

LOCALS

Mr. Lydia Bodtort, of near Millheim, is spending the summer at the A. P. Kraps home.

Here we are in August—and soon it will be September with the opening of school and the Grange Encampment and Fair.

Prof. L. O. Packer and family, on Sunday, visited Col. John A. Woodward, at Howard. They also went on to Beech Creek to visit friends.

Mrs. William A. Magee and son Huyett, of Wenonah, New Jersey, arrived at the Huyett home Wednesday afternoon for a short vacation.

Rev. D. J. Mitterling, of Madison, South Dakota, arrived at the home of his brother, J. W. Mitterling, Wednesday afternoon, after an extended visit in the eastern states.

Mrs. C. W. Pennington and two daughters spent a few days the latter part of the week at the home of the former's father-in-law, Frank Pennington, near State College.

Wilbur S. Lucas, tenant on the Isaac Smith farm north of Blue Ball, now owns a Ford car, purchased just the day before the drop of $80.00 in the price of the popular gas wagon.

Mrs. Rebecca Murray had electric lights installed in her home last week, her son, Paul E. Murray, an electrician with the Chicago street railway, doing the work with the assistance of C. W. Booser.

Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Jones and daughter Gladys abandoned the idea of making their vacation trip in their car and on Tuesday afternoon left for Lancaster on the steam road. The greater part of the vacation period will be spent in Berlin, Somerset county.

Present indications point to a larger and more enthusiastic Lutheran reunion, next Thursday, than any in the past. The committee, T. M. Gramley, chairman, will meet in Centre Hall on Saturday evening to perfect arrangements for the gathering.

William B. Kerr, of Omaha, Nebraska, spent the week-end with relatives and friends in this, his former home town. The few days spent here were the windup of a vacation, the greater part of which was spent in Washington D. C., and other eastern points.

Mrs. S. H. Glenn and two sons—Lynn and Joseph—of Altoona, spent a few days with the former's aunts, Misses Jennie and Mary Foreman, in this place. Mrs. Glenn, on the first of September, will move her family to State College where they will make their future home.

F. V. Goodhart, the furniture dealer, is very much extending his trade territory, and at the same time is handling a grade of furniture largely superior in quality to that handled before he became the proprietor of the business he conducts. And this is no reflection on the dealers who preceded him.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris A. Burkholder and four children, Mrs. Bruce Ripks and five children, and Miss Kath Burkholder, of Centre Hall, were an auto party who traveled to Phillipsburg on Sunday to spend the day with the Wilbur F. Burkholder family. J. C. McClenahan used his big Paige in making the trip and there was "no crowding."

Mr. and Mrs. William Braekamp, who a month ago autoed from Sioux City, Iowa, to the home of the latter's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Rearick, at Williamsburg, spent a short time Saturday at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs. They were accompanied by Walter and Misses Susan and Alice Rearick. Mrs. Braekamp, who was Miss Jodie Rearick, is expected back some time this week with her husband and parents.

A. J. Weaver, of Colyer, was a business caller at this office early Tuesday morning. Mr. Weaver just disposed of a nice crop of raspberries for which he received twelve cents a quart at State College. A thousand stalks yielded eight bushels and it is Mr. Weaver's intention to grow the fruit next year or a larger scale. The berries were as large as a copper cent and the demand for them was especially great by the families of the college faculty.

The State's plan to place 7000 sheep with farmers in Pennsylvania in order to increase sheep raising, has found favor and already the entire lot has been applied for. Fifty counties have asked for sheep, farmers to receive them in lots of ten. The plan is to give the farmers the sheep and allow them all the wool and half the lambs with the privilege to purchase at the end of any contract year. Business men and bankers are back of the scheme and will purchase the sheep.

The sale of the Kreamer store building to the local lodge of Odd Fellows will result in the shifting of headquarters by several similar organizations. Ultimately the Odd Fellows propose occupying the second floor of the Kreamer building as a home, which will necessitate the Knights of the Golden Eagles and the Queen Temple getting new quarters. The Eastern Star, now holding their meetings in Grange Arcadis, have made application, if street talk can be credited, for the rooms in the bank building when vacated by the Odd Fellows. The Eagles may soar higher to one of several quarters they have in view.

