Farmers Should Sell by Parcel Post.

"Here's a pointer from the Post Office Department," says Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio. "The farmers are not selling so much by mail as they ought to. They are using parcel post more and more liberally in buying; but they are not patronizing it much in selling. A great effort has been made to popularize farm-to-table marketing by post. The cities and towns are full of people who want to buy this way, but they can't find the farmers who want to take their orders and give good, regular service. 'The mail-order houses and other enterprising business concerns went right after the farmer's trade as soon as the parcel post opened the way; they were organized, knew the business, and had no time. The farmers weren't organized for any such enterprise, regarded it as experimental, didn't want to be bothered with it, and so the outgoing parcel mail from the farms is disappointingly small, while the incoming mail is bigger than anybody imagined it would be.'"

Good Peach Crop in Sight.

Reports received by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture from every section of the State indicate that the winter spathy over the possible entire destruction of the peach crop were without foundation and that indications on the first of April pointed to a crop about sixty per cent of the normal yield.

During February and March there were reports that the intermittent warm and cold spells had caused the peach blossoms to push forward and then to have been frozen by the cold weather. Careful inspection by the crop reporters of the Department of Agriculture now indicate that there will be a splendid crop of peaches, unless cold spells during April should cause considerable damage.

The present indications show that the crop of peaches will be about sixty per cent of normal yield while the apple crop is estimated to be about ninety per cent of normal. In Adams county, the recognized fruit growing county of the State, the indications are that the peach crop will be about fifty-two per cent of the normal yield and in Franklin county, another peach growing county, it will be about 48 per cent.

Many counties show that the cold weather had little effect upon the crop and especially in the hilly districts the changeable weather had little effect upon the prospects for a good year for the peach growers. The reduction in the size of the crop is expected to give the peach growers a better price. Last year the peach growers complained of an overproduction and little profit for their crop.

Notice to the Public.

At a regular meeting of the borough council, held April 7th, complaint was made by a number of citizens from different parts of the town in regard to the parking of automobiles in front of private residences and the annoyance caused by same. The committee hereby requests all parties to discontinue the parking or placing of automobiles or any vehicle any place that in any way is an annoyance to any resident.

The committee hopes that it will be unnecessary to take any further action in regard to the above.
