

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health—

Frankfort, Ky.—“I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all I could claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish.”—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it will be confidential.

JUST THE CHILDREN MOURNED

None Came to Claim the Body of Old George, the Cornettist.

About us everywhere in the fogs of the human tide are drifting mysteries we accept without inquiry. There are such people in Sacramento as “Old George, the cornettist,” who recently fell dead in New York city.

Day after day he appeared at the same corner, offered his familiar tunes to the admiring children and the sometimes abjuring adults, and collected the pennies wherewith to buy food, clothing and shelter.

No one ever asked him his right name, but the children loved him. Then one morning, as Old George raised his horn to his lips, it clattered to the pavement, and the song he was planning to give the crowd rattled in his throat as he toppled over—dead.

The children mourned him for several days. No one came to claim his body.

Value of Our Horses.

There are about one hundred and ninety-one million animals in the United States and they are worth, roughly, six billion dollars. Is it any wonder that science has become interested in animals. There are approximately twenty-one million horses in the country, representing an investment of two billion, three hundred million dollars. The despised mule may not be so despised when you consider that he represents five hundred and sixty million dollars of our total wealth and that his kind numbers about four million five hundred thousand.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Cynical Inventor.

A young inventor exhibited a ring to a jeweler.
“A new type of engagement ring,” he said, “that I’m going to patent. It will make me a fortune.”
“Humph,” said the jeweler, “what is there patented about this?”
“It’s adjustable,” said the inventor.
“You must never forget, my boy, that about one-third of all success is pure luck.”
“But how can you make sure of this luck?”
“Why, by being successful.”—Life.

The Net Result.

“Did you raise anything on your promise to pay?”
“Oh, yes; I raised a smile!”

STATE NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State.

TOLD IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The first compilation of the laws of Pennsylvania relating to townships has just been completed by the State Legislative Reference Bureau and Acts dating from 1725 to 1915 have been gathered into the form of a code which will be submitted to the next General Assembly. Director James N. Moore, of the bureau, says that the Acts have been published in the exact language as they appear in the pamphlet laws and that the arrangement of the material was made with the view of setting out, under appropriate headings, the laws particularly applicable to each class of townships.

An organization was formed in Chester to be known as the Edgemont Avenue Improvement Association, which will have at its disposal over $1,000,000 for the modernizing of Edgemont avenue. The street will be widened to about sixty feet, newly paved and curbed and modern buildings will be erected. The syndicate, which is composed of local capitalists, has already purchased almost all the land and buildings between the points named, and the work of general improvement will be pushed ahead rapidly.

The Delaware County Commissioners have discovered a difference of $600,000 in the books of the County Assessor and the City Assessor in the First Ward of Chester, the difference being in favor of the city. Real estate which was long since cut up into building lots and upon which houses have been standing for years is still assessed as farm land, while many other properties have not been assessed and no county taxes paid upon them for years.

William Kailawicz, twenty-six years old, athlete and well known in musical circles, while returning from a church picnic on Locust Mountain Road, was run down and fatally injured by an automobile. He died at the State Hospital. The driver of the car refused to stop and instead pulled a gun and threatened to shoot any one who attempted to stop him. The local and State police are on the case.

With delegates from almost all the many societies of Kings Daughters in Northampton county present, a county union was formed at Bethlehem. The Bethlehems alone have about a hundred societies, of which the Moravian Church has half. Mrs. A. D. Thaeler was elected president, Mrs. Joseph Roberts, secretary, and Miss Iva Krause, treasurer.

To avoid running down James Ale, Miss Catherine Struther, eighteen years old, of Bloomsburg, turned her car directly into the display windows of a department store, breaking three of the plate glass windows. She stuck to the car and brought it to a standstill. Miss Wilhelmina White, Bloomsburg, was the other occupant. Neither was injured.

At a price approximated at $250,000, the contract was awarded at Chester for the erection of the new eight-story bank structure to be known as the “John P. Crozer Building,” and the first floor of which is to be occupied as the new home of the Delaware County Trust, Safe Deposit and Title Insurance Company.

Steps are being taken by State authorities to reduce materially the number of publications issued by the Commonwealth, and the advertisement for the next contract will call for printing and binding of approximately 286,500 books of various sizes, instead of 421,255, a saving of 134,655, which it is estimated cost about $50,000 a year.

Joseph W. O'Brien, of Philadelphia, was sentenced to death by Judge Ryan, of Bucks county, for the murder of little Isadore Goldman, on the golf links of the Whitemarsh Country Club, on September 26, 1912.