LOCALS

Friday night, the first Friday in August, is the regular time for the meeting of the boro council.

Miss Viola Baker, of Trevorton, is spending an indefinite time with her cousin, Miss Mary Whiteman.

There is talk of gasoline dropping in price, but it is not likely to fall rapidly enough to cause an explosion even should it reach the bottom figures of the long ago.

D. A. Booser and L. L. Smith have formed a combination to handle auto cars. James I. Fatteroff, formerly of the Booser-Fatteroff firm, is doing business alone.

Mrs. Wallace Weaver and three children—Carl, Willa and Harry—of Reading, after a month's visit with the former's father-in-law, A. J. Weaver, at Colyer, left for their home Tuesday morning.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rearick and daughter, Miss Elsie, of Milroy, autoed to the home of Frank W. Decker, east of town. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Bible, of Phoenixville, who will remain for a few days.

Mrs. Jacob Auman, of Potters Mills, suffered a paralytic stroke while alone in her home Monday morning, and was found in an unconscious condition by John Bitner, a neighbor. Her condition is somewhat improved, although her hip is paralyzed.

Miss Elizabeth Hormel and friend, Miss Mary Edgar, of Pittsburg, spent a few days with the former's cousin, Mrs. Thomas Delaney, at Old Fort, and on Tuesday enjoyed a trip to "Census Cave" in company with Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. John Delaney.

Liveryman L. L. Smith, on Sunday, took an auto party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dinges, Mrs. Dinges' sister, Miss Gertrude Musser, the latter of Spring Mills, and Bruce Arney, of Centre Hall, to Clearfield, returning by the way of Phillipsburg.

Dr. C. F. Smith, of Indianapolis, Indiana, was called east last week on account of the serious illness of Miss Elvina Smith, of near Lamar. Miss Smith, at this time, continues to be in a very precarious condition, and is suffering from a complication of diseases.

About a dozen men have been busy for the past weeks on the State road from Centre Hill to Old Fort, under the supervision of Joseph Carson. Last week the big engine from State College and a State grader were put in operation on the road and a great amount of worth-while work was done.

Landlord James W. Runkle, so rumor has it, made a standing offer to the Odd Fellows to purchase the meat market building hard by the hotel property. The offer puts the figure at $1500. The proposition is altogether a fair one, but, as is the case when real estate in Centre Hill is put on the market, others have asked to be permitted to place a bid before the sale is made.

Nedson Keller, of Linden Hall, made a brief call at this office on Tuesday while in this locality giving music lessons. "Ned" completed a college course at Susquehanna this year and next fall will enter the seminary at Lancaster. He was business manager of "The Susquehanna," a college paper, during his senior year at school, and under his management the paper proved a financial success.

Thursday of next week the reunion of the Penna Valley Lutheran charge will be held on Grange Park. Nearly all, if not all, the living former pastors of the charge will be present. The nearby Lutheran ministers have also been invited to attend, and some of them have expressed their intention of being here. The Loysville Orphan's Home band of some twenty pieces will again furnish the music for the occasion.

Miss Kathryn and Master Thomas Edison Bus, of Pittsburg, for six weeks are boarding at the D. C. Mitterling home. The pair are children of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bus, who were anxious to place their children where they could enjoy real country life, and consequently sought out Centre Hall as an ideal place. They were accompanied here by the parents, but they returned to the great industrial city by the next train.

The completing of the harvest and housing of the grain on the three farms on which the Delaney brothers—Thomas, John and Michael—are located, was celebrated on Tuesday evening by an ice cream party at the home of the former Mr. Delaney, at Old Fort. By "neighboring" the Delaney crops were all put away in first-class shape and they were excellent ones, too. Besides the three families all the hired help and Miss Elizabeth Hormel, of Pittsburg, a cousin of the Delaneys, and Miss Mary Edgar, of the same city, enjoyed the treat.
