A Record in Swinging a Grain Cradle.

Rev. D. F. Kurtz has in his possession a clipping narrating the remarkable record of one Michael Cromer, who in July 12, 1858, on a farm near Mercersburg, Franklin county, cut twelve and one-half acres of wheat with a heavy grain cradle, built especially for the champion. The cutting was witnessed by 200 people and the job was done in the time intervening between sun up and sun down. The performance seems almost incredible in view of the fact that a modern binder can cut very little more in a day's time, but the feat was performed as narrated, nevertheless, and was good for a column or more in the Farm Journal at the time.

Rev. Kurtz was personally acquainted with the giant who holds this record.

The anniversary celebration by these three couples is held annually on the seventeenth of September, at the homes of the three families in rotation. The Rev. Mr. Bright is an evangelist, and was chaplain of the house of representatives at the last session of the legislature. He and Mrs. Bright were married in Milton, Pa., in 1868. Mr. Gustafson has held a position with the Crane Publishing company for the past thirty years. His home is at 615 Topeka avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson were married at Eureka, Kan., in 1884. Mr. James is with the Santa Fe. Mr. and Mrs. James were married at Atchison, Kan., in 1894, and are now living at 810 East Tenth street. The three families met a few years ago at the Lutheran church, and upon learning that their anniversaries fell on the same day, they decided to celebrate together each year. The dinner table at the party was decorated with roses and carnations and the other rooms were adorned with flowers, which were the gift of friends. After the dinner the Rev. Mr. Bright conducted a short religious service."