Following the death of a boy, whose pushmobile was hit by an automobile at Harrisburg, Police Chief J. Thomas Cell issued orders that all pushmobiles must stay off the streets.

A spark from a passing locomotive dropping among resin at the Bethlehem Steel Company consumed 225 tons before it was put out and entailed a loss of $7,000.

At a special session of City Council of Allentown, Samuel A. Knauss handed in his resignation as city treasurer, and Miles K. Person was elected as his successor. Mr. Knauss, became seriously ill after the death of his wife. Person was a candidate when Knauss was chosen.

George Murdock, a miner, of Shamokin, was walking on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in order to reach home by the shortest route, when a fast freight train hurled him over an embankment and killed him.

Better Than War. "The whole world is preparing for war," said William Jennings Bryan at a pacifist dinner.

"I know a man in Miami whose good lady suddenly went in for spiritualism. Did he declare war? No; he did not. He hid better.

"Instead of declaring war, the Miami man took to accompanying his wife to all her spiritualistic seances, and at every seance he got the handsome medium to procure him messages from his first wife, who was dead—and, ah, such tender, such loving messages as they were!

"By this method the Miami man soon put an end to the spiritualistic idea in his household."

Liberal Obedience. "Good heavens, Jane, why, when I told you we would have to practice economy at the table, have you canvas-back duck up here and chicken salad down there?"

"Why, dear, didn't you tell me I must manage to make both ends meat?"

The Great Objection. "Don't you dislike the man who insists on hearing himself talk?"

"No," replied Miss Cayne; "not unless he compels other people to listen."

There are more ways of deserving punishment than there are of escaping it.

Exclamation Apropos. "Some of the new cannon they say carry over 30 miles."

Three Hundred Million Bushel Crop in 1915

Farmers pay for their land with one year's crop and prosperity was never so great.

Regarding Western Canada as a grain producer, a prominent business man says: "Canada's position today is sounder than ever. There is more wheat, more oats, more grain for feed, 20% more cattle than last year and more hogs. The war market in Europe needs our surplus. As for the wheat crop, it is marvelous and a monument of strength for business confidence to build upon, exceeding the most optimistic predictions."

Wheat averaged in 1915 over 25 bushels per acre
Oats averaged in 1915 over 45 bushels per acre
Barley averaged in 1915 over 40 bushels per acre

Prices are high, markets convenient, excellent land, low in price either improved or otherwise, ranging from $12 to $30 per acre. Free homestead lands are plentiful and not far from railway lines and convenient to good schools and churches. The climate is healthful.

There is no war tax on land, nor is there any conscription. For complete information as to best locations for settlement, reduced railroad rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, address Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, or

COYOTE FRIGHTENS THE TOWN

Savage Animal Finally Driven Away by School Children Unaware of Danger.

A gaunt gray coyote terrorized Portola, Cal. It was first noticed when it attacked two dogs at the residence of Thomas Dorothy.

Mrs. J. Hardy, who was passing at the time, narrowly escaped being bitten when the coyote broke away from the dogs and attempted to attack her. The dogs pulled it down again, however, before it reached her.

During the recess period it appeared at the schoolhouse, but the children chased it in a body and frightened it away. They were not aware of the real danger.

A number of hunters are scouring the hills close to town in an endeavor to locate and kill the coyote.

Exactly. "A railroad's chief need is a paradoxical one."
"What is that?"
"To be under a wreckless management."

Reasonable Aspiration. "I suppose you have high ambitions for your boy?"
"Well, I wouldn't say that exactly; but I do hope that he won't turn out to be the male assistant to a female dancing teacher."

Watch Wasn't Necessary. The colonel of a certain regiment in Kitchener's army is a great stickler for obedience, instant and complete.

"Smith," he said to his orderly recently, "I want you to ride down to the railway station and get me the correct time."

Smith shuffled his feet and fiddled with his fingers.

"Well, man," roared the officer frately, "why don't you do as you are told?"

"Please, sir," replied the orderly meekly, "I haven't a watch."
"A watch—a watch!" snapped the colonel. "What d'ye want a watch for? Just write it down on a bit of paper."

Taxicab Driver Senses Danger. A London taxicab driver, rejected for the army on account of defective eyesight, was re-examined recently, the London Globe says.

"How do you manage to drive your cab at night?" the officer asked.

"It's like this," he replied. "If we hear a smash we know we have hit something, and if we don't we know it's all right."

He was remanded to Scotland Yard for further examination.

Unless a man is worthless the chances are that he will never become an expert whittler.

He laughs best who has the laugh on the other fellow.
