THE HIGH TARIFF FALLACY.

(By Dr. Alfred Betry, Chicago, Ill., well known to many Reporter readers.)

A protective tariff, other than for National revenue, is unconstitutional. A high tariff as generally administered, closes our ports, which practically kills foreign competition, thereby enabling the home manufacturer to exploit financially all consumers, for they are then his victims. It gives the few a monopoly of domestic trade, which is always detrimental to the consumer.

A high protective tariff does not better the condition of labor. Labor can, through threat and strikes, make a little extra pay from the employer, but the tariff does not help him in doing so.

A high tariff fosters business for the employer and robs his workmen through excessive prices on commodities. It also greatly lowers the value of the dollar.

A high tariff kills home competition, monopolizes commodities, makes possible the restriction of trade, and in times of disquiet, or approaching national elections, induces owners to close their mills and factories in order to force employees to vote for high tariff or be thrown out of work.

A high tariff creates caste—rich and poor. The former promises to make American laborers prosperous, but imports cheap laborers by the million to do their work.

A high tariff enables the manufacturer to sell surplus goods in foreign lands, underselling the foreigner, and paying the freight on the goods, and make profit on the sales. They do not sell such goods to the home consumer because it would expose their nefarious game of robbery of said consumer.

No tariff has ever raised wages or salaries (worth mentioning). It has made 2 per cent. of Americans owners of 65 per cent. of all American business. It has also created the greatest monopolist of money and trade on earth, and thereby victimized the helpless consumer and pauperized him.

Our robber trusts that are creating starvation and misery, are the direct results of high tariffs, and this in the greatest, fairest land on God's foot-stool.

Reader, how do you like the conditions?

Perform your duty as a good patriotic citizen by going to the polls next Tuesday and casting your ballot.

The very successful canvass Mr. Gardner is making causes his opponents alarm and is driving them to desperation. Vote for Mr. Gardner if you want the interests of the people in Centre county represented in Harrisburg.

Just four months after the usual date, the smaller school districts last week began to receive the annual state appropriation. And this lateness is due to the lack of funds, and yet Governor Brumbaugh said the state had lots of it.

There is something wrong about the Republican figures of registration in the State. They give the Democrats more registered voters than Wilson received votes in 1912. Can it be that Republican leaders already see the handwriting on the wall?

Judge Orvis offers the workmen of the State a perfect alternative to the election of Philander Knox, the corporation-bred politician. He has no entangling alliances. His ability is unquestioned. His record on the bench is beyond reproach, both from the standpoint of legal learning and of fair play to all classes. And on the Adamson law issue, he has squarely and emphatically taken the side of the men. He unreservedly endorses the President's course, gives his approval to the law itself, and states his deep conviction that the eight-hour day is both economically and morally right.

Blair county farmers have figured that it was exactly ninety days between the spring and autumn frosts.

Veteran Samuel Floray Passes Away.

Samuel Floray died at his home in Tusseyville, last Thursday, after a lingering illness of a complication of diseases. He was born April 19, 1842, reaching the age of seventy-four years, six months and seven days. He was a resident of Potter township practically all his life. He was converted some forty years ago and united with the Lutheran church, of which he was a consistent member until his death.

On February 28, 1862, he enlisted for three years to serve his country during the civil war, being a member of Company F, 56th Penna. Veteran Volunteers. He was wounded during the battle at Gettysburg, Virginia, August 28, 1862. He reenlisted February, 1864, and was honorably discharged March 18, 1864.

He was of an unassuming, kindly disposition. He was a good husband, a kind father and Christian citizen.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fannie Floray, of Tusseyville; one son, F. P. Floray, living on the homestead farm, near Tusseyville; three daughters—Mrs. Emma Detwiler, Centre Hall; Mrs. Ida M. Dubbs, Mexico, Pa.; and Mrs. Nora Diehl, Millinburg. One brother, John Floray, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Loneberger, also survive him, as well as eighteen grand children.

The funeral services were held on Monday, Revs. R. R. Jones and F. H. Foss officiating. His remains were laid to rest in the United Evangelical cemetery at Tusseyville, alongside a deceased daughter who preceded him to the homeland over eleven years ago.

Mrs. Sarah Stover

Mrs. Sara Stover, wife of Benjamin Stover, of Yesertown, died suddenly at her home last Wednesday morning, 1:40 o'clock. She was aged seventy-two years, five months and fourteen days. Heart trouble was the cause of death, following a lingering illness of two years. She was not confined to bed and the end came unexpectedly.

The maiden name of the deceased was Sara Bird and was born in Clinton county. After her marriage to Mr. Stover she lived at Centre Hill and also for a time at Farmers Mills. They engaged in farming and Mrs. Stover was accustomed to giving a hand in haymaking and harvest. About five years ago they moved to Yesertown.

She is survived by her husband and the following four sons and daughter: Harry A. Stover of Yesertown; Irvin Stover, of Philadelphia; James F. and Mervin C. Stover, both of Pittsburg, and Mrs. E. M. Burris, of Yesertown. Mrs. George Packer of Beech Creek, Clinton county, and Mrs. William Glenn of near DuBois, are sisters of the deceased. Joseph and James Bird are brothers of Mrs. Stover.

The deceased was a member of the Reformed church at Farmers Mills. Funeral services were held Friday evening at her late residence in Yesertown, Rev. E. T. Rhodes officiating. Further services were held Saturday, 10:30 a. m., in the Reformed church in Centre Hall by Revs. Rhodes and Jones, and burial made in the Centre Hall cemetery.

Bell Telephone Service Widens from Boalsburg.

For the construction of multi-party lines from Boalsburg to Pine Grove Mills, from Boalsburg to Galbraith Gap, and also for the building of toll lines and circuits to serve Bell Telephone subscribers within the Boalsburg exchange area, the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has appropriated more than $7600.00.

In speaking of the work, Local Manager W. S. Mallalieu said that there would be placed 478 poles and 39 single miles of wire. The Boalsburg central office, which has been in operation but a short time, now has 40 stations being served from the switchboard and when the new construction work is completed, additional subscribers will be connected.

Owing to the continued prosperity of the section and to its past rapid growth, it is fully expected that the Boalsburg exchange area will widen and become a strong factor in the business and agricultural life of the section.

STATE AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

Preliminary estimates on the Pennsylvania apple crop by the State Department of Agriculture place the production at 6,610,500 barrels.

The peach crop of 1,124,200 bushels sold on an average of 89 cents a basket or a total estimated value of $1,008,076. Last year's crop which was almost twice as large had a value of only $1,839,600.

From present indications Pennsylvania will rank second for apple production in the United States. New York holds first place.

Pasture is below the average due to the drought in many parts of the State.

Potatoes rotted in the ground this season to a greater extent than in former years, and in some places were nearly a failure.

York county has its bumper corn crop and many fields will show over 100 bushels of shelled corn to an acre.

Cameron county reports a killing frost on September 17, while the first general frost throughout the State was two days later.
