by Daniel Baker and Rev. Dr. Wharton, Billy made it known that he wanted to start. Rodeheaver had to plead for a chance to sing another hymn.

There Is No Escape. Then, at 10 minutes before 7 o'clock, Billy began his sermon. His text was the unanswerable question of the second chapter, third verse, of Hebrews: "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" And Billy's task, a task which he executed with all of the skill of which he is capable, was to show his audience that the question could not be answered—that there is no escape.

As in the afternoon sermon, the night address was one punctuated with stories, stories pointed and with paths, stories told unusually well, and stories which impressed Sunday's lesson on the minds of those who heard the sermon, such as the lesson could not otherwise have been impressed. He told stories of the great calamities of the world, stories of thrilling, dramatic incidents in the lives of men. The world's greatest calamities, he said, were all caused by neglect, and the greatest calamity that can come to the individual, the loss of the immortal soul, is due, and can be due to neglect and to neglect only. Stories of men drowning, men who refused the lifeline thrown to them, were also quoted by Sunday. And he brought the lesson home by pointing out to his audience that those who refuse to accept Jesus Christ as the Saviour, those who will not profess their faith in His shed blood, are standing on the brink of hell, about to plunge over; and the men who refused the life line were fools not near so great, as the men, facing a worse fate, who refuse Christ's lifeline—Salvation by faith in Him.

An invitation to trail-hitters was hardly necessary when Sunday ended his short prayer after the sermon. Men, women, and a few children, rose spontaneously, responding to the dictates of those emotions roused by the remarkable sermon.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from any store that handles drugs which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.

TRIED FIFTY REMEDIES FOR SORES IN NOSTRILS

Mr. Allen Gales Jennings, Washington, D. C., writes: "For some time I have suffered with sores and sores in my nostrils. I have tried about fifty different salves, lotions and prescriptions, but to no avail until by chance I tried a bottle of Hancock's Sulphur Compound Ointment and now take this means of thanking you for putting up such an excellent remedy. By using it about twice a month I am never troubled with anything of the kind and shall always praise it as the best cure in the world for sores, etc."

A New Remedy for Kidney, Bladder and all Uric Acid Troubles

Dear Readers: I appeal to those of you who are bothered with kidney and bladder trouble, that you give up the use of harsh salts or alcoholic medicines and in their place take a short treatment of "Anuric." I have taken many of Dr. Pierce's medicines for the past twenty-five years with good results. I suffered with kidney trouble for some years. I recently heard of the newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, namely, his "Anuric" Tablets. After using same I am completely cured of my kidney trouble. A doctor pronounced me a well preserved woman for my age, all due, I believe, to Dr. Pierce's aid. MRS. MELINDA E. MILLER. If you suffer from backache, lumbago, rheumatism, get "Anuric" now.
