Bowden-Lee.

The Phoenixville Republican, under date of October 23, contains the following wedding announcement, the bride and her parents being formerly of Penna Valley:

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, near Valley Park, in the old colonial residence of the late General Fisher, now the home of Mr. Hiram Lee, Miss Grace E., his only daughter, was married to Mr. Clair Y. Bowden, agent at the P. R. R. station at Oaks, Pa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. E. Fischer, D. D., the ring service being used. Only the immediate relatives of the families were present. The decorations were the brilliant foliage of Autumn, and the large parlor was transformed into a very bower of beauty. Miss Bowden, a sister of the groom, played the wedding march, as the young couple unattended, marched under a large arch where the rite was performed. After the wedding delicious refreshments were served. The bride was the recipient of quite a number of beautiful and useful presents. The young couple left on the Pennsylvania R. R. at 10:13 p. m. for Niagara Falls and points in Canada. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy life. They will make their home at Oaks, Pa.

Chickens and Kerosene

How happy old Mother Dominique is with her fluffy little brood! Some people think chickens will thrive on 'most anything they pick up. But you know they'll never get nice and fat or be good layers unless they get the right kind of feed.

And it's the same with your lamp and oil stove. You'll never get the light you want or the heat you need till you use

ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL

There's all the difference in the world in oils. Start using this really refined kerosene and watch results. Its smooth, mellow rays make reading a delight. At last you have found the kerosene you've always wanted.

And it costs no more than ordinary kinds.

Phillipsburg Has $35,000 Loss.
The third fire in a year, Phillipsburg suffered its worst loss by the elements early Sunday morning when the Odd Fellows block, valued at $40,000, was totally destroyed. The building, furniture and fixtures were valued at $40,000, on which there was $14,000 insurance.

The hall on the second floor, in addition to being the headquarters of Magnolia Lodge of Odd Fellows, was the meeting place of various other fraternal organizations, whose losses and insurance are as follows:
Improved Order of Red Men, $800, $800; Junior Mechanics, $600, $400; Knights of Malta, $700, no insurance; Independent Order of Risholem, $800, no insurance; Encampment of Patriarchs Militant, $500, no insurance; Knights of Pythias, $600, $300.

Among the other losses are the Lyric Theater, $6500, with $1000 insurance; Phillipsburg Meat and Supply, $3700, insurance $1500; J. E. Horn & Co., coal operators, $2000, no insurance; Scott Bros., coal operators, $1000, insurance $400.

The destruction of Odd Fellows Building is the seventh block on the west side of Front street wiped out by fire, and leaves the town without a theater or moving-picture show. The two other theaters had previously been burned. It is believed that all the fires were of incendiary origin.

A Clearfield county constable reported that he had killed twenty-one dogs under the act of assembly vesting constables with the authority to kill dogs on which no tax is paid. He collected twenty-one dollars from the county for this service. Later it was discovered that he had killed but one dog and was forced to return twenty dollars to the county treasury.

In this issue the reader can see how often Congressman Rowland voted, and just how often he didn't vote on measures before the 64th congress. His record is taken from the Congressional Record and is correct.
