DIXON'S HEALTH TALKS.

Commissioner Precautions Against Typhoid Fever During Vacation Period.

Now that the vacation season is approaching, when the town folks will seek rest from their daily toils, in the realms of Nature, a word of warning against indiscreet drinking of the waters of the State.

While thousands of pollutions have been removed from our streams, it will take years to correct the evils that have been growing ever since our civilization began in this country. If you desire to avoid typhoid fever this coming season, co-operate with those working to improve health conditions. In your travels never depend upon the celebrated town pump, the clearness of a stream or the sparkling waters offered by the wayside dweller to quench your thirst, unless you know of the purity of the water. Depend upon what you carry with you, or if camping, boil the water before using it for domestic purposes. It is better not to indulge in water cooled with natural ice from an unknown source. Do not clean your teeth, rinse your mouth or wash vegetables or fruit to be eaten raw, in unknown waters without first boiling it for ten or fifteen minutes.

There are hundreds of deaths and thousands of cases of typhoid fever in the United States each summer and fall because of failure to observe these precautions. If you send your family to a summer resort without assuring yourself of the purity and safety of the water supply, you may be risking their lives.

GOOD ROADS DAY.

Methods Other Counties Pursue in Securing Best Results in This Good Movement.

The Berks County Farm Bureau has perfected plans for a successful observance of "State-wide Good Roads Day" in that county and has issued a circular explaining what the day means and how the people can best occupy themselves on that day.

The circular issued states: "The co-operators needed for making the work a success are included here: Farm Bureau, County Association of Road Supervisors, Board of Supervisors in each township, County Superintendent of State Highways and his associate in Berks, and all public spirited citizens, or organizations, who are in a position to lend co-operation."

The circular then takes up each of these organizations and outlines the work which should be assigned them to most successfully co-operate for good roads on "State-wide Good Roads Day." The Farm Bureau is charged with publicity and is urged to secure it through newspaper articles, posters for public places and personal work of the agriculturist in connection with his travel about the county.

The County Association of Road Supervisors is requested to instruct the Township Board of Supervisors by circular, explaining the plan in full and include suggestions covering the kind of work that can be done effectively.

The board of supervisors in each township is urged to tour the entire road area of their respective township, so as to have exact knowledge as to where and what kinds of work needs to be done. They are all urged to encourage their constituents to volunteer not only labor but also materials and supplies. The supervisors are requested to obtain this information by not later than May 20 so that they can arrange the supply of labor available to suit their needs.

The citizens of the county are urged to volunteer for the pick and shovel brigade in the preparedness campaign for good roads. They are asked to be public spirited enough to volunteer labor, teams, equipment, etc., free, for the day to their supervisors and to advise the supervisors, by not later than May 20, as to what they will offer. The circular calls particular attention to the fact that city and borough residents are included in this appeal as well as those living in the county.

"Women and children are not expected to come out with pick and shovel," says the circular, "but we urge them rather to prepare a good supply of hot coffee, sandwiches, etc., for the men. Where the work in the township is not too widely distributed it might be interesting for all of the women to bring dinner out to the woods, or under some big tree nearby, and all take part in a real big dinner in picnic style."

Auto clubs are urged to co-operate by extending to township supervisors the invitation to call upon the club for automobiles to be used in transporting laborers where necessary, and railroads where necessary, and railroads are told that they can aid by extending to township supervisors the offer to transport, without freight charge, road materials to be used on that day.

The circular concludes as follows: "To observe Good Roads Day in a successful way, co-operation of all parties above mentioned is needed. Success will not be complete if any co-operator shirks his duty. There are, however, a few co-operators upon whom largely rests the burden of success or failure of the day's work. They are the supervisors of section men and the citizens with pick and shovel. If the work to be done on Good Roads Day is to be a creditable memorial of the day, supervisors must know before May 25 where their roads need repairs and what kind of repairs and what kind of repairing must be done. On the other hand, all citizens who offer their service must inform their supervisors at least five days before May 25 what labor, materials, and equipment they can supply.

"Good Roads Day" this year is not to be a paid movement. All serve without pay. A volunteer system only can be the greatest success if whoever possible can take time off, will spend one day for the betterment of his community in road improvement."

A Creditable List.

The Democrats of the State may well feel gratified by the high standing, ability, character and attainments of all the "State-wide" primary election candidates who are supported by the Democratic State Organization. There are thirty-three of them, headed by Woodrow Wilson for President. Mr. Wilson's name will be the only one on the Democratic Primary ballot for President. The Democrats will elect their National Committeeman in the Primary, and the State organization's candidate for re-election to that position, A. Mitchell Palmer, is singled out by the annex of the Republican machine to bear the brunt of the fight made by that bi-partisan element against an honest and efficient maintenance of the Democratic organization. Mr. Palmer, however, expresses confidence that he will defeat his opponent, Congressman Michael Leibel, Jr., by more than four to one.

The association intends holding a reunion every year. The following preamble to the constitution was presented and adopted: "We, the graduates of the Millheim high school, desiring to continue the associations of high school days, to promote fraternal feeling, to facilitate fraternal helpfulness and intercourse with each other, and to promote the best interests of the high school, do unite ourselves under the name and title of the Alumni Association of the Millheim High School."

and although there is a scarcity of materials, and the prices for same are advancing by leaps and bounds I am, nevertheless, in a position to offer the trade

"That's smooth cream."

"You sure must use REAL cream in making this ice cream."

"That's the best made cream I ever ate."

These and many other similar expressions are made each day by people who try our cream for the first time. The second statement above tells the story—REAL CREAM—that's it, good ice cream can only be made with rich creamy cream, and that's all we use.
