EMANCIPATING THE FARMER.

The Rural Credits Law, approved recently by President Wilson, is a great Democratic achievement. It means as much to the farmer as the Federal Reserve Banking and Currency Law means to the business man who has no intimate association with the few financial autocrats of Wall Street who formerly ruled the loan market despotically.

Under the system now provided it will be possible for owners of farming land to borrow money on long time and at living rates of interest. Government is behind the plan, but only to the extent of making it stable and comprehensive. By co-operation on the part of land-owners and judicious management on the part of Government, it will never again be necessary for those who have the best of all securities to pay usurious rates of interest or to be subject at the will of a Sherlock to Sheriff's sale.

Nearly 40 per cent. of the farms of the United States are operated by tenants. One-third of the farms operated by their owners are mortgaged. Including commissions, it is estimated that American farmers are paying 8 1/2 per cent. on their loans, which is about twice the rate paid by farmers in Germany, France and other European countries where land banks have long existed.

The Grange leading the organization of farmers favored this measure, but the opposition to it on the part of the banking interests was so persistent in Mr. Taft's day that his splendid advocacy of the reform resulted in nothing. To-day the bill becomes a law with the approval of both parties in Congress. Democracy that goes forward and carries its opponents with it, assenting if not convinced, is a servant of progress which even Col. Roosevelt's late followers should applaud.

Puff, the street commissioner and general utility man for the borough, was in bad favor at the last meeting of the borough fathers, but since he was obliged to assume the responsibility for locating the electric light poles on front street, the dirtiest and rottenest stunt pulled off on the neighbors across the street in many a day, he ought to be reckoned a mighty obliging and useful Friday in the future.

The action of the County Commissioners, last week, whereby they agreed to pay out of the county funds the sum of $250.00 a month for a short period of time for the relief of dependent families of Troop L's soldiers, is highly commendable and will instantly find favor with every tax payer.

Spring Mills.

of Philadelphia, are spending their vacation with their sisters at this place and Bellefonte.

Walter Clarke has been a pleasant visitor at this place the last week where he has been arranging for the sale of lots owned by him.

The Pleasant Gap ball team defeated Centre Hall Saturday on the home grounds, 6-2. Some of the Centre Hall boys were not pleased with the umpiring, but we realize that the perfect man does not live at Pleasant Gap and we don't think he lives at Centre Hall. Following is the official score:

On Saturday afternoon the Evangelical Sunday-school held a basket picnic on the lawn of Lewis Wine-vartner.

Quite a bit of wheat has been cut in this section, and with nice weather this week, one can hear the song of the reaper most anywhere.

John Frane and family were in town last week. Some thirty years ago Mr.
Frane was landlord at the National Hotel.

Listen friends, when you see the stars and stripes displayed, stand up; there is never another flag so full of meaning as the flag of this country. Stand up, some people may smile at you, but bare your head, lift up your eyes and thank God that you live under the flag which means the redemption of the world.

Slayer of Detectives Electrocutted.

Jacob Miller, 21 years old, of Philadelphia, slayer of Harry Tucker and James Mancey, Philadelphia detectives, was electrocuted at Rockview Monday morning. Miller went to the chair with a prayer on his lips and a plea for forgiveness from those he had wronged. He left a written confession warning young men not to drink was the cause of his downfall.

The crime for which Miller paid the death penalty occurred March 25, 1915.
He shot his captors who had arrested him for robbery.

Prepared for Real Life

The course at Indiana Normal equips one to earn a good living by teaching. This practical school inspires true American ambition; it builds character, self-reliance, strength.
Actual teaching experience is a part of the course.

Pennsylvania State of Normal School Indiana, Pa.

A School of Ambition and Success.

Life at Indiana is healthful and happy. The air is clear and crisp; the home life is exceptional in comfort and cheer; the days are filled with interesting work and brightened by the company of congenial teachers and fellow-students. $200 covers all expenses for one year—excepting books—for those preparing to teach.
Others pay $250.

In connection with the Normal School are—The Indiana School of Business, John E. Smith, Principal, and The Indiana Conservatory of Music, Rexford D. Colburn, Director,—two of the best equipped schools of their kind in this country.

42nd Year Opens September 12th, 1916. For the new catalog—a beautifully illustrated book of 128 pages—address the Principal DR. JAMES E. AMENT, Indiana, Pa.
