Cardui Wins Suit

After a trial in the United States District Court of Chicago, before Judge Carpenter and a federal jury, the jury found the American Medical Association guilty of libeling Cardui, the woman's tonic, which they had denounced as a "nostrum."

This is a vindication of the medicine and a proof that it has merit, which was recognized by a jury after a trial of three months, one of the longest civil cases on record.

Many doctors and chemists testified on both sides and the evidence totaled nearly four million words.

WORTH THAN THE SLIPPER

Punishment Meted Out to Indian Boys Certainly of the Most Strenuous Nature.

My grandmother had 12 children, and one uncle undertook to teach me the art of worship. He used to lead me to the sand banks of the Missouri river, where he would set fire to a pile of driftwood, and then, taking me by the hand, sing sacred songs to the fire and river. In the meantime he threw into them offerings of tobacco, red feathers, and sometimes oak twigs. I never knew the meaning of these offerings, but I always felt that some living thing actuated both the fire and the river. Another uncle came to visit us periodically, and every time he came my brother or I suffered at his hands. Sometimes he would rush to the spring, carrying me horizontally under his arm, and would plunge my head into the water until I almost suffocated. His common form of discipline was to let me hang by my hands on the cross-poles of the wigwam until my arms ached. My body writhed before I dropped. This uncle seemed to like best to command my older brother to the my hands and feet with a rope. Then he would order me to resist—an ordeal that would make me both cry. In the winter he would also sometimes roll us in snow naked. The punishment of Indian children is usually in the hands of some uncle rather than the parents. Our punishments were inflicted generally because we had disobeyed grandmother by failing to get wood at evening, had resisted fasting, had fought some Indian boys, or had cried without sufficient cause.—Southern Workman.

Playing the role of peacemaker may prove fatal to Miss Lillian Marshall, of New York City. She was found with a fractured skull near St. Luke's Hospital, South Bethlehem. Mrs. Helen Gardner Lewis, aged sixty-four years, wife of Colonel S. C. Lewis, who was on Governor Hastings's staff, committed suicide at her home in Franklin by shooting herself through the head. TREES TO LINE STATE HIGHWAYS

Forestry Department Completes Arrangements, For Planting Saplings.

Harrisburg—Representatives of the State Highway and Forestry Departments have completed arrangements for planting of thousands of trees along the State highways in Pennsylvania and the first will likely be set out next autumn. Fruit, nut and shade trees will be planted as has been done in other States.

The Department of Forestry will grow the trees in its nurseries and they will be transplanted into areas set aside for the purpose. As the Department has only shade trees and those which bear small fruit for birds available for transplanting at present, these varieties will be the first to be set out.

The species already transplanted for use along the roads are white, pitch and Scotch pines, sugar maple, Douglas fir, Norway spruce, black cherry, white elm, white ash, honey locust and European larch. About 23,000 trees have been transplanted in plots on State forestry reservations in Pike, Tioga, Clearfield, Franklin and Huntingdon counties, which number it is estimated, will care for 100 miles of highway if planted fifty feet apart. The growing of fruit and nut trees will be taken up immediately.

According to what has been learned from the Highway Department of Missouri, fruit and nut trees along its State highways are now bearing and but little fruit is stolen.

Officer's Widow Loses Appeal.

The State Compensation Board in an opinion just made public has upheld Referee Jacob Snyder, of Altoona, in refusing to award compensation to the widow and child of Charles R. Shippe, constable of the Borough of Juniata, shot and killed while endeavoring to serve a warrant. The referee held that the constable was not an employee within the meaning of the Act and the board holds that the Legislature in enacting the law had in mind the term "workman" in the popular sense of the word and the fact that an elective officer is paid by fees which are a charge against the county does not constitute him an employee.

"It is impossible that the term 'employee' could, as used in our law, include the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, a county, municipality or other government agency, when in the administration of the law, it calls upon an officer elected by the people and invested by law with power to perform those duties," says the opinion. "We can find nothing in the law to justify an award of compensation under the facts in this case."

Compensation Limited in Scope.

The State Workmen's Compensation Board has no authority to read into the Compensation Act "what may be urged as equitable provisions," declares Commissioner John A. Scott in an opinion rendered in refusing to graduate compensation in the case of Dominick Spadea, Johnstown against John Goll & Co., Johnstown. Spadea caught the thumb of his left hand in a cogwheel and the thumb had to be amputated. It is held that, although the injury is permanent, it is not of such character as to form complete disability.

"Disability in this case," says Mr. Scott, "if total, must be compensated as such while disability lasts." He remarks that in many jurisdictions the list of disabilities of a partial character resulting from permanent injuries is much more extended than in the Pennsylvania Act and that "decisions from other States are not helpful in this respect as they are founded on radically different enactments."

May Develop Irish Coal Mines.

The idea that Ireland will never become a mining country of any account is not the view of the Newry Urban Council, which at their last meeting considered the proposals made by the Irish Association of Gas Managers at Dublin, in view of the present condition of the Irish coal supply. If not relieved, the gas managers said, the smaller gas works must be shut down and the government should be urged to provide an adequate supply of coal at reasonable rates. The Newry Council approved this opinion and passed a special resolution to be presented to the British executive stating that the time was opportune for the development of the large and valuable coal measures which undoubtedly exist in Ireland.
